UNDER THE GILDED DOME

This has been a rather quiet week on Beacon Hill, the Democrats making but little disturbance in the way of roll calls.

The bill repealing the preferential method of voting at municipal elections in Newton has passed both branches and is now in the hands of the Governor. The bill will be submitted to a popular vote at the city election next December, and if accepted by the people will return the conduct of city election to the party primary system in vogue prior to 1916 in this city.

The bill for city control over Crystal Lake has passed the House after two weeks' delay in the committee on bills in third reading and will soon become law.

One of the incidents of the week was the passage by the House of resolutions urging Congress to pass legislation for adjusted compensation. It was opposed by prominent Republicans on the ground that with President Coolidge opposed to bonus legislation, Massachusetts, of all states, ought not to pass resolutions to embarrass him. Representative Early voted for the resolutions, which were passed by a vote of two to one, while Representative Saltonstall and the writer voted with the minority. So far as the writer is concerned, it was more a matter of principle than of merit of the resolutions. It is not the place of a state legislature to attempt to influence Congress on matters of national import, and the writer has consistently voted against all such legislation during the five years he has served on Beacon Hill.

Next annual session has been reported on a bill in which many Newton residents were interested, viz.—to establish a reserve fund for helping out during periods of unemployment. The underlying idea in this bill was excellent, but it was found almost impossible to work out the details. The state has but two important ways in which it can employ any considerable labor—in the construction of state roads and in the erection of new buildings. Roads can only be constructed when frost is out of the ground, and in addition the Department of Public Works always has sufficient funds from automobile receipts to expend whenever it pleases, thus eliminating the necessity of a reserve fund for this class of labor. In the erection of new buildings, only the building trades would be assisted by special legislation of this character, and with building costs so high, the small appropriation carried by the bill would be a mere drop in the bucket. Incidentally the present statutes require the preparation of plans and estimate of costs of future building construction. Under these circumstances, combined with the fact that influential members of Ways and Means Committee would oppose any method of financing such proposed construction, there was little left for the committee on Labor and Industry to do but to refer it to the next session.

VILLAGE PLAYERS

The Village Players again scored a success in "The Private Secretary" which was given in the Unitarian Parish House, Newton Centre, three evenings last week.

In this play the plot turns upon the mistaken identity of the Private Secretary who is unable to explain who he is until the last scene. The resulting complications are most amusing. Mr. George F. Squire acted the part of the bewildered secretary with his innumerable "goods and chattels" admirably, even to his facial expression and gestures.

The part of Mr. Cattermole, the erratic and irascible old uncle, was also very well acted by Mr. E. S. Whidden. The scenes between him and his (supposed) nephew were some of the best in the play.

The play abounds in unexpected situations of an amazing nature, and reaches a climax in the last act where the poor secretary thinks himself in a private lunatic asylum, where the password is, "If you are discovered, you are lost."

Mrs. H. B. Wilder made a capital landlady and Mr. A. L. Lewis did a fine bit of acting as the Bond street tailor who wished to be a gentleman. Miss Laura L. Williams added much to the merriment by her strange cantations.

Others who contributed to the play were Mr. Carlton W. Baxter, Mr. Norman B. Powers, Mr. John V. Spalding, Mr. Fred D. Bond, Mr. H. Bancroft Wilder, Jr., Miss Eleanor Mason and Miss Ernestine Wilder.

The coach was Miss Lena Budd Powers and the stage manager, Mr. Charles H. Center, while Miss Priscilla Ordway and Mrs. W. T. Bryant had charge of the properties.

A bill which gave the school committees and superintendents of schools considerably more authority than now exists, was laughed to death yesterday afternoon, as one after another member presented amendments to exempt his own city or town from the provisions of the bill. All of the amendments were accepted and the bill then killed by a large majority, amid the laughter of the whole House.

Jury service for women was discussed yesterday afternoon in the House, the adverse report of the Judiciary committee having several dissenters among the members of the House, including Representative Saltonstall. Quite a debate ensued, considering the fact that the committee was sustained by a vote of 18 to 147. A resolve relative to financial assistance to the Governor John A. Andrew Home in Newtonville was killed in the House on report of the Ways and Means Committee. The writer started out to fight the report, but found that it was based on the prohibition in the state constitution known as the anti-aid amendment.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR NEWTON HOSPITAL

Plans Under Consideration for a Modern Plant. Committee Appointed to Plan for the Immediate Construction.

The Newton Hospital has come to the point where, if it is to serve the people of Newton in the future as it has served them in the past, it must build new buildings, or units, to accommodate patients who desire private rooms, to accommodate its nurses and to provide itself with a modern effective power plant.

At this week's meeting of the trustees, the president, by vote of the trustees, appointed a committee consisting of the president, Mr. C. E. Kelsey, and Messrs. Leon B. Rogers, J. H. Sellman, and W. J. Spaulding and Dr. I. J. Fisher with power to employ architects and engineers to prepare comprehensive plans for new hospital buildings and detailed construction plans and to obtain estimates of costs of such buildings as the committee should consider essential for immediate construction.

The appointment of the committee followed the report of a special committee made up of Mr. Leon B. Rogers and Mr. Stanley M. Bolster, appointed last July, empowered to engage experts to make a survey looking towards a development of the hospital. This committee engaged the firm of Denmore, LeClear & Robbins, architects and engineers, and on the findings of a several months' survey the committee reported to the trustees at this week's meeting.

Based on the findings of the experts, the committee reported that it recommended that no further building should be undertaken except as part of a thought out scheme of comprehensive future development. The main unit of the development should be a large modern building, to be erected between the present power house and Denison Ward and back of Thayer and Leeson Wards. The administration portion of the building would face the present administration building, and have wings containing new wards running towards Beacon street, overlooking new ground recently bought by the hospital.

It may be that financial requirements will be such that this large new building can not be built at once, but to meet the immediate requirement, it is imperative that there be built as the first of the units of the future hospital plant, a building to supply more private rooms, a building to furnish additional accommodations for the nursing staff, and a new power plant. These three buildings can all be planned and constructed so as to be parts of the complete hospital. The first of the new buildings named could be built so as to be temporarily connected with present buildings, and the hospital could have the use of the new unit and its present building at the same time. The new nurses' home, not to take the place of the present one but to supplement it, would be built near Beacon street on newly acquired land, and would be the beginning of a nurses' centre or colony. Its erection would relieve, also, the congested condition for the accommodation of employees. The new power plant will be built back of Founders, so as to be out of sight, and yet located so as to give efficient service.

The new land which the hospital has secured, and on part of which it is planned to build the new nurses' home, is the old Sears' property, which lies between the hospital and Beacon street. The vacant part of this land the hospital bought last summer, and it has just bought a piece about eighty-four by a hundred and fifty three feet on which the Sears' homestead stood.

Something of the conditions that make the building for more private rooms a pressing necessity may be gained from the state of affairs at the hospital during the month of March, a month when the demands upon the hospital were not extraordinary nor unusual. There are in the general hospital fifty-three private rooms. If all the rooms had been occupied every day during March, it would have gone on the hospital records as 1643 hospital days of occupancy. As it was the record stood at 1604 hospital days, or 39 days vacant. During the month rooms had to be refused to seventeen doctors, thirteen patients asked to be moved to better rooms than those at first available for them, twenty-one patients were cared for in wards until rooms could be secured for them, and patients had to be cared for in Porter rotunda, in the office on the second floor of Founders, in the waiting rooms on the third floor of Founders, and in the guest room in the administration building.

Too few people in Newton realize what the Newton Hospital has grown to be and the service that it is giving to the people of Newton who call upon it. Last year only thirty-seven per cent of the patients whom it served paid as much or more as it cost to serve them. The hospital is dependent on contributions and endowments. Without them it could not continue. It ought to have more of them, for every dollar given to the hospital is used for the benefit of the people of Newton, and the service it gives is that of a hospital of the first class, for Newton ranks well among the hospitals of the country.

At the Easter season, when many give to deserving institutions as a practical evidence of their belief in the teachings and life of Him whose resurrection is celebrated, the generous ones should remember His admonitions in regard to caring for the sick and the poor, remember in their giving the hospital that does so much for the sick and the poor of Newton. During the days of the great war, when the call was, "Give till it hurts," a Red Cross worker talked with a man whose giving in proportion to his income were more than generous. "This man the Red Cross worker said, 'You truly are one of the ones who give until it hurts.' The answer was, 'Do you know, it did hurt at the beginning, but now it doesn't hurt at all, I really enjoy it.'"

The treasurer of the hospital is Mr. Stanley M. Bolster, his address is 10 State street, Boston, and all contributions, small or great, sent to him for the hospital, and the work it is doing, and must continue to do, will be received and acknowledged, gratefully.

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The third annual "Fathers' Night" of the Newton Cen. School Association, was held on April 1st in the Mason School Hall.

The Rev. H. McIyar Lichliter, of the Central Church, Newtonville, was the chief speaker and delighted a large audience with his talk on "The Pillars of the Home."

Mrs. Howard Winslow, president of the Association, opened the meeting with a short sketch of the work accomplished during the past year.

Mr. Samuel B. Paul, principal of the Mason school introduced first, Mr. Geo. M. Angier, chairman of the School Committee, who explained very clearly, the need of the city for more adequate High School and Junior High School accommodations and gave briefly the proposed building program, and answered questions from the floor.

Mr. Lichliter then said that three years ago, he began to read many books and magazine articles on the unrest in the modern American family, and had come to feel that the real difficulty is a spiritual one. That we lead the world in divorce is significant of this restlessness. He spoke of the great change that has come to the life of women in three generations; of the economic factors that have come with this change, one out of every five women being engaged in work outside the home; of the growth of apartment houses with the changes they have brought into family life; and of the many new and varied forms of amusement. All these are factors in causing this spiritual unrest. To overcome this, our homes must be firmly upheld by three pillars, the first of which is a new definition of marriage—a voluntary partnership of equal minds. Marriage is not a union of a superior and an inferior. For over 500 years, religion has indorsed this view of the man as a superior. The present attitude is that there is no essential difference in the minds of the sexes. He brought out the value of a joint bank account and of living by a budget. Families with this system show the most savings and investments and in this respect stand equal to a business

FINE CONCERT

One of the most enjoyable features of the season at the Newton Club was the recent concert on Sunday afternoon of last week. There was a large attendance, and the committee in charge was warmly commended for its good work.

The program consisted of trios and solos by the Fiedler Trio composed of Arthur Fiedler, violin, Jacobus Langendoen, 'cellist and Alfred Holy, harpist, all leading members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and contralto solos by Mme. Alice Baschi who has sung for a number of years leading roles on the operatic stages of Europe and the United States.

In their ensemble groups the artists played almost as one unit, bringing out the various melodies with each instrument in turn so that the effect was very pleasing as was shown by the applause.

In their solo work they played with a feeling and interpretation which only a general artist can impart to others and to the delight of the audience who were generous with their encores.

Mme. Alice Baschi who has recently come to Boston has a beautiful, rich contralto voice, full of color and warmth and with the ability of an operatic star she interpretes every emotion.

There are very few more versatile musicians than Arthur Fiedler, Jacobus Langendoen makes the smooth tone of his 'cello sing like the human voice, and Alfred Holy's playing of the harp is always a rare treat. Boston we feel sure will hear in the future from Mme. Alice Baschi.

All who were present felt that it will be a pleasure to hear any or all of these artists again.

CONCERT PLANNED

The Women's Auxiliary to the American Legion will give a concert in Players' Hall, West Newton, on May 15th. Mr. Aug. Dulfert, the well known violinist, will be assisted by Marguerite Morgan at the piano and the program will also include Dorothy Berry Carpenter, reader, and Theresa Sprague, soprano.

A man may spend all he earns, right up to the limit, if he wants to.

Some men have been doing that since the world began. Every man has the same right. Always they have suffered.

When the ice crashes through with them who pulls them out? Sometimes a relative, sometimes the "loan shark"—and sometimes the poor house.

Placing something in this bank each month is a wise thing to do. Over 6000 are doing it. Why not you?

work on the study of Holland. Their Dutch table, they hope, to finish soon. They greatly enjoyed and appreciated a Dutch costume, worn by Betty Bieren. This costume was kindly lent by Alice Burton of the fourth grade. They also enjoyed the Dutch pictures and wooden shoes brought in by other members of the class.

This month's weight record shows no member of the third grade in the Red Group.

Vocational High

"Come Out of the Kitchen," the amusing comedy dramatized from the story by Alice Duer Miller, was presented to a large and enthusiastic audience last Friday, by the two upper classes at Vocational.

Mrs. Bonis, who has coached most of the class plays, was congratulated on the thorough preparation which this year's production showed. Members of the cast presented her with flowers and a gold fountain pen and pencil in appreciation of her work with them.

Technical High

The Newton Technical High is well represented in the drama, "In the Shadow of the Cross," presented during Lent at West Newton by the West Newton Catholic Club Players. Marjorie Cunningham and Theresa McCarthy of the alumni play leading roles as Roman maidens, while Fusi, a senior, is a Roman citizen. Walsh, a junior, is an archer, and Powers, a junior, is a guard.

Mt. Ida School

West Newton Music School

Pupils from the West Newton Music School will give several numbers at the Interschool Concert to be held at the Neighborhood House in Cambridge next Sunday afternoon, April 6th.

Country Day School

The following Newton lads received honorable mention for the term ending March 27th:—

Class 1—David L. Garrison, West

Newton; James M. Hallowell, Jr.; Chestnut Hill; Morris M. Hutchins; Newton; E. Lovett Garceau, Newton; Joseph B. Hartwell, Newton; William C. Harris, Chestnut Hill; Charles T. Collins, Newton Centre; James H. Wright, Newton; Herbert S. Smith, Newton Centre.

Class 2—Philip Nichols, Jr., Newton; Lovett Morse, Newton; Frank H. Soule, Newton.

Class 4—John B. Garrison, West Newton; John Cowin; Francis W. Kent, Newton.

Class 5—James C. Green, Newton; John S. Wilbur, Chestnut Hill; Raymond L. George, Newton; D. Crosby Greene, Newton Centre; Thomas N. Rogers, Chestnut Hill.

Class 6—Oliver Garceau, Newton; Albert Pratt, West Newton; Hamilton Young, Newton; Valerio R. Montanari, John B. Rackliffe, Newton; Daniel A. Strohmeier, Newton.

Class 7—John F. Madden, Newton; R. Gleason, Newton.

Barnard School

Pupils who have perfect attendance and good behavior are allowed part time work. One boy has been transferred to the Vocational School and several others are working for the opportunity. One of the boys of the advanced class recently directed the group singing. In the future this is to be a regular feature of the morning assemblies on Fridays.

N. H. S.

Newton authorities have finally given the High School's relay team permission to take part in the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival at Philadelphia April 25 and 26. The matter was recently referred by the Athletic Council to the headmasters of the Vocational, Technical and Classical High Schools. They after considering the records made by the team in preliminary races this year decided that Newton should be represented for the first time in its history at the Penn games.

Ryall, Captain Mercer, Philip Cronin and McQuiston have anticipated the decision. They have maintained light training ever since the close of the indoor season. The beginning of the out-of-door training period is only a week away. From that time forward track meets will be in full swing again. Newton students are convinced that they are represented by the strongest high school track team in the State. They point out that the combination has been defeated only once by Medford, and has in turn handed its rival two defeats. Medford, on its own part, can count with arguments based on time and conditions, but Newton is unconvinced. The Penn games will settle that controversy, a fitting climax to a successful scholastic track season hereabouts.

Mason School

The boys and girls of Rooms 3 and 4 are reading the "Stories of the Golden Age." They find that the Romans of old cared for their bodies and kept their health rules, as pupils are trying to do today.

In connection with the study of South America in grade six, Room 11 is picturing tropical scenes and birds. The screen has some beautiful views of the city of Rio Janeiro. A little later the sand table will show how rubber is obtained.

Room 5, grade III, is a veritable Holland, with its bulbs in blossom on each child's desk, with its border of crocuses on the blackboard, with its portrayal of a little Dutch village on the sand table.

An enjoyable hour was spent Monday by the English Club of grade 8 with a program consisting of a word game, a spring poem, two stories, and a charade.

At the same hour, the Music Club held its session in the Mason Hall. Two piano selections by Ethel de Mille and Martha Wight showed much skill and careful preparation. After a theme on Paderewski, several of his selections were given on the Victrola. These were followed by some records of the band music of India, made for missionary, Mr. Rockwood, and brought in by Bernard, his son, who gave a violin selection as his contribution to the program.

In the Science Club, the members were asked to hand in their answers to the question, "What would you like to be taught to make?"

Hyde School

The boys of the Hyde School are showing a great deal of enthusiasm over baseball this year. A very large number are attending every practice.

The number of children taking milk increases steadily. This week, two hundred and sixty-five children are served milk every day.

Mr. Kiley, an officer of the Newton Police Department, on Friday of last week and Monday of this week, spoke to the different grades on traffic safety. The children showed a great deal of interest in his talk and illustrations.

A lantern lesson on coffee, sugar, and cocoa, was given by members of Miss Abbott's sixth grade, to both sixth grade classes.

The pupils in the sixth grades are very much interested in the writing and illustrating of their books on Rubber.

After the mid-year measuring, Miss Perkin's second grade showed on their health chart no reds, only three blues, and all the rest whites.

Since the beginning of the school year in September, up to the present time, Miss Sampson's fourth grade has not had a single tardy mark.

Miss Ryder's fifth grade invited Miss Green's fifth grade to a lantern lesson on the coal industry.

Same steels, same workmanship as in the costliest Studebaker models.

Two great features

There are many features in this Light-Six found in no rival car. But we want to mention two in particular.

The motor is perfectly balanced. That means long life and freedom from vibration.

The reason is this: We machine all surfaces of our crankshafts and connecting rods by 61 operations. Just as was done in Liberty Airplane Motors. This is done in no other car at our prices.

Then we use more Timken bearings in this car than are used in any competitive car within $1,500 of our price. And Timken bearings take up wear as no other bearings do.

Why this price?

This Light-Six Touring Car is priced at $1,045. Built under ordinary conditions such a car would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

But we build 150,000 cars per year. We make our own parts. We build our own bodies in $10,000,000 body plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. Our major costs are divided by enormous output.

The result is a value no other maker even tries to match in a fine car of this size. Come see what it means to you.

Send for the Book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book which will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance—

It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free. Clip the coupon now.

How It Excels

Steels are identical with the steels in the costliest car we make. More Timken bearings than in any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Genuine leather cushions, 10 inches deep. Curled hair filling. All-steel body.

One-piece windshield—rainproof. Attractive cowl lights.

Quick-action cowl ventilator.

Non-skid cord tires.

Transmission and ignition locks.

Perfect motor balance.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

The truth is out! No one was concealing it. It happened merely to have been overlooked. Incidentally all promise of an absorbing mystery is off. The fact is there is an excellent reason why the Read Fund lectures have not been held. But they are to be held and residents of Newton Corner are not to be deprived of this annual pleasure. We have felt that the trustees of the Read Fund were acting wisely, but as long as we didn't know just what their action was, we were of necessity, greatly puzzled. Instead of holding the 1924 series in January and February they are to be held next Fall. It is planned to begin in October and complete the course before Thanksgiving. It seems that the trustees are authorized to spend annually a specified amount for a course of lectures. The practice has been that the lecture dates be set for the first and second months of the year. Now it appears that the trustees have not been satisfied with the heating of the clubhouse hall where the lectures have been given. Complaint has been made that the temperature was too low. Another cause for the trustees' decision is the fact that the most severe weather of the winter comes in January and February, according to popular calculations. Believing that everything possible should be done to encourage attendance and to accommodate those entitled to the privileges of the lectures the trustees merely postponed the course until the coming Fall. We have their assurance that due announcement of dates will be made in the columns of the GRAPHIC and furthermore that the course will be a most interesting one. What more could be asked?

Insomuch as the Boston Elevated insists that pre-payment cars are the most efficient type for both the company and the traveling public and the State authorities agree with the management of the road in this particular, then the public, it seems to us, should accept conditions and meet them as best they can. According to our point of view the public could have itself much discomfort by exercising a little forethought. We refer to the loading of a car in Nonantum Square. Newton people are not the only ones who board the car at this point. Travelers from Waltham, from Wellesley, Natick and Framingham find the Newton-Brighton-subway line a convenience and often there are nearly 40 people waiting to board a single car to ride to Boston. What we cannot understand is why the road does not attempt some way to overcome the delay caused by people who insist upon having the conductor change quarters, halves and even greenbacks. We honestly believe some people would ask the conductor to cash a bank check if they thought it was possible. To repeat, if the road is satisfied with this stupid arrangement (and apparently it feels that it is the happiest method of getting the coin and getting it all ready to do the passengers have their times ready? Some people will wait in the square for a car without as much as stirring from the sidewalk when plenty of time is offered them to drop into a store and change whatever larger coin or bill they have into nickels and dimes. But they find it easier to stand in an overcrowded vestibule and be shoved and jostled while the conductor coves every passing subway car and every passing passenger as if sipping up a bunch of crooks. We do not ask these people to plan the contents of their purses in advance merely for the sake of the Boston Elevated. The road doesn't worry about the passengers and the passengers are not obliged to worry about the road. It is a matter of personal convenience which, it seems to us, could be brought to a pleasing solution by a little thinking on the part of some apparently indifferent folks.

We seldom talk shop. We believe that our friends outside the field of journalism are more interested in what a newspaper prints than how the material was prepared or who wrote it. Those details would seem to us no more interesting than if an umbrella manufacturer saw fit to inform us as to what sewed the silk or better still, the gingham on the frame, or a storekeeper the names of those who picked the box of oatmeal cranberries he offers for sale. Having read of late, however, charges of certain loose-tongued persons that they had been "misquoted by the reporters" and their statements "deliberately garbled by the press" we hasten to take our argument thus: suppose you heard a lecturer on an interesting subject and later at home sought to tell the other members of the family what you heard? Would there be any desire on your part to "misquote" the lecturer. Would you have any reason for repeating that which was not true so far as his utterances were concerned. Possibly you might if the lecturer's views were contrary to your own on some debatable matter. But ordinarily, in giving an account of what you heard solely for the enlightenment of someone else would you indulge in flights of imagination? We do not believe you would. Think then of a man or woman who has to listen to people talk day after day and prepare as accurately and rapidly as possible a transcript of the speaker's remarks. If it were a day's work to be performed as diligently, as skillfully, as interestingly as possible why should a reporter want to spoil his efforts by misquoting or "deliberately misrepresenting" a speaker. If you knew the pride a reporter feels in turning out a good account of a meeting and having it as accurate as possible you wouldn't hesitate to believe as we do. A reporter who "fakes" or who doesn't print a straightforward story isn't employed for any length of time on a reputable newspaper. A writer for the press with a reputation for fairness and accuracy increases his earning capacity, which, after all, seems to be the aim of everybody who amounts to anything. The whole trouble is that a lot of public speakers talk too much. They "do their stuff" before an audience, and because there is laughter or applause they are encouraged to say this or that which

DEATH OF ALEXANDER MILLS

Mr. Alexander Mills, husband of the late Margaret (Foley) Mills, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Patrick J. Grinley of Brighton, on March 27th at the advanced age of 92 years. Mr. Mills was a native of County Cork, Ireland, and came to this country when a young man and was a resident of Newton for 50 years. He was employed by the late C. B. Lancaster of this city for 36 years as gardener. He was a most remarkable man for his years, being very active and in the best of health to within a few days of his death. Besides his daughter, he is survived by one son, George L. Mills, of 137 Nonantum street, also four grandchildren, a brother, Mr. James Mills, of Waban, Mass., and several nieces and nephews. The funeral was held on Saturday morning with a requiem high mass at St. Columbkille's Church, Brighton, and the burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

NEWTON POST A. L.

Through the courtesy of Newton Lodge of Elks, Newton Post, 48, American Legion, will hold "open night" at the Elks' Home on next Sunday night at the opening of the big State-wide membership "raid."

A loud speaker will be in operation and the radio speeches and concerts from American Legion headquarters will be received. Refreshments will be served. All Legion members and members of the Auxiliary, with their friends will attend the radio meeting.

With a potential membership of 2800, Newton Post is going to make a big effort to enroll every service man and woman in the city in its ranks.

Commander Thomas A. Franey is in general charge of the Newton "raid" being assisted by a large committee.

MAY FESTIVAL

The annual May Festival of the Church School of the West Newton Unitarian Church will be held in the Parish House on Thursday, May 1st, beginning at 2.30 P. M. It promises to be better than usual and the committees in charge are working to make the festival as attractive as can be to children. An additional feature will be the presence of Mr. Thornton W. Burgess, the man who writes the "Bedtime Stories" which appear daily in many papers. Mr. Burgess is coming with a new set of pictures and with many new stories about the small wild folk that everyone will like to hear. Of course there will be the May-pole dance and there will also be a special table for the sale of May-baskets already filled with candy ready for hanging. There will be refreshments and other things quite worth investigation.

Every Woman

In New England should read the Dorothy Dix story in the Boston Daily Globe. Dorothy Dix appears in the Globe every week. Are you reading the 24-Page Boston Sunday Globe Pictorial and Fiction Magazine?

From our own revised edition of "Familiar Quotations": You may shake, you may air them as long as you will, But the scent of the mothballs will cling to them still.

We have heard it said that the oil lands investigation at Washington isn't getting anywhere. We'll say it's getting on the nerves of the public.

Very properly, last week's GRAPHIC says that "Newton High earned the interscholastic hockey championship of the United States and Canada. It seems to us that a championship that has been 'earned' is the kind of a championship worth having.

MR. IDE BURIED

In the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston, last Friday afternoon services were held at the funeral of Henry Jordan Ide.

There was a very large attendance, for in addition to his many friends identified with the insurance fraternity, present many who were associated with him in his work connected with the diocese.

Bishop William Lawrence assisted by Bishop Coadjutor Charles Lewis Slattery, conducted the ceremony. Many floral tributes attested the regard in which Mr. Ide was held.

"Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace," two favorite hymns of Mr. Ide, were sung, and "Fight the Good Fight" and "For All the Saints" were respectively the processional and recessional.

The honorary pallbearers were Arthur K. Pope, William H. Rogers, and Ralph G. Hinkley, close friends, representing the insurance fraternity. Mr. Hinkley being Mr. Ide's business associate; Louis H. Fitch, Charles B. Moore, John Quincy Adams, Joseph G. Minot and Charles Mason, his co-workers in diocesan duties.

The ushers were Joseph G. Minot, Paul Hubbard, Arthur K. Gardner, Henry C. Everett, Col. H. B. Perkins, John Paulding Meade and Arthur K. Hunt.

Seated in one of the pews were six young men to whom Mr. Ide was accustomed to refer as "his boys." They were Ralph G. Hinkley, associate general agent with Mr. Ide; Russell E. Stevens of the Royal Exchange, Harold and interestingly as possible why William Lewis, now president of the New England Insurance Exchange; Russell Harrington and Clarence J. Stalliday, both of the H. J. Ide General Insurance Agency.

The interment was in Claremont, N. H.

DEATH OF MR. NATHAN

Mr. A. Barnett Nathan died on Tuesday at his home, 336 Ward street, Newton Centre.

He was in his eighty-second year and was born in London, England, coming to this country as a boy. For a period of six years he was a resident of and in business in Fitchburg, but his home had been in Newton Centre for the last twenty years. At one time he belonged to several organizations, but with advancing years he had relinquished membership.

He is survived by his wife, who was Aurelia Markins of Paris, France; and three sons, Frank N. Nathan of Newton Centre, Sylvester M. Nathan of Fitchburg, and Romeo Nathan of Brookline. Services will be held at his late residence this afternoon at 2 P. M. Rev. Edward M. Noyes of the First Church officiating. Burial is in Brookline.

DEATH OF MR. BRADLEY

Mr. Lewis S. Bradley, a Civil War veteran, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, at 123 Park street, Newton, last Friday in his 84th year.

Mr. Bradley was born in Orange, Connecticut, and was of an old New England family. Part of his life was spent in New York City and in New Haven, Conn.

He had lived in Newton ten years and was a member of Elliot Church. He was a well known figure on the streets of Newton, being active almost up to the time of his death.

Surviving him besides the daughter with whom he lived, are a son, Mortimer Hamilton Bradley of New York City, and two grandchildren, Barbara and Daniel M. Goodridge, Jr.

Services were held in Derby, Conn., on Tuesday and the burial was in Orange, Conn.

CITY HALL

The firm of Haven & Hoyt, Boston, of which Mr. Ernest W. Dearing of Newton Centre is an associate, have received appointments by Mayor Childs as architects for the contemplated new construction on the Newton High Schools. Mr. William C. Richardson, Architect, of Newton, is to be retained in the capacity of advisor.

Newton Highlands

Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee of Terrace avenue has received injury from a fall. Mr. G. A. Salmon of 999 Walnut street was operated on at The Homeopathic Hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. A. J. Fairbanks, organist of the Congregational Church, played at The Brunswick for radio broadcasting Sunday evening.

The Men's Club of this village held their annual meeting Tuesday evening in the Congregational Church vestry. Neal O'Hara spoke on "Flash of Wit." There was a large attendance.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Another lecture on Christian Science by one of its authorized exponents, is announced for Monday evening, April 14th, in Players' Hall, West Newton. The object of these lectures, is the correction of misapprehensions, and the clearing up of any confusion of thought regarding Christian Science. As a Science it is capable of definite provable statement, and the lecture by Charles I. Ohrenstein of Syracuse, N. Y., will make this plain, the subject being: Christian Science: The way to the True Kingdom.

Bigelow School

The Bigelow Baseball Team played its first game of the season with the Mason School Team at Burr Playground on Tuesday. Score, Bigelow 4, Mason 0.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

"We go back to the Dawning. When our Guild was a forming, etc." Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, the editor for Chapter II, "Progress," reviewed the next era, referring to many problems which were settled through the club's Question Box. She stated that the entire program of one of those years cost but $35, while she herself furnished 16 afternoons for $60.

The double quartet sang several selections between the second and third chapters.

Chapter III, "The Follies of the Third Decade" was ushered in by a procession of ten, dressed in tall fool's caps and the garb of sandwich men, the placard in front of each bearing the numerals of one of the ten years. Then each in turn recited in true chronicle form the doings of its particular year, the last one paying special notice of Mrs. Gardner, the president, who is of that decade. Then, right-about-face and the row spelled G-A-R-D-I-N-E-R on their backs.

Chapter IV, "The Sayings and Doings of Our Little Ones," was presented by a class in youthful attire taught by a mistress of earlier days in the person of Mrs. A. H. Decatur. The club's Christmas Party for poor children came in for much attention, and no opportunity for a local hit was allowed to slip. An original Club House Song was then sung to the tune, "There's a Tavern in the Town," and during the singing the club house in visible form was trundled into the room on a tea wagon, amidst the laughter and cheers, and a host of green balloons were let loose, and the affair broke up in the general gaiety.

Five of the past presidents, Mrs. Margaret C. Worcester, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. W. S. Higgins, Mrs. Henry V. Jones were present, wearing cap and gown. The Social committee, under Mrs. Ralph Conant acted as waitresses. Mrs. Royal B. Farnum was in charge of the decorations. Besides Mrs. Boyden and Mrs. Palmer, who edited the first and second chapters, Mrs. Harry Cabot and Mrs. Gorcham Harris edited the third and fourth chapters. The history set forth in the chronicles of the third decade was written by Mrs. C. A. Richardson and Mrs. C. W. Davidson. The president, Mrs. E. L. Gardner, had general oversight of the whole celebration.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. held one of its "Special Days" on Monday of this week at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Clark of Erie avenue. A delicious informal luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. Edward G. Swift, after which there were short talks by the members, in which they revealed some of their favorite hobbies. Lady Gregory's play, "The Rising of the Moon" was read by Mrs. Robert E. Clark, Mrs. Emery W. Clark, and Miss Mabelle Hurd. Miss Adelaide R. Webster read two poems by Robert Frost, "Whose Woods These Are," and "Our Singing Strength."

The last regular meeting of the Auburndale Club for this year was held Tuesday morning, April 1st, at the home of Mrs. G. E. Martin, 86 Hancock street. "English Rule in Egypt" was the general topic considered, and Mrs. J. F. Rider, reading first Miss Williams' paper on "Chinese Gordon at Khartoum," told of the brave defense of the fortress, which made Gordon the great and beloved hero of the age. Mrs. George P. Knapp, who has lived much in the Near East, was able by personal reminiscences of experiences of her own, and of customs there, to make clear the invaluable service of Cromer and Kitchener in their struggles against Turkey. Mrs. Van Pattensteiger followed with a description of Cairo, full of variety as no other spot, the land of fairy tale and romance, and concluded with a personal letter from the club's secretary, Miss Marion Knowlton, who visited there last year.

The monthly business meeting of the Newton Social Science Club was held on Thursday morning, instead of Wednesday, on account of the storm. The topic, "Men and Movements of Our Early History," was selected for next year's study. Mrs. A. E. Holt reported upon the Scholarship and Mrs. Robert G. Howard the Legislative meeting of the State and the Newton Federations. Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins presented an interesting paper on "Vocational Guidance," in which she told of its need and gave illustrations of where it is in actual use.

At the annual meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton on Wednesday afternoon these officers were elected for the coming year—President, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden; Vice-presidents, Mrs. L. F. Bachrach, Mrs. W. B. Baker, Mrs. G. E. Rice, Mrs. J. D. Roquemore, Mrs. W. A. Richardson, Mrs. E. S. Webster; Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. S. Ladd; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Roy R. Merchant; Treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Prude; Clerk, Mrs. S. B. Thomas; Auditor, Mrs. W. F. Chase; Directors, Mrs. L. F. Bachrach, Mrs. W. B. Baker, Mrs. V. F. Chase, Mrs. H. E. Cushman, Mrs. H. L. WEST NEWTON NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE

The monthly meeting of the board of Directors occurred on Tuesday morning of this week. A Fair and Festival will be held in June.

The reports show an attendance of 1005 for the month of March. This includes attendance at clubs, classes, and social affairs.

Mr. Louis Martiny of the School for Social Service of Boston University, is the leader of the two new boys' clubs formed during March: The "Live Wires" club, for boys from 8 to 10 years of age, has 14 members; the other club has 17 members, but has not as yet chosen a name.

The Girls' Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Aborn of Auburndale, will give a short play in May, at the Neighborhood House.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

There will be a Musicales and Tea at the Club house on Sunday afternoon with Josie Maria Sanroma, the celebrated pianist and Rulon Robinson, tenor as the attraction. A most attractive program has been arranged and a large attendance is assured. The bowling team won four points on Wednesday evening from Cochato, in the Newton League tournament.

ALFRED E. MAYELL

Mr. Alfred E. Mayell passed away
Wednesday afternoon, March 19, at his home on Bridge street after a short illness. He was 77 years of age and a resident of this town for the past forty-six years.

Mr. Mayell was born at Bradford-on-Avon, England, and came to America when a young man. Shortly after his arrival he entered the employ of the Aetna Mills, where he held the position of master mechanic for forty-two years. He was very active in the affairs of the North Congregational Church and for many years was a member of and greatly interested in the Handel and Haydn Society. He was one of the oldest members of Poquessett Lodge.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Stone and Mrs.
Lily F. Lamb of Watertown and two sons, Louis J. Mayell of Watertown and Dr. Ernest A. Mayell of Acton.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

Commenting upon a warning given club women by a recent Federation speaker not to "blindly endorse measures or principles of which we know little," Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs in her April letter, says: "It was a wise warning, but there is another side to it. To blindly and ignorantly sponsor something is most dangerous, but never to be willing to stand on one's feet and be counted because we have not heard all there is to be said on a subject is cowardly. For you see there will always be something left to be said, the story is never ended. And we should be able to make our decision after a reasonable amount of study given to almost any question. An open and flexible mind is what we need, for it is only the foolish person who never changes her opinion or acknowledges that she has made a mistake."

Mrs. Poole urges all registered women to vote at the coming Primary. "When you and I are 100 percent interested in our government, the government will be nearer the excellent mark."

The Marion Chase Baker Fellowship has passed the $900 mark, or nearly one-half the goal. Contributions during the present month should easily bring up in the desired amount, for this is the month when many of the clubs make their appropriations, not knowing until regular bills are met how much will be available for other demands.

Presidents' Conference

Wednesday, April 9, at 10.30 A. M. Spring Presidents' Conference at Newton Centre, by invitation of the Woman's Club at the Club House. The president and the President-elect are invited to attend. The morning session will be given to the "Work of the Departments." In the afternoon there will be a question box, and addresses by Mrs. Frank B. Goode on "Days Out of Doors," and by Royal Bailey Farnum, Massachusetts State Art Supervisor. Luncheon tickets may be obtained from Miss Marianne Hills, 1495 Centre street, Newton Highlands, on or before April 7th.

Industrial and Social Conditions Luncheon

Thursday, April 10, 1 P. M., Luncheon-conference of the Industrial and Social Conditions department at Hotel Westminster, Boston. Miss Mary Driscoll will tell of new work for some of our young people in Massachusetts. Mrs. Jessie D. Hodder, Miss Ethel Johnson, Stockton Raymond will be among the speakers. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Charles F. Bates, 86 Linden street, Allston.

Professional Women's Club

Tuesday, April 8, 2.30 P. M. Regular business meeting. At four o'clock, guests may be invited for the musical program, which will be given by Mrs. H. Carleton Slack, soprano, Rosa Weidhorn Duckston, violin, Alice Allen, accompanist.

Women's Civics Club

Mrs. Celia Wellman, probation officer for Newton, will speak of her work at the meeting on Wednesday, April 9, at 2.30 at Hotel Brunswick, Boston. Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller will be the guest of honor. Current events will be presented by members.

Local Happenings

Monday, April 7, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Hiram Allen Miller of Erie avenue. Mrs. E. G. Hapgood will lead in the study of "Loyalities" and "Windows," by John Galsworthy.

Guest Day will be observed by the Newton Mothers' Club next Monday afternoon at the Second Church, West Newton. Miss Amy Sacker will give an illustrated talk upon, "A Summer in France."

The pupils of the West Newton Music School will entertain the members and friends of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday, April 7, in Emerson School hall. The proceeds of the evening will be the club's annual donation to the school.

The Presidents' Day Musicale of the Waban Woman's Club will be given on Monday, April 7th. Mrs. Herbert R. Stearns, chairman of the Music committee, has arranged a delightful program with the following artists: Mr. Henry Levine, pianist, Mr. Carl Webster, vocalist, Mrs. Joseph Moody, soprano soloist, Mrs. Joseph Moody, soprano soloist, Mrs. Joseph Moody, soprano soloist, Mrs. Joseph Moody, soprano soloist.

and will introduce the guest of honor, Mrs. William H. White, director of the 12th district. Mrs. Albert T. Gould, chairman of the hospitality committee, is in charge of the ushers. Refreshments will be served by the social committee, of which Mrs. Robert J. M. Fife is the chairman. Plans are now being made for the annual club luncheon, to be held Monday, April 21st, at 12.45 o'clock in the Union Church vestry. Mrs. James Hewins will be hostess and Mrs. Garfield Charlton, 1845 Beacon street, will have charge of the tickets which will be on sale at the Musicale, April 7th.

April 8 is an important date for all members of the Auburndale Woman's Club to remember, as it is the day of the State Department Conference on Community Service, and will be in charge of our own district chairman, Mrs. W. H. White of Wellesley. The speaker of the afternoon is Prof. Robert Rogers of Technology, a most popular lecturer, whose subject will be "The Adventure of Women in Citizenship." Music will be furnished by the club chorus, and tea will be served. Notice especially the business meeting is called at 2.15.

"Stories of Massachusetts Forests in Motion Pictures" is the subject of the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday, April 9, in Hanley Hall. Mr. Elwood L. Terry will be the speaker. Guests may be invited.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole speaks upon Current Events before the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, April 10, at 10.30 A. M.

Mr. Charles Crawford Gorst, the bird-man, will furnish the program for the meeting of the Newton Community Club on Thursday, April 10. He has given years of study of bird lore and of bird songs, and is one of the most successful of bird imitators.

The date of the hike of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on the aqueduct to Wellesley has been changed to April 10. The Barn Studio will be open on April 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13, for the annual exhibit by local artists and craftsmen—the hours for week days are 2 to 5 and for Sunday, 3 to 6 P. M. Members of the Art committee will act as hostesses on these days. On April 11 Miss Marion B. Morse, second vice-president, will open her home for a lecture and tea in aid of the Community Building Fund. The lecture will be given by Mrs. Louis H. Marshall on "Modern Poetry." Tickets may be secured from members of the Executive Board. The President, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, has sent out cards for the regular monthly meeting of the officers to be held at her home, 1666 Walnut street, on Tuesday, April 8. The ballots showing the list of new officers prepared by the nominating committee, Mrs. William J. Bicknell, chairman, will be mailed to the five hundred members of the club early next week. Tickets for the annual club luncheon scheduled for April 22 may be secured up to and including April 15.

The Home Economics Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its third and last luncheon of the season on Thursday, April 10th, at one o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Guy C. Holbrook, 424 Walnut St., Newtonville. A demonstration of Dromedary Products will follow the luncheon. Mrs. D. Earl Brackett is chairman of the day.

On Saturday, April 12, at 2.30 P. M. the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will hold its annual Guest Day at the home of the president, Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, 84 Erie avenue. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will speak upon "The Songs of Shakespeare," and Miss Mary Newhall will sing.

"The Girl Scout Movement and Why I Believe in It" is the subject announced for the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, April 11th, at 2.30 P. M. Miss Ruth H. Stevens, director of the Massachusetts Council of Girl Scouts will be the speaker. A demonstration of scout work will be given by the West Newton Troop, and Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Captain, will speak briefly of some features of the work. There will also be folk dancing, and music by members of the Bugle and Drum Corps, with bugle solos by Miss Elizabeth Plimpton of Newton Centre. Mrs. Frederick A. Cole is in charge of the program.

Local Happenings

"Pictures of Real Art Value for the Average Home" was the subject of a pleasing and instructive talk by Mrs. M. Gertrude Cutter of West Roxbury at the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday last, in charge of the Art Committee, Mrs. Olin D. Dickerman, chairman. Mrs. Cutter stressed the importance of cultivating a taste for good pictures, and said that it is not necessary to be familiar with the history of art in order to enjoy them. The keynote of her talk was that pictures of real art tistic merit are within the reach of all as reproductions of the most famous pictures can be had at very low prices. Mrs. Cutter showed a large collection of pictures, including photographs, photogravures, Copley and Seaman prints, block prints, dry points and etchings. The process of etching was explained with the aid of a plate, made and loaned by Mr. W. H. H. Bicknell, and some very beautiful etchings made by this artist, and also by Mr. Sears Gallagher, were shown. The method of making block prints was also explained, and some delightful specimens of this art by Miss Helen Hyde and Miss Margaret Patterson were displayed. Mrs. Cutter inspired her audience with a desire to know more about art, and to avail themselves of the fine opportunities offered by the Art Museum and the various art galleries of Boston for seeing fine pictures.

Mrs. Ethel Walcott Ross, soprano, gave much pleasure by her artistic rendering of a group of songs, and a pleasant social hour in the tearoom followed.

Fortieth Birthday Party

A bit of nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men—and women. The truth of this was vividly shown at the fortieth birthday party of the Newtonville Woman's Club held at the Central Congregational church on Tuesday. The spirit of April Fool's day was caught by those in charge and ran through the whole affair, although the serious side was also evident. Some three hundred members gathered in the church vestry where they were corralled by decades each being decorated with some sort of distinguishing headgear. The charter members and others of the first decade wore old-time costumes and hats, harking back to that period, some broad and very flat, others of tiny size set upon the pinnacle of one's head, even as a crown is worn. The second decade were attired in headaddresses of a deep blue, lined with white and bearing mysterious initials in white. The third decade members wore fez caps of pink, while those of the fourth, who were by far the largest group, wore green bows as hair ornaments.

When all was ready the company marched to the dining room below, where they found the room completely transformed by the skillful and artistic hands of the decorating committee. All along the wall grew painted flowers, from the chandeliers and the rods between the posts were festooned a fringe of colored papers. At the small table in the center of the room were seated the six charter members present, Miss Margaret C. Worcester, Mrs. R. C. Brigham, Mrs. Mary E. Soden, Miss Alice S. Barton, Mrs. J. H. Willey, Miss Susy A. Dickinson. From this table radiated long tables at which were seated by groups the women of the different decades. Hardly were they seated, when the president, Mrs. E. L. Gardiner, called for silence, the lights were turned off, and she said, "Behold, I see a group of women lighting a candle." Thereupon Miss Worcester arose, lighted the tall candle upon the birthday cake in the center of her table.

"Can it be that they are organizing a Woman's Club?" continued Mrs. Gardiner. "How far that yellow candle throws its beams! Would that there were other groups of women who would also be light-bearers!" Then from each of the other groups, one by one, came its leader, lighted her taper from the central table, and from it the candle on the cake upon her own table until all were lighted.

Shortly after April Fool, in the person of Miss Marion Bassett, rode into the room, bringing with her in innumerable supply of nonsense rhymes aimed at one member after another, which she dispensed all through the luncheon. At the close of the luncheon, before the formal program was entered upon, all paused a moment in memory of those members who have passed on, "Auld Lang Syne" being sung softly by a double quartet of club members. The History of the Club in four chapters, each covering a decade, was then presented. Miss Susy Dickinson daughter of the founder of the club and herself a charter member, has recently been made an honorary vice-president, and in recognition of the fact the president presented her with a small rocking chair tied with the club colors, which she is to occupy at all subsequent board meetings.

As editor of the first chapter, which was entitled, "The Dawning," Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden told some of the early events in the founding of the club, and mentioned some of those who have served the club in official capacity. She brought greetings from Mrs. H. H. Carter, a past president, who was unable to be present. She then called upon her group to speak a piece, which ran.

This is the second fire with a week in the Oak Hill District in which unoccupied buildings have been destroyed, and it is believed that both blazes were of incendiary origin.

LADIES' NIGHT

The Newton Rotary Club held its first ladies' night on Monday evening at the Newton Club house. About 60 were present, and the dinner was served in such a manner as to make everyone acquainted. There were five tables, and as soon as one course was finished the gentlemen at each table moved to the next table, returning at the last course to their original table.

Mr. Charles H. Moss, a Past president of the Malden Rotary Club, was the guest and speaker, and made an eloquent address of the "C's" of Rotary, Capacity, Character, Citizenship, Comradeship and Conscience.

There was dancing and community singing during the evening under the direction of Mr. Arthur LeBaron.

The regular luncheon of the Rotary Club was served that noon, and Mr. Fred Basley of the Basley Lumber Co., gave a talk on lumber.

F. A. Day Junior High School

That our friends appreciate the opportunity which we are sponsoring—the Symphony Orchestra Concert, April 10th, in the F. A. Day Junior High School, has been manifested by a great demand for tickets. Our assembly hall has proved to be very well adapted to musical and dramatic programs, not only because of its acoustic properties, but also because of its accessibility and attractiveness. To our present eighth-grade class goes the honor of first presenting the school with a memorial of the class—a beautifully colored representation of The Mayflower. The picture has recently been hung in the assembly hall, where its donors and their friends may see it.

Unusual inter-class sportsmanship was revealed in the Volleyball tournament held last Thursday in our gymnasium. Class II D proved champions of the first set against II B and III H respectively, whereas I F won from their opponents. The two winning teams expect to play for final records. The boys showed careful planning and team-work. Although the on-lookers must be content to remain standing, they were there in good numbers to enjoy the fun.

That many pupils appreciate the extra hour after school put at their disposal for extra help, has been evident by the genuine earnestness which many boys and girls have shown recently for doing extra work and checking up difficulties.

Our Moving Picture committee gave us a delightful surprise Tuesday, in "Going Up." The audience was a large and appreciative one. The school-boy orchestra did very good interpreting for the pictures. Next week, the last movie, perhaps, of the season for our school, will be a Jackie Coogan one—"Long Live the King."

Stearns School

Miss Gertrude E. Simpson and Miss Ruth C. Williams, from Lynn, visited the music classes on Tuesday morning, which were conducted by Mr. Griffin.

On April first, Miss Bragg, accompanied by Miss Goheen and Miss Belgium, Miss Amelia Hanraide, Miss Hilda Lesclauwaet, and Miss Shohan of the Public Health League of Boston, visited the different rooms to see what the children are learning about good health.

Miss Crawford of the Children's Museum in Cambridge, gave the fifth and sixth grades a very interesting talk on lumbering, last Friday. She used lantern slides, showing beautiful and instructive scenes in New England.

Horace Mann School

The Horace Mann School baseball team has been organized. The captain is C. Maguire. The pitcher is C. Maguire, and the catcher is J. Herlihy. The three basemen are L. Potter, R. Blair and J. Morrissey.

On April first, the team played in a game with the W. C. T. U. team, in which the Horace Mann team won by a score of 10 to 0. The game was played on the field of W. MacPherson, L. Quinn and W. Mullen. This team played and won a practice game with the Clafin School team on Tuesday afternoon.

Honors at Dartmouth

William North, Doane Arnold, Herbert Hansen, and "Peanut" Wilkins, Newton Classical '23, now freshmen at Dartmouth, placed Newton on the honor list at Dartmouth for the first semester.

By the work of these four Classical alumni, Newton was placed second on this roll, and Merceburg Academy third.

William North, third ranking student of '23 at Newton High last year, received the best marks of the four. The others, however, also did unusually well.

CITY HALL NOTES

At a special meeting of the aldermen on Monday night the following persons were drawn for jury service at East Cambridge:—Henry N. Lockwood, Waban avenue; Albert H. Mellen, Allerton road; James H. Conlon, 1101 Chestnut street; Richard C. Williams, California street; Richard C. Williams, California street; James C. Bond, Fisher avenue; Harry P. Bradford, Lake avenue; Nelson P. Trickey, Pilgrim road; James A. Grace, Jackson road; Bernard L. Gallagher, Lincoln Park; Alfred B. Rich, Ardmore road; J. Joseph Howard, Channing street; John P. Connors, Cherry street.

WHEATON COLLEGE CONCERT

The following artists will render a program of excellent merit at Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, Tuesday evening, April 8th next:—Emerson, soprano; Paul Shirley, viola; Alfred Holy, harp, and Reginald Boardman, pianist.

It is hoped that Newton music lovers and those interested in bringing to our city entertainment of educational value will avail themselves of the opportunity that this concert offers, remembering that they are also supporting a most worthy purpose.

The committee, which is composed of Mrs. Harry P. Forté, chairman, Mrs. E. O. Wetmore, and Mrs. Frank A. Shute, is assisted by the following patronesses, who are helping to make the concert a financial success:

Mrs. B. Walter Goodson, Mrs. George W. Barker, Mrs. A. S. Hutchinson, Mrs. Grosvenor DeW. Marcy, Mrs. John Glover, Mrs. James Kingman, Mrs. Edwin C. Johnson, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, and Mrs. Arthur S. Williams of Newton Highlands; Mrs. Edward P. Noyes and Mrs. Edward P. Noyes, of Newton Centre; Mrs. Manley U. Adams of West Newton and Mrs. Samuel L. Powers of Newton; Mrs. Arthur W. Lane and Mrs. Henry R. Turner of Auburndale; Mrs. A. C. Burnett, Mrs. H. F. Prouty, and Mrs. Walter J. Meadows of Waban; Mrs. A. M. Davis of Wellesley Hills; Mrs. Paul Shirley, Mrs. Wellington L. Hall, and Mrs. Norman H. White of Brookline.

Tickets at $1.50 and $1.00 may be secured from the committee, or from the patronesses, and also will be on sale at Lincoln Hall on the evening of the concert. Realizing that there are many young people who would enjoy the privilege of such a concert, the committee is offering tickets to young people of high school and college age, at 75c admission.

MR. BALDWIN DEAD

Mr. Arthur Colton Baldwin, for a number of years connected with the banking house of Kidder Peabody & Company, Boston, died suddenly at his home, 155 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, after an illness of only several days. Mr. Baldwin, who was fifty-five years of age, was a native of Newbury. He was the son of Rollin Mallory Baldwin and Maria Louise (Colton) Baldwin.

He prepared for college at Somerville, where the family lived while he was still young, and entering Harvard was graduated with the class of '90. Following his graduation, he entered the employ of the Boston Tow Boat Company, and later went with Kidder Peabody & Company, where he had been ever since.

Mr. Baldwin was a member of the Union Club and had lived in the Chestnut Hill section for twenty years. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Eva Veazie of Somerville; and a daughter, Miss Louise Baldwin. Funeral services were held Tuesday, and the interment was at Mt. Auburn.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Young Women's Christian Association is to hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, April 11th and 12th for the benefit of the Japanese Young Women's Christian Association which suffered greatly in the earthquake disaster.

The Young Women's Christian Association in America has set itself to raise $250,000. Newton is, of course, anxious to do its share in this great work, and there will, undoubtedly, be a ready response to the appeal of the local Association for contributions to this sale. The sale will be held at 392 Centre street on Friday and Saturday, April 11th and 12th, and the store will be open to receive articles on Wednesday, April 9th, between 10:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

The Committee for the sale is as follows: Mrs. Howard Morton, chairman; Miss Ethel M. Todd, Mrs. George G. Webster, Mrs. Henry Morse, Mrs. Nicholas Young, Mrs. William A. Somerby, Mrs. Emma King, and Mrs. Henry Urquhart.

LODGES

The installation of officers of Newton Lodge, B. P. O. E., will be April 10, in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, and Frederick H. Clark, E. R. Winthrop Lodge, will be the installing officer.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. John A. Gardner of 247 Park street, Newton, entertained the members of the Newton W. C. T. U. on Thursday. An interesting patriotic program was presented.

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

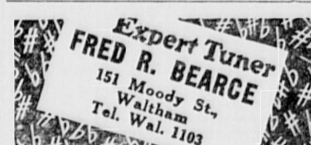

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

For the opportunities of the future the wise person builds a bank account.

partnership and avoid much unhappiness. The second pillar of the home is the proper discipline of the children. The discipline of the past was one of repression and of negatives. That has been replaced by a discipline that aims to direct the energies of the growing child. He recommended 3 books, "Sanderson of Ondie," Wells' "Life of a Great School Master," and "The New Psychology and the Parent," by Dr. H. Creighton Miller, as illustrating the modern ideals of child training. The Junior High School is a laboratory where the child learns to think for himself, and to approach the problems of life. He gave two very interesting charts, showing the changes in the characters and the dominating influences in the lives of boys and girls from childhood through adolescence, and emphasized the great importance of the father's influence during certain stages of the development. The third pillar of the home is unity—unity of the family as a whole, in play and in worship.

Dr. Lichliter's address left his hearers with the feeling that they had heard a master of his subject, and with a deep regret that he is so soon to leave Newton.

Moving Into A Home That You Have Planned And Built is an event that you will never forget.

It is a pleasure that you will look forward to from the moment you decide to build.

You will enjoy every minute of the time you spend in planning the details. You will watch each step of the construction with intense interest and as the house develops under your direction, you will realize for the first time in your life the full meaning of the word "home."

And when you are finally settled in it and enjoying the fruits of your planning and saving, you will count it as the best move you ever made.

Make your start toward this happy occasion by calling at our office NOW for plan ideas and figures on building.

You are the chief loser if you put it off.

NEW FIRE CHIEF

Mayor Childs has appointed Captain Clarence W. Randlett as chief of the Newton Fire Department to succeed the late Walter B. Randlett.

The new chief is the son of Chief Randlett and is 40 years of age. He joined the Fire Department as a man in the wire service in 1902. He became a hoseman in 1906, lieutenant in 1916, and was made captain of engine 3, in 1918.

Mayor Childs stated that the assistant chief, George K. Stacy, refuses to accept promotion, for personal reasons.

In connection with the appointment of Capt. Randlett, the following correspondence will be of interest.

March 24th, 1924.

My dear Chief Stacy:
You have been connected with the Newton Fire Department for many years and have given splendid service. For a long time you have been Assistant Chief and have demonstrated in many occasions your ability as a fire fighter. Now that Chief Randlett has passed on, I must choose a successor and it has always been my policy to promote an assistant if qualified.

I shall be glad to appoint you Chief of the Newton Fire Department and submit this appointment to the Board of Aldermen, provided I have your consent. If you will give this offer consideration and let me know your position in the matter, I shall greatly appreciate it.

With all good wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

EDWIN O. CHILDS,

Mayor.

March 26th, 1924.

Dear Sir,

Your letter of March 25th, offering me the position of Chief of the Fire Department of this City is duly received.

As your Honor knows I have re-

THREE MILLION BUDGET

The annual budget as submitted by the Finance Committee and passed by the aldermen on Monday night carries a total of $3,155,232.78 for general expenses and $173,207.86 for water expenses, a reduction from the figures as submitted by Mayor Childs of $238,074.01 for general expenses and about $9500 in water expense.

The largest cut is in the Street Department, where about $87,000 is saved to the tax payers, the next largest saving comes in the Buildings Department, where $67,000 is cut out, mostly in the maintenance account of city buildings, some $23,000 is omitted from the Playground estimates for new buildings on the various playgrounds.

The Finance Committee and the board did not favor the wholesale increase in salaries recommended by Mayor Childs. None of the higher salaried officials received an increase and the increases granted were in small sums, the largest being but $200. An interesting feature of this budget was the omission of the item for street sprinkling, the work to be done hereafter under the appropriation for street maintenance, which was increased some $50,000 for the purpose.

ceived two severe accidents within five months, and the last one has left me in a bad condition physically, and if there is not any improvement I shall ask for retirement in the near future.

Under these conditions Your Honor I could not in justice to the City accept this most important and responsible position and then ask for retirement.

Thanking you many times for the confidence you have and the honor you have tendered me, I remain,

Yours with the Best of Respect,

GEORGE K. STACEY,

Acting Chief of Department.

THE CIVIC CLUB

The annual dinner and meeting of the Civic Club of Newton was held last Friday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club. This club is most unique in that its membership is composed of men who have served the city of Newton as mayor, aldermen, common councilmen and school committee.

The president Hon. George H. Ellis, was toastmaster and seated with him at the head table were Hon. Robert Luce, member of congress from this district, ex-mayor Henry E. Bothfeld, Senator Abbott B. Rice, Representative Bernard Early and President Arthur W. Hollis of the board of aldermen.

Previous to the speaking, these officers were elected, President, Dr. Guy M. Winslow, executive committee, Henry I. Harriman, Herbert M. Cole, and George V. Phipps; secretary, treasurer, J. C. Brimbelcom.

Mr. Luce was the only speaker and gave a most interesting address on affairs at Washington. He sketched the corruption in public office from that which existed in England in the 18th century, thru the scandals centering around the new American government in the 1790s, the bribery during the Jackson's administration, the Credit Mobilier and Belknap affairs during Grant's term of office, and declared that the trouble now in Washington did not measure up to those of the past—a fact which he attributed to the higher moral standards of today.

Mr. Luce spoke in the highest terms of President Harding, but declared that in selecting Fall and Daugherty for his cabinet he allowed his friendship to warp his judgment. He criticized the methods employed in the investigations as not in accordance with judicial procedure, and deprecated the hearsay evidence given by loose women, bootleggers and train wreckers. (Continued on Page 4)

BOY SCOUTS

On Thursday evening, April third, Troop Eleven at Newton Corner held a reorganization meeting at the Biegelow School. Mr. Jerome M. Carley, chairman of the troop committee, introduced the new scoutmaster, Mr. Powers. Mr. John Woodbridge, Jr., took charge of the troop meeting. Headquarters takes this opportunity to extend best wishes to Mr. Powers and the troop and hopes that it will see a very successful future under Mr. Powers' leadership.

On Monday evening, April seventh, a Court of Honor was held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, headquarters of Troop Five. One Life and Star Scout Award was made to John Clark of Troop 11, Newton. Merit Badges were awarded as follows:—Bradford Bachrach of Troop 7, West Newton in Firemanship, Life-Saving, Swimming; Charles Benson of Troop 7 in Electricity, Signalling; John Clark of Troop 11 in Athletics, Camping, Pioneering, Scholarship; James Dewing of Troop 7 in Firemanship, Swimming; Harry Ford of Troop 7 in Firemanship; Valient Kenny of Troop 7 in Life-Saving, Swimming; John Leatherbee of Troop 7 in Firemanship, Swimming; Charles Parker of Troop 4 in Aviation; Troop 4 in Electricity; Edward Stearns of Troop 7 in Botany, Craftsmanship, Personal Health, Jack Wagnor of Troop 4 in Firemanship, Handicraft, Personal Health, and Swimming.

Scouts advancing to the First Class rank were:—Donald Wilson and Raymond Mabey of Troop 2, Auburndale; James Hymers and Maurice Whittinghill of Troop 5, Newton Centre; and Sidney Carter of Troop 7. Those passing the Second Class tests were:—Robert Kinraide of Troop 1, Newtonville; George Brown and Arthur Gates of Troop 2; Chandler Abbott, Henry Cate, Leslie Dutton, Richmond Eddy, Richard Kenny, Clifton Leatherbee, James Ufford, Donald Wright, all of Troop 7; Harold Jones and Robert King of Troop 2; and Stanley Cain, F. Barbario and Edgar Larkin of Troop 9, West Newton.

The next Court of Honor will be held at the headquarters of Troop 7 at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, on Friday evening, May 2nd at 7.30 P. M.

Another Court of Honor this month

THE ROTARY CLUB

In his address, "The Romance of Business," given before the Rotary Club on Monday, Mr. W. Russell Green, Advertising Manager of the Hires Rootbeer Company, of Philadelphia, Pa. said:

"The most important phase of human existence today is the economic; in other words, business. There are two ways of looking at your job. One is to regard it as a bread and butter proposition, simply a meal ticket. The other is to see the romance behind it, to get interested in it, enthusiastic about it—and thus achieve ultimate success.

"Look behind your job," the speaker said. "There is romance in every man's job if he will look for it. This cup of coffee, for instance," the speaker paused and turned his after-lunchoon cup in his hands. "Back of this cup of coffee are the people producing the coffee, growing it in Brazil, curing it, shipping it; the crews on board the vessels bringing it to this country. Vis-

VITALIZING SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Doctor Paul Hanus, Professor of Education Emeritus, at Harvard, one of our foremost American Educators, will speak Monday, April 14th, at 3 P. M., in the Technical High School Auditorium, on the subject, "Vitalizing School Programs."

During the thirty years that he has associated with Harvard University, Prof. Hanus was creating new standards of education. It was largely due to his vision and efforts that the Harvard Graduate School of Education was established.

This lecture is to be given for the Education Committees of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. There is to be no charge for admission. All who are interested are invited to attend.

The Federation is indebted to Prof. L. O. Cummings for this opportunity to hear Dr. Hanus.

GIRL GYMNASTS

One of the most interesting and attractive events of the school year is the annual gymnastic meet of the girls of the Newton High School.

This year's event was held last Friday afternoon in the drill shed and the accommodations for seats were most inadequate for the parents and friends of the participants who attended.

The senior class won first place with a total of 46 points, the sophomores were second with 37 points, and the juniors and freshmen were tied with 24 points each.

The seniors won first place in rope climbing, rope ladder, face vault, somersault between ropes, swing jump, parallel bars, and the relay race, and were tied with the sophomores in the horizontal ladder.

The sophomores won first place in hand travelling, buck vault, and were awarded 5 points in the floor drill, and posture.

The juniors won the floor drill, and saddle vault and the freshmen won first place in the window ladder, box vault and arch goal ball.

The meet commenced with an opening march by all the girls. The long line was headed by Josephine Buswell, a senior of the Technical School, who carried the flag.

After the marching and floorwork came the apparatus. This was divided into three parts (1) hand traveling, window ladder, rope climbing, horizontal ladder; (2) saddle vault, somersaults at ropes, rope ladders, face vault; (3) swing jump, buck vault, parallel bars, box vault.

During the dancing the judges, Miss Whiting, Department of Hygiene, Wellesley College; Miss Mason, Junior High School, Newtonville; Miss Larcom, Chamberlayne School, Boston, and Miss Sherman, Brookline Public Schools, decided upon the winners.

Mr. Bacon awarded the N's and numerals to the basketball teams. In his speech he demonstrated to the parents the urgent need of a new gymnasium. He presented the silver cup to Rosemary Park, who represented the winners of the meet.

Thought for the Day.

If some people can't run an organization, they will not be run by it.

ALDERMEN PASS BUDGET

The expectations that the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening, April 7th, 1924, would be lengthy were not realized when the meeting adjourned at 9.20 o'clock. The passage of the Budget with its usual discussion took just forty minutes, a record for speed. It was evident that the Board had confidence in its Finance Committee who submitted the Budget after much careful consideration.

No one appeared in favor or in opposition at hearings on the following petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations, orders granting same being subsequently adopted:—Webster street, Ward 3, 2 poles; Park street, Ward 7, 1 pole.

Hearings were also held on the following matters at which no one appeared:—Edward F. Spencer for permit for additional amount of Gasoline at 50 Rowe street, Ward 4, for private use; Hurley Brothers for Gasoline permit at 30 Hurley place, Ward 5, for private use; taking land for Newtonville Drain improvement from Adams street to Crafts street, Ward 2; relocating and widening of corner of Winchester and Needham streets, Ward 5.

The following communications were received from His Honor the Mayor: recommending appropriation of $93,002, payment of 1923 bills; recommending $942 additional for settlement of claim of the Brackett Estate for taking land, Centre place, Ward 1; submitting offer of $1900, from H. A. MacDonnell for city land on Austin street, Ward 2. The appointment of Captain Clarence W. Randlett as Chief of the Fire Department was laid on the table in accordance with the rules.

A Resolution was received from the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, requesting adoption by the Board of Health of regulation requiring the testing of cows and examination of milk, which was referred to the Committee on Claims and Rules. A complaint from Harold M. Weeks against Stanwood Miller, Special Police Officer, and requesting a public hearing was referred to the same committee. The following petitions were granted: Newton Boat Club, for permit for

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

At the Assembly period last Wednesday, the Public Speaking Club presented a carefully prepared play, "Everychild," depicting in allegory the temptations and decisions of the average pupil. Those taking part were Caroline Drew, Josephine Aceto, Barbara Rogers, Virginia Hayes, Priscilla White, Florence Hickey, Margaret Mahoney, and Mildred Dolan.

Mr. Carr addressed the school, announcing a contest for compositions about animals. The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club is offering ten prizes for the first ten stories accepted. This is an opportunity for encouraging the "Be Kind to Animals" spirit.

In his talk following the announcements, Mr. Carr reviewed a very timely and worthwhile treatise on "Character" by Doctor Massee urging us all to measure ourselves according to the following criteria: 1. Bodily health; 2. Habits of study and work; 3. Concentration; 4. Sports and games; 5. Honesty and integrity; 6. Table manners; 7. Clean mindedness; 8. Gentleness; 9. Unselfishness; 10. Loyalty; 11. Initiative and originality.

Pupils and members of the faculty all met in the gymnasium Friday afternoon to cheer for the basketball game played between the men teachers of the F. A. Day and a picked student team. The boys showed a plucky sportsmanship in a game which was won by the teachers. The affair is to be commended as genuine evidence of our school's co-operation.

MASON SCHOOL

One of the fifth grade pupils, Harriet Van Dusen, has just returned from a trip to California with her parents. She will tell her classmates about the many interesting places she visited. That is surely an ideal way to study Geography.

At the eighth grade class meeting on Monday, Charles Kirkpatrick gave a talk on the making of a piano; Robert Hayden read a paper on the advance of civilization from early times; and the president, Robert Tracy, told about his coming from England, during the World War. The most interesting numbers, however, were piano selections by Mrs. Rich, who is a skillful musician and teacher of piano and who was a graduate of the Mason. It is a great pleasure to have the past graduates show so much interest in our Mason School, as so many of them do at different times.

Humane Day will be observed on April 11, by selections and stories read in their rooms by the grades and possibly short discussions on kindness to animals, the feeding of birds during cold weather and kindred topics.

In spite of the prevalence of mumps and measles the past four weeks, the average attendance, in the Mason, was 92%; in the Oak Hill 90.7%; in the Rice, 88.1%; and in the Bowen, 86.3%.

HORACE MANN SCHOOL

The fifth grade wishes to buy some new reading books and to help them procure the money some Boy Scouts from Troop Seven gave an entertainment at our school on Wednesday afternoon. They demonstrated much of the valuable material they have learned in Boy Scout work. They told of the Scout laws and oath; explained the significance of the badges, a brief history of the flag, and what must be learned to make a boy a first class scout or a life and star scout.

Before the eyes of a delighted and admiring audience the scouts actually started a fire with no matches. They signalled a message with flags, applied bandages, tied various difficult knots with rope and explained their use.

All those present sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America." We appreciate greatly the kindness of our principal, Mr. Crowell who is Scout Master of Troop Seven, in securing these boys for Wednesday afternoon and are grateful to them for coming from West Newton to entertain us.

N. H. S.

Statistics show that Newton Classical High School graduates have been doing exceptional work in college. Out of 121 pupils who entered higher institutions last fall, only one pupil has been dropped. Facts from one college show that in a ten year period, Newton stands eighth in scholastic work among forty-five different private and public schools.

From 17 different colleges, reports covering the work of 60 Newton High graduates of last year during the first semester, have been carefully compared. These pupils received a total of 323 marks, each mark being the semester average for one subject. Of these marks 307 were of passing grade and but 15 of failing. 117 of the total of 323 marks were of B grade or more. The B grade is a quality mark in all colleges and an honor grade in many.

This year Newton stands second in scholastic work at Dartmouth among a large number of private and public secondary schools.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

The Junior Boys' and Girls' Club are busy preparing for A Night of Plays that they will have May 5th. The Boys' Club will present "A Night in an Inn" given under the direction of the club leader. The Girls' Club will also present on the same evening, "The Mouse Trap."

The clubs will also do some chorus work.

The Mothers' Club is again looking forward to Children's Night that will be April 14th. All those mothers who have children that can sing, dance, speak or play are invited to bring them.

The Blue Bird Club that has recently been organized at the Centre meets every Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The girls enjoy Folk Dances, games, dramatics, and are looking forward a little later to a picnic.

STEARNS SCHOOL

Miss Dorothy George of The New England Dairy and Food Council, told the story of "The Search for the Fountain of Health." The story was illustrated with colored stereopticon pictures. "The Search for the Fountain of Health" is the play which the Health Class are preparing to give at the close of the school year.

The "no school" bell in the morning followed by a session in the afternoon has brought many absent marks, but we are cheered by the comparison of results on the two recent trials. On the afternoon of April the seventh we had one hundred forty-five absences; on the afternoon of April the seventh we had only forty-five.

LASELL

Lasell Seminary and Woodland Park School opened Tuesday of this week for the final term of the school year. Wednesday morning at chapel exercises Mr. W. Rush Greene of Philadelphia, gave a very interesting talk on "Success."

Mrs. Sarah Lee Whorf of Winthrop, is to give an illustrated lecture on "The Land of Color" Friday afternoon, at 4.30.

Saturday evening, the Senior class will give a Sailor Party to the Junior class in the Gym at Bragdon Hall.

Dr. McVay H. Lichter of Newtonville, will be the speaker at Vespers on Sunday evening.

Thursday morning, Dr. Douglas Hemmeon of Wolfville, Nova Scotia, will speak to the school in the chapel. Dr. Hemmeon who is pastor of a large church in Wolfville and Mrs. Hemmeon have been spending the vacation with their daughter, Miss Ellen Hemmeon, a member of the faculties of the Woodland Park School and Lasell, and with Mrs. Statira Preble McDonald, head of the Woodland Park School, who is Mrs. Hemmeon's sister.

Williams School

The Third Grade children have been studying about Japan. They have decorated their room with Japanese lanterns, parasols, wind-bells, fans, and pictures, and have brought many Japanese dishes, sandals, and other curios. They have made a Japanese Village representing the vicinity of a tea-house with ladies, festively arrayed, strolling about, enjoying the wisteria arbor and the beautiful pink blossoms of the cherry-trees. Rustic curved bridges, Japanese, and temporary snow-capped Mount Fuji and the blue sky in the background, make it a realistic Japanese scene.

The Dutch Village and the Japanese Village, made by the Third Grade children, were recently exhibited at the Auburndale Woman's Club Meeting, when the work in Drawing of the Auburndale Schools was shown.

$200 to $400 Saved

On This Light-Six Touring Car

By our matchless facilities—our enormous production

HERE is a car priced at $1,045. Built by ordinary methods it would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

It is in scores of ways the leader of its class. No rival car compares in the value that it offers.

Let us tell you how we give that value, then urge you to see this car.

A sensation

Studebaker is today the world's largest builder of quality cars. Studebaker success is the sensation of Motordom.

Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year, 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

There are tremendous reasons for this rush to Studebaker cars. And every man who buys a car should know them.

72-year traditions

The Studebaker name has for 72 years stood for quality and class. To build an ordinary car under that name is unthinkable.

Our assets are $90,000,000—all at stake on serving you better than all others.

We have $50,000,000 in model plants, equipped with 12,500 up-to-date machines. We have 23,000 workers, under profit-sharing plans which lead them to stay and develop.

We spend on engineering $500,000 yearly. We employ 1,200 men to give 32,000 inspections to each Studebaker car in the making.

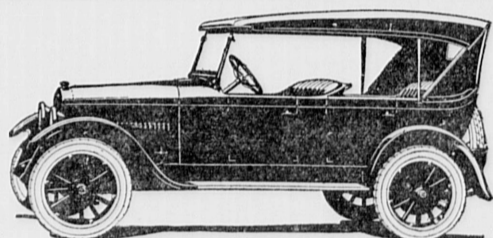

We are lavish

We are lavish in things that count.

We pay 15% bonus on some steels to get them exactly right. We use genuine leather in our cushions. We use curled hair.

We use more Timken bearings in this Light-Six than any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Our bodies are beautiful creations. The finish and coach work show the final touch. But we build them in $10,000,000 body plants of our own, and pay for these extras in savings.

Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car—$1,045

Same steels as we use in the costliest cars we build. More Timken bearings than in any competitive car within $1,500 of this price.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Curled hair filling. All-steel body.

One-piece, rain-proof windshield. Attractive cowl lights. Standard non-skid cord tires.

Transmission and ignition locks. Perfect motor balance. Curtains that open with the doors.

By far the greatest value in this class.

Mail coupon for book about it

We machine all surfaces of our crankshafts and connecting rods, as was done in the Liberty Airplane motors. No other maker of cars at our prices does this. The result is that perfect motor balance, lack of vibration and long life.

Where we save

We save by enormous production—150,000 cars per year. Our major costs are all divided by that enormous output. It is utterly impossible for smaller makers to compete.

We save by modern plants, mostly built in the past five years. We save by up-to-date machines. By building our own parts and bodies.

See what this car offers

Come see what this Light-Six offers. How it excels in scores of ways any rival car.

Built with the same steels, the same care and skill, as the costliest of our cars. We have only one grade of chassis.

See its beauty, its comfort, its luxury. See how we've studied your every desire.

Do that and you will choose this car, if you have in mind a price anywhere near this.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance—

It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free. Clip the coupon below.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

When the lawn is flecked with crocuses, When the boys' play three o'clock, When the overshoes are laid away, When appears the Easter hat; When the screens must need be put in shape, When house-cleaning has the call, When the sun is warm and winds are mild, With no sign of snow at all; When the green fields beckon me to come, When the coal-bin's almost bare, When I hate like sin to think of work— Then I know that Spring is here.

Bribe-givers and bribe-takers are very much in the news these days. Although, as we have observed in this column, we do not think they exist in such large numbers as some folks would have us believe, we know there are such. That being the case we venture to repeat a yarn that pulled a laugh out of us. It may be ancient and if so we ask to be forgiven for not keeping up-to-date in such matters.

A Professional Corruptionist approached an Office-Holder. Said the P. C. to the O. H., "You can fix this up and no one will be the wiser. Incidentally, it will be worth $1,000 to us."

The O. H. raged. "How dare you attempt to bribe me?" he thundered. "Get out of here and get out now!"

The P. C. did not move. Instead, he said, "Pardon me, I did not mean to say $1,000; I meant to say $5,000."

The Office-Holder said, "Nothing doing. I'm very busy with other matters. Good day!"

Again the P. C. apologized. "That last figure I named was also a mistake. I meant to say it would be worth $10,000 to us."

The Office-Holder, in mildest tones, pleaded with the would-be bribe-giver. "Please leave me alone now, you're getting too near my price."

If blessed with the ownership of an automobile, which we are not, it seems to us that we would be extremely interested in the situation described in a letter received by us from D. B.

This reader's communication to our tower of influence begins with verse, justifying his complaint as were. Both the verse and the letter are worth while reading and thinking over. Here they are:

"I don't want to be a kicker, I want to live in peace, But the wheel that does the squeaking

Is the one that gets the grease."

"I just received my insurance bill for public liability and property damage on my car. To live in Newton and own a car, this insurance costs you just $25 per year more because Newton is considered in the city of Boston, as far as insurance minds can decide. I previously lived in Melrose and the same insurance on the same car cost me but $47. In Newton I pay $72."

"This seems foolish, both towns or rather cities are about the same distance from Boston, and, if I am any judge, the risk of driving in Newton is less than in Melrose, but I suppose our Insurance Underwriters Union, or whatever title they have for it, think that the traffic in Newton will bear more than some other towns will without hollering. Perhaps by mentioning this in your column, the Chamber of Commerce or some civic body that is interested in saving residents of Newton get fair play may take this matter up. Here's hoping that something may come of your bringing up this matter."

Many fretted minds have been set at peace by the decision of the Supreme Court as to the meaning of the term "legal voters." According to the decision no one is a "legal" voter who is not registered. We understand it is going to make some difference in the laying-out of Senatorial and Representative districts since legal voters have, in the past, included those who were entitled to vote but failed to register. It is not that side of the matter with which we are concerned. We are wondering how many unregistered men and women will register in order to obtain the dignity of the title "legal voter" which they cannot now possess. We recall not long ago that we were drawn into a political argument. We say "drawn" because we got so much politics in our daily labors that we avoid the subject at other times. But an acquaintance, with a commanding presence, a loud voice and rough manner, nailed us one day and compelled us to listen to his views. There was no "yes, butting" on his part. He knew what he knew, or believed firmly that he did. Having a firm grip on the lapel of our coat he was able to broadcast into our ears many pearls of wisdom. One by one he named the candidates, pointed out their short-comings and their good points, selected the best, glorified them to office by overwhelming majorities. There was nothing more to be done. He had cast the votes, counted them and sworn his chosen candidates into office. When his work was finished and he was about to release us from further punishment we thought of a clever idea. Immediately we shot at him the query, "Why don't you go into politics you know so much about it?"

That didn't upset him at all. "Me!" he replied, "why I don't vote; I wouldn't register even, for fear I might be drawn for jury service." For our own part we will say that we have been tempted ourselves at times to have our name stricken from the list of registered voters but not to escape jury service or any other civic duty. Disgust with the choice of candidates offered has alone been the reason with us for such an unpatriotic thought. Of course we wouldn't do such a thing, but often there has come the temptation. But now to the man who thinks he escapes jury service by failing to register. That fellow is done. This year's Legislature has passed a bill which requires one to serve as a juror when his turn comes whether or not he is a registered voter. We are going to hunt up our husky friend, the "knowitall," and give him the benefit of our boyish mirth.

We have decided that beginning this week we shall call attention through this column to every instance of bicycle-riding on sidewalks that comes to our personal knowledge. We desire to record the fact that April 5, at 8:30 A. M., a young man rode a bicycle on the north sidewalk on Tremont street, between Waverley avenue and Marlboro streets. The street surface was dry and hard so he could offer no excuse. It is not our purpose to go about looking for such violations of city ordinances, but whenever we observe one with our own eyes we shall make mention of it. By "getting-after" these inconsiderate and daring cyclist the police can save us the readers of this column the pain of contemplating unpunished cases of law-breaking. We only wish that Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, had supervision of the operation of bicycles for then bicycle-riders would not even dare look at sidewalks.

Patriot's Day, April 19, and Easter, April 20. We shall strive to appear (1st) patriotic and (2nd) pretty for two consecutive days, although not certain we can stand the strain or even make good.

It will never be chronicled in the press that Newton has "gone broke" because of tax financial methods such as have existed in Cambridge. Fortunately we may rely on the City Treasurer, the Comptroller and the Board of Aldermen.

D. A. R.

The meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., was held on Tuesday, March 25 at the home of Miss Marion Dorr. The regent presided. Mrs. Langley read a letter announcing that the chapter had been awarded one of the prizes offered by Col. Walter Scott. These prizes were offered by Col. Scott to those chapters that were among the first to pay their proportion toward the Dormitory Fund of the International College at Springfield.

The chairman of the Student Loan Fund Committee reported on the investigations of the committee, and the chapter voted to establish such a fund.

A report was also given with regard to the bridge party to be held at Brae Burn Country Club, on April 25. All arrangements are completed and tables may be obtained from Mrs. Albin Brown or any member of the committee.

Mrs. Myron Cudworth then gave a complete report of the State D. A. R. meeting held at Worcester, on March 11.

Miss Annie Head, former regent, and now State Councilor, made a few brief remarks and made the interesting statement that there are nine direct descendants of Lydia Partridge Whiting who are members of the chapter.

The regent, Mrs. Sanford Thompson, then presented Miss Isabelle Gordon of Worcester, who is State Regent. Miss Gordon spoke briefly, giving the chapter words of encouragement and commendation.

Mrs. Robert MacIver, accompanied by Mrs. Merrie, sang two groups of songs that were enjoyed by those present.

The hostesses, Miss Dorr, Mrs. Shute, Mrs. Dodge and Mrs. Henderson, then served refreshments.

A new member, Mrs. Chester Tudbury, was added to the membership of the chapter by transfer from Whitman, Mass.

THE GREATEST THING

The greatest thing in the world is love, said the famous Henry Drummond. But the second greatest thing is personal influence. Boys and girls are influenced not by theories but by their companions. Older people in society are influenced by the fact of whether or not others approve of them. All of this is very personal and very human. If anything seems proven it is that the greatest power in the world is the power of personality. Perhaps there are more lives directed today by the personal influence of Jesus of Nazareth than by any other one power or fact yet known in human history. More poetry has been written about him in the last twenty years than ever before. Yet there are many today who do not live according to his teaching. There are many who are without guidance. At the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre on next Sunday, April 13, the minister, George Lawrence Parker, will speak on this theme, under the title, "Shall We Actualize the Word, Jesus?" At this service there will be admission of new members. About fifteen people will be inducted into the fellowship. The Stebbins Alliance will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, April 14, at 10:30 A. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Ruth W. Randall, on "The Day of Unity." Readings will be made from the Persian leader Babar.

ATBURNDALE PAGEANT

All who witnessed the pageants given in the auditorium of the Abundant Congregational Church on Christmas and Easter last will be pleased at the announcement that the Abundant Congregational Church School is preparing a third pageant to be presented in the church at 7:30 P. M. on Sunday, April 20. The pageant is Lyman R. Bayard's allegorical narrative, "The Questioner," that tells the story of Easter and of the Easter promise in a new and intensely vivid way. The Junior and Young People's Chorus, directed respectively by Mr. W. W. Cole and Miss Barbara H. Smith, will assist the members and friends of the Church School who assume the twenty-three parts of the pageant.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

In connection with the enrollment for the Citizens' Military Training Camp the coming summer, Dr. Cornelius P. Harkins of Newton Dr. Edwin A. Meserve of Newton Centre and Dr. O. L. Schofield of Lower Falls have volunteered their services free for the physical examination, inoculations and vaccinations of applicants for the Camp.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of Central Church held its last all day meeting of the season on Wednesday. Mrs. W. H. Allen directed the making of surgical dressings for the Newton Hospital. Mrs. J. D. Bennett and Mrs. E. W. Kellogg, superintended the sewing for the Hospital and Welfare Bureau and Mrs. Harold Sherman had charge of the children's work.

Mrs. W. G. Wilkins was luncheon chairman, and the young women of the Central Church served. The dining room was gay with the attractive decorations, which had been designed for the birthday party of the Woman's Club. The tables were charming, in tints of yellow and orchid.

Rev. John B. Finlayson, D. D., president of Fairmount College, Wichita, Kansas, was the speaker. He recalled the spirit of the early settlers of New England and the value they placed on education. Beginning with Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth colleges were founded, and as the country extended its boundaries westward, they were multiplied. At the close of the 19th century, forty-eight colleges had been founded by Congregationalists, at least one in every state. Fairmount was started in 1896 and has occupied a very strategic situation in a large section of the Southwest. The population of Kansas are descendants of the sturdy men and women who migrated from New England and New York with the object of making Kansas a free state. There is practically no foreign problem among these people, and when intelligence tests were applied to the soldiers in the World War, Kansas had the largest percentage in A class. However, owing to the meager opportunities, they have not attained a high average of education, and are employed at insignificant tasks. It costs but $24.00 to educate a student at Fairmount, and one half of the 893 students are self supporting. An endowment is greatly needed, sufficient to sustain this useful institution in the heart of the Northwest.

Two selections were rendered by a quartette composed of Mrs. D. P. Jewett, Mrs. Payson Allen, Mrs. Maybrite, and Mrs. Jones.

At the request of the president, Mrs. A. H. Deatur, Mr. Lichliter made some timely and helpful suggestions to the association.

Mr. Eddy continued his Lenten class, which is held Wednesday afternoons and makes a study of "The Business of Missions," by Cornelius Patton. This class is of great value to those who desire a better understanding of the movements of world progress, as viewed by men who are in a position to speak with authority.

KNIGHTS OF KING ARTHUR

The Knights of King Arthur presented their Annual play at the Abundant Club House last Saturday night.

The play, "The Proof of the Pudding" was written and directed by Miss Lydia Walker of the "47 Workshop" at Harvard College.

The many humorous scenes in the life of a Mrs. Leslie, a New York young woman, supposedly a widow, caused much merriment. Edward Ufford played the part of the heroine and Winslow Howland the hero.

Others who took part were Robert Nason, Nathan Wentworth, Richard Savory, Marcus Remick, Arthur Sederquist, Jr., Joel Nichols, Marcus Remick, Robert Claip, Louis Henrich, and Robert Nason.

The business manager was Arthur Sederquist, the stage manager, Donald MacCallan, property manager, Delano Cannon, and the prompter, William Henrich.

NEXT SUMMER'S GARDEN

To the lovers of gardening and garden planning, there are few things more fascinating than a new book

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Entered at the Post-office at Boston Mass., as second-class matter

EDITORIAL

From figures issued by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin, relative to motoring accidents and court proceedings affecting motorists during March, it is evident that our superior court judges and juries are not functioning as they should on cases brought before them. Judges who deliberately ignore the provisions of the statute which requires a jail sentence for second conviction for operating motor vehicles under the influence of liquor by imposing fines and then suspending the fines, ought to be driven from the bench. Such action indicates that the judge sets himself above the law which he is sworn to execute and indicates an attitude of mind which is incompatible with justice. Registrar Goodwin is taking the right course in giving wide publicity to these court proceedings.

Recent concerts at the Newton and Hunsell Clubs have been of such unusual merit as to warrant more than usual attention. Events of this kind are great assistance in making Newton the most attractive suburb of Boston.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

While this has been an off week so far as important legislation is concerned two Newton bills have been signed by Governor Cox, one providing for the repeal of the preferential method of voting at city elections in this city and one giving the city authority over the use of Crystal Lake for recreational purposes.

The ladies of this city who signed the initiative petition regarding the classification of prisoners will be interested to learn that largely through the activities of Representative Early of this city, a compromise bill was drafted which is satisfactory both to the county commissioners and to the officers of the Civic League. The Senate yesterday passed the substitute bill, killed the initiative bill and passed a resolution which, if signed by 5000 more voters will put the new bill on the ballot for a referendum vote next fall. It is understood, however, that no attempt will be made to secure the 5000 signatures in case the compromise bill is passed by the General Court and is signed by the governor.

One hardly annual was favorably acted upon yesterday in the House, a bill granting $100 bonus to the Yeomen (F) or the women who enlisted in the navy during the World War. The writer was on the committee which considered this matter in 1920, and has always been impressed with the rank discrimination exercised by the Legislature of 1919, which expressly excepted the Yeomen (F) from receiving that bonus. He has always voted for the bill. Last year it was defeated by the narrow margin of 11 votes, with both Representatives Early and Saltonstall voting against the bonus. This year Mr. Early voted with the majority in favor of the bonus, the vote being 123 to 41. There was a good attendance Tuesday at the hearing before Ways and Means on the bill to build the Hammond Parkway from Commonwealth Avenue to the West Roxbury parkway. It was strongly favored by ex-Governor Bates, Mr. Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Commission and by Senator Rice and the three Newton Representatives.

Sunday games on their grounds, Charles street, Ward 4; Samuel W. Tucker and Hugh E. Devine, renewal of Auctioneers' Licenses; Masten and Wells Fireworks Mfg. Company for permission to discharge fireworks for trial purposes, Needham street, Ward 5; Telephone Company, attachments on Spring street, Ward 5, Border street, Ward 3, and William street, Ward 7; and permits were granted for the erection of various private garages. Permits were also issued to the North Bennet Street Industrial School, Boston, and to the Newton Theatre, Inc., respectively, allowing minors to take part in performances in Newton.

The annual applications for the renewal of various classes of licenses expiring on May first, were received and referred to the Committee on Franchises and Licenses, as were also a few petitions for private garages. Petition of the Bradley Boston, Inc., for license for the sale of firearms at 251 Washington street, Ward 7, was not granted.

The following petitions were referred to the Committee on Public Works: for construction of sewers in Carver road, Ward 5, Milton street, and Underwood avenue, Ward 3, and in Metropolitan Park Land, near Kapasia street, Ward 4; for the acceptance of Frederick street, Ward 2, Elliot avenue, Ward 3, Tamworth road, Ward 5, Maple park, Ward 6, Tyler Terrace, Ward 6, and Ricker Terrace, Ward 7.

Various petitions for Soldiers' Relief were referred to the Committee on Soldiers' Relief.

The following claims were referred to the Committee on Claims and Rules: Joseph F. Russell, 967 Chestnut street, Ward 5, on account of injuries received by his mother on Chestnut street; Margaret Callahan, on account of injuries received on Ripley Terrace, Ward 6.

Upon recommendation of the Committee on Public Works, it was voted that Leave to Withdraw be granted on petition of Fred R. Furbush for the covering of Cheese Cake Brook.

Upon recommendation of the License Committee it was voted that permit be granted Frank Gurgone for a Public Garage and Gasoline Selling Station at the rear of 63 Lexington street, Ward 4, with certain restrictions, and that zoning permit be granted the Woodland Golf Club for the building of a dormitory; also that leave to withdraw be granted the Edison Company for pole locations on Central avenue, and Prescott street, Ward 2.

Hearings were assigned for April 21st, for the construction of sewer in Wessex road and in Hamlin road, Ward 6, and for the acceptance of Carleton road, Ward 6. Pole locations were granted the Telephone Company on Newtonville avenue, Ward 2, 2 poles, and the Edison Company on Carleton street, Ward 7, 2 poles.

An amendment to the ordinances requiring that building permits be issued within ten days instead of thirty days was referred to the Committee on Claims and Rules.

Order calling the Presidential Primaries on April 29th, 1924, and assigning the polling-places was adopted.

An amendment to the Standing Regulations relative to Hackney Carriages was passed, the amendment designating two classes of licenses. The first class shall permit a carriage to be used for the purpose of picking up passengers on the streets and will permit the carriage to stand for hire in such places designated by the Street Commissioner. Licenses of the second class shall permit a carriage to be used for the carriage of persons for hire, but shall not permit it to be used for picking up passengers on the streets or to stand on the street. A driver of a carriage of the first class must wear a badge on his outer garment with the number of the carriage thereon and this number must also be distinctly marked on the right-hand rear door of the carriage.

In taking up the matter of the Budget, Alderman White, the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, stated that he did not consider it a complete budget of city affairs as an actuality, as there were several appropriations which will have to be made in the future for which no accurate estimates could be made at the present time. He stated that his committee was grateful to the Committee on Public Works and to the Committee on Public Buildings for the assistance which they had given. He called attention to the fact that the committee had recommended a reduction in the Mayor's recommendations of about $90,000, and said that the tax rate carried in the Mayor's Budget would have amounted to about $29. He stated that the Budget as it is at present calls for a $26.60 tax rate, the same as last year, provided $100,000, is taken from the Excess and Deficiency Account. He did not say that the tax rate will be $26.60, but that is what it is at the present time with no additional appropriations should be made.

Motions of Alderman Lloyd that the salary of the City Messenger be increased and of Alderman Walton that the salary of the Agent of the Board of Health be increased were lost.

The Budget was then adopted, carrying appropriations amounting to $3,155,827.85, to be taken from the tax levy, and $173,207.86 from Water Revenue.

The taxpayers of this city have good reason to be grateful to the Finance Committee of the aldermen for their good sense in cutting down the somewhat extravagant recommendations of Mayor Childs in the 1924 budget. The $238,000 reduction in the city budget would have added over $2 per thousand to the tax rate if figured on the same basis as last year. It will be recalled that the Mayor made himself popular with the city officials by making increases in almost every salary, and the Finance committee has possibly gone a little too far in the other direction, and has not recognized some officials who deserve commendation in this manner. All in all, however, the budget as passed ought to provide sufficient funds to run the city in a satisfactory manner, if plain commonsense and economy is observed.

"This piece of bread" holding a broken luncheon roll in his hands—"was made from wheat flour that was ground probably in Minneapolis, may be here in this city. The wheat was grown in billowing fields, mile upon endless mile of grain fields, in the northwest hard-wheat region. The shortening used by the baker, the sugar he employed, all the ingredients of this piece of bread have a romance in them. The man who has made a success baking rolls most likely saw the romance back of a crust of bread.

"Finding romance makes success. We have applied it to our business in a concrete form, for back of a Scent soda fountain glass are the various ingredients entering into it. We sent a moving picture photographer 25,000 miles through Cuba, Jamaica and South America, a ten-month trip, to picture the romance back of a glass of Hires Rootbeer. We have the only movie ever made of harvesting vanilla beans in Mexico.

"Mr. Green emphasized the fact that too many of us are looking for the soft snaps in the world, and that there is a dangerous doctrine slowly permeating America—the doctrine that the ideal situation is the situation in which one does not have to work. He concluded by quoting Van Dyke's well-known lines on "The Gospel of Labor."

PATRIOTS DAY CLOSING

A telephone canvass of the mercantile membership of the Newton Chamber of Commerce has revealed a division of sentiment in regard to the closing of stores on Patriots' Day, April 19, which falls this year on the Saturday immediately preceding Easter.

The problem has proven a difficult one to work out, but it is believed that the solution reached is satisfactory to practically all of the local business men, and will prove equally satisfactory to the general public. All of the Newton banks will be closed all day on April 19, with all branches of the Newton Trust Company, excepting the Waban branch—the First National Bank, Newton, and West Newton Savings Banks, and the West Newton Co-operative Bank planning to be open on Friday evening, April 18, for the usual Saturday evening hours. Many of the stores and other places of business, especially those planning to close all day Saturday, will also observe Saturday evening hours on the night preceding the holiday.

The canvass of the Chamber mercantile membership indicated that slightly more than half were planning to close all day, and that a majority of the remaining number were to be open on the holiday until noon, this being the case with the markets, hardware stores, and others. Real Estate offices, garages, florists, candy stores, and others who cater especially to holiday patronage, will generally be open all day as usual. A few stores will remain open all day, chiefly in Nonantum and Auburndale, because of their proximity to Waltham, where business is to be conducted as usual on Saturday, and the holiday observed on Monday, April 21.

RUMMAGE SALE

On Friday and Saturday of this week, April 11th and 12th, the Young Women's Christian Association will hold a big rummage sale at 392 Centre street, (next to Paxton's Bakery.) The proceeds of the sale will go for the reconstruction of the Association's work in Tokio and Yokohama. The Young Women's Christian Association had many buildings in both these cities and was doing important work with both native and white women there, supporting among other things a home for English and American girls who were working in Japan.

The urgent need for the work of the Young Women's Christian Association there at this time need hardly be mentioned and there is no doubt that Newton will gladly respond to this appeal to do its share in the work of reconstruction.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. Peter A. McVicar, one of the oldest residents of Auburndale, died on Monday in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in his 78th year. Mr. McVicar was engaged in the carriage and coach business for more than fifty years. He took an active part in civic affairs, and was a member of the Fraternal Association and the A. O. U. W. Surviving him are his widow, Ida G. McVicar, and two sons, Joseph McVicar of New York and Peter McVicar of Auburndale. Services were held at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, on Thursday morning, Rev. William J. Dwyer, celebrant. The bearers were Daniel Walsh, Daniel Riordan, Daniel Barnicle, James P. Murphy, Thomas J. McCarthy, and Edward Spencer. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

CIVIC CLUB

and ventured the prediction that the American people were very tired of all this notoriety and scandal.

In his opinion a third party was looming large on the political horizon and suggested the possibility of a realignment of political parties on the basis of conservative and radical, and in which the conservative Southern Democrats would unite with the Eastern Republicans. As evidence of this he told of the non-partisanship which was most clearly shown in the work of all the committees except that of ways and means.

He urged his hearers to do all in their power to inform their neighbors that their officials in Washington were honest and ought to be encouraged rather than unthinkingly condemned.

Mr. Luce answered many questions in which he said that President Coolidge never looked better than at the present time, suggesting that the next President might be selected by the present House of Representatives, if a third party came into the field in the Northwest, and in which case, neither party having a majority, the radical Western states might join with the Democrats in the choice of a radical Democrat, while the Conservative South might join with the Eastern Republicans in electing Mr. Coolidge.

NEWTON CLUB

The Neighborhood Dinner, last Tuesday night, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Irving Seller was a great success. Dancing followed the dinner. This evening there will be a mixed bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tennant and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gibson as hosts and hostesses.

—New members of the Church of the Unitarian Church are Masters William H. Bacon, Jr., and Allen P. Carpenter, 2nd.

—At the meeting of the Alliance of the Unitarian Church on Wednesday members under the direction of Mrs. Francis Newhall will read the "Drama of Job."

—Dr. Edward C. Durgin, who was engaged in public health service in Siberia during the war, spoke before the Woman's Guild of the Second Church, on Tuesday. His talk was most interesting and instructive.

—Mrs. Earle E. Conway entertained at dinner last Saturday night in honor of her daughters, the Misses Janet and Virginia Conway. After the dinner the party went to the Brae Burn Club where they enjoyed dancing.

—Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lincoln Whittredge of 68 Chestnut street for the double wedding on Tuesday, April 22, of their two daughters, Miss Winifred Whittredge and Miss Catherine Charlotte Whittredge. The first-named will then become the wife of John Averill Reed, Harvard, 1920, son of Mrs. Newton L. Reed of Porto Rico; Miss Catherine Whittredge will be married to Frederick Whitney Hall, also Harvard, 1920, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dudley Hall of Cambridge. The double ceremony will take place at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, at 8:30 P. M., and will be followed by a reception.

NEWTON POST A. L.

With the Newton Legion nearing the end of its first week of the big "membership raid" the outlook of success is promising. Through the cooperation of the clergymen of the city, fraternal organizations, social clubs, theatres, and local newspapers and personal visits the legion has made every possible effort to reach every eligible service man in the city.

Charles A. Beckwith, in charge of the "raid" said today: "We have tried to reach everyone who is eligible. However, through incomplete records and obsolete addresses we have undoubtedly overlooked some. We hope that those who have been overlooked will not take it as a personal slight but get in touch with some of the committee for the purposes of joining Post 48."

"We want every man and woman who served in the war in our Post. We are after 100% membership in Newton and there is one week left in which to gain that goal."

The "raid" committee will meet at City Hall on Sunday afternoon at 3 P. M., and at that time will receive all applications for membership from eligible men and women who have not already enrolled. The session will take place in a committee room on the second floor.

Commander Thomas A. Franey and Chairman Beckwith will then arrange their plans for the final week of the campaign.

Bury School

We were privileged to have an exceptional exhibit of health posters which were made by children in Belgium from the first grade to the High School. Two of the teachers under whose direction they were made visited our Health Club and told us of the joy of the pupils in working them out and of their gains in health as a result. Kodak pictures were taken of our American children to be sent to the children of Belgium, as evidence of their pleasure of our pupils in what the Belgian children have done.

Eighteen classes from the Burr and Williams Schools were able to see the posters. Such exhibits aid in bringing about international friendliness and co-operation.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The last regular meeting of the season, of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Warren F. Gregory, Newtonville, Mass., April 9, 1924.

Two new names were added to the list of members, at this time.

A prize of $15.00 is to be awarded to the girl receiving the highest marks in American History, this year, at the Newton Classical High School.

$25.00 is to be donated to John A. Andrew Home, $20 to Pine Mt. School in Kentucky, and $10.00 to West Newton Music School.

There was a large attendance to hear Mr. Fitz Henry Smith, Jr., and there was much interesting data in his "History of Boston Light" which he had written several years ago and read before the Boston Society, Boston Historical Society and other organizations.

Miss Marie Sladen was the soloist for the afternoon, and rendered two groups of songs in a rich contralto voice. She was accompanied by Mrs. Payson Allen, at the piano.

After the program, a social hour was enjoyed.

The hostesses receiving were: Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, Mrs. E. J. Gould, Mrs. J. H. Green, Mrs. Warren F. Gregory, Mrs. Emma H. Hammett, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, and Mrs. George B. King presided at the coffee urns.

Clean, Efficient Fuel Direct to Your Boiler

Gas comes direct to your plant through a single pipe—to the point where you use the heat.

With gas you need no space for storage of fuel. You have no ashes to take up valuable room. No operating space, no runways, elevators or tracks are required.

Industrial gas lifts this unprofitable burden from the shoulders of your business and transfers it to ours.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Company has for years retained on its staff some of the best posted Industrial Engineers in the country.

These men are at your service in fitting gas to your business. It costs nothing to investigate.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

General Federation News for April contains much alluring information regarding the forthcoming Biennial at Los Angeles in June. "Who shall inherit the United States?" is to be the outstanding subject at the convention. Oswald Ryan of Anderson, Ind., commissioner who accompanied Secretary of Labor Davis overseas, will be one speaker and his talk will have to do largely with the immigration question. Mrs. Edward Franklin White, chairman of Legislation, under whose department Mr. Ryan will speak, has said: "It may be that by the time his address is delivered some sort of emergency legislation will have been adopted, in view of the fact that our present numerical restriction ends June 30th of this year. But I feel sure that whatever is passed will be merely a makeshift and there will still be the question to determine of a standard policy to be adopted by the United States."

Ira Clyde Clarke, president of the Woman's News Service, and associate editor of Pictorial Review, will be a speaker, taking part in the Press conference. Press and Publicity throughout the Federations of the country seem to be rising departments of club work. Each succeeding number of the News mentions a new state as becoming active in this line. It has taken a long time for club women to realize the value of the printed word, but now that they are doing so, a word of warning may be necessary. Use the newspapers legitimately, but remember that newspaper space has a market value, and that it costs money to set the type. Don't above all things abuse the privilege which the club departments offer. If favors asked for one club are granted that club, remember that the editor must also do likewise for many another. Newspapers have certain generally fixed policies determined after years of experience, which may seem unjust to the uninitiated, but in the long run they have been found the most workable. Editors, therefore, cannot be expected to change them to suit the whims of those who are inexperienced.

Amherst Week—June 11-14

Opening on Wednesday evening, June 11, those attending the Amherst Week will be welcomed by President Kenyon K. Butterfield, following which will be an illustrated lecture on "Beautifying the Home Grounds," by Prof. F. A. Waugh, and an informal reception. The tentative program includes two lectures each morning, one by Prof. C. L. Thayer on some phase of Floriculture. On Thursday, J. A. Crawford, extension editor, will speak on "Writing Informative Articles," on Friday morning, Dr. C. E. Marshall will speak of "Microbiology as it interests the Housekeeper," on Saturday the subject will be "Food Facts for Homemakers." The afternoon lectures will include "Household Management in Suburban Homes," by Mrs. H. J. Haynes, professor of Household Management; Professor John D. Willard will tell of Opportunities for Co-operation between Women's Clubs and the Extension Service." On Thursday there will be an excursion to Mount Tom with sunset luncheon on the summit; on Friday a botany trip. Friday afternoon there will be short talks upon what the College is doing, and a tour of the campus. Friday evening the program is in charge of the college. The conference will close on Saturday noon with a farewell luncheon and toasts. The committee announced that the entire expense will be under $20, including railroad fare from Boston and return. Apply for room reservations to Mrs. Harry A. Burnham, 68 Brookside avenue, Newtonville.

Dr. Paul H. Hanns to Speak

An unusual privilege is given the women of Newton next Monday, April 14, at 3.00 P. M., in Technical High School Hall, of hearing Dr. Paul H. Hanns, emeritus professor of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, speak on "Vitalizing School Programs." The meeting is under the auspices of the Education committee of the Newton Federation and a cordial invitation is extended all interested, especially mothers of young children.

Local Announcements

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club holds its annual Guest Day tomorrow afternoon at the home of its president, Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, of Erie avenue. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will speak on "The Songs of Shakespeare," and some of them will be sung by Miss Mary Newhall.

Mrs. Waldo B. Hutchinson, 1833 Washington street, Auburndale, will be hostess for the meeting of the Christa Study Club on Monday afternoon. Miss Noyes will give a History of Music up to 1400. Mrs. Selloy will treat "The Oratorio," and Mrs. J. F. Dunton, "The Opera."

The annual meeting of the Auburndale Review Club will be held April 15, at Drabington Lodge, Kendall Green. To this the waiting list is invited. There will be first the business meeting, followed by luncheon, and then the funmaking. Club members with cars are caring for the transportation.

No tickets for the Auburndale Woman's Club luncheon on April 22 will be sold after April 18. Apply early to Mrs. T. Frank Burbank, 464 Wolcott street, or to Mrs. John J. Brown, 26 Rowe street.

The annual meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held in Central Church Tuesday afternoon, April 15. As the business will consist of the election of officers and reading of yearly reports, it is hoped all club members will make a special effort to be present. A social hour will follow when there will be opportunity to greet the new officers and tea will be served by the Program committee. The program which the volunteer service committee and its friends have been so busily at work upon this winter for the soldiers at Rutland will be on exhibition to non-members after 4.30, and the ladies of the Gov. John A. Andrew Home who have made 280 squares will be invited guests at this hour.

On Wednesday, April 16, Mrs. Arthur E. Holt will read a paper on the subject, "Week-Day Religious Training," before the Newton Social Science Club.

Remember the date May 10, of the Cabaret to be held in the State Armory for the benefit of the Memorial Library Association and the philanthropic work of the Community Service Club of West Newton. It is planned to make this a community social event. Tables will be arranged so that friends may be together without regard to the number.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, April 17, at 2.30 P. M.

"Tragedy and Reconciliation in Modern Literature" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Dean Willard L. Sperry before the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, April 17, at 2.30 P. M.

Local Happenings

Guest Day at the Newton Mothers' Club was held on Monday, April 7, in the Second Church, West Newton. Miss Amy Sacker gave a most interesting talk on "A Summer in France," which was illustrated with lantern slides showing the cathedrals, some of the Chateau country and the battlefields. Following the lecture Mr. Griffith, director of Music in the public schools, sang. A social hour closed a delightful afternoon. The hostesses were: Mrs. Norman Bingham, chairman, Mrs. D. W. Brigham, Mrs. A. C. Blunt, Mrs. Henry Cate, Mrs. Philip Carter, Mrs. Hubert L. Carter, Mrs. Herbert M. Cole, Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr.

Presidents' Day

Presidents' Day was celebrated by the Woman's Club on Monday, April 7th, with about fifty guests of neighboring clubs and several past presidents of this club. Mrs. Joseph Congdon introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. William H. White of Wellesley, director of the 12th district. Mrs. White told of the success of the Marian Chase Baker Endowment Fund. She mentioned her recent visit to the Julia Ward Howe room in Washington, furnished by clubs of the General Federation and urged all the clubs of this district to become members of the organization, thereby enlarging their influence in the world. Then followed the musical part of the program arranged by Mrs. Herbert R. Stearns, chairman of the Music committee. The following artists, Mr. Levine, pianist, Mr. Webster, cellist, and Miss Margery Moody, soprano soloist, entertained the audience with most delightful numbers. To judge from the applause given each artist, one would say their every effort to be finished interpreters of music was earnestly appreciated.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. Robert M. Pye is chairman. The annual business meeting will be held Monday, April 21st, in the Union Church, preceded by luncheon at 12.45 o'clock. Mrs. James Hewins will be hostess and Mrs. Stanley Newton has charge of the decorations. Tickets must be procured before Thursday, April 17th, from Mrs. Garfield Charlton, 1845 Beacon street.

Civics Conference

The Civics Conference for the 12th district, held April 8th with the Auburndale Woman's Club, was a most inspiring and interesting occasion. Mrs. William H. White, director of the district, presided at the meeting. The opening of the program was four selections by the Club Chorus—"O Love, Low, Sweet Chariot," "Bye and Bye," and Kipling's "Recessional," and these met with heartiest applause. After an introduction of Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, the club president, and of Mrs. Brackett, Civics Chairman for the district, Prof. Robert E. Rogers of Technology, the speaker for the afternoon, talked on "The Adventure of Women in Citizenship." Among other things, he said that this year is a crucial test of woman suffrage, since the novelty has worn off, and people will ask what women have done since 1920. The Joint Congressional Committee, representing 14 organizations, which boxes the compass of women's activities, is responsible for much good legislation, and child welfare work, protective legislation for women, education, and prohibition are some of the things in which women have been really powerful. All this progress is closely watched from Europe. Speaking of the opportunities, rather than the duties facing women, he said his title of "The Adventure" was well chosen, for women after 70 years' agitation must look forward to their opportunities in a 10,000 year-old, man-made civilization. Women are entering on their heritage at a time when things are easier for them than ever before, when politics are to be treated as a science. From another angle, women are more radical and creative than men, having the radical capacity to get down to the roots of the matter, as witness the numerous reforms in England during the last century, largely due to women's efforts.

Now we are entering upon a period of difficult problems, and at the root of the whole matter lies the question, Whether the Constitution is still adequate. Party lines are disappearing, and there is an increasing swing toward independence—a characteristic of women. Another problem to be faced is whether representative government is to be adhered to, or more direct power will be taken by the people. The object of our fathers was that people should not govern; now shall the actual law-making be left to the inept public? Other problems to face, such as changes in the Constitution, uniform divorce laws, Supreme Court decisions of 4 to 5, or a completely new Constitution, all show that woman has for the first time a great chance in the solving of vital questions. And to use the title of one of Hugh Walpole's novels, registration is the "Prelude to Adventure." After this most inspiring talk, Mrs. White held an individual roll-call of club representatives from the district present, and asked each to speak for 3 minutes on the work in civics her club was doing, and what percentage of the members were registered voters. Many helpful suggestions were given of community work, and all could be proud of the high percentages of voters given from all clubs who had data to give.

A pleasant social hour with reception to the guests, and refreshments followed.

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

For the opportunities of the future the wise person builds a bank account.

SAFE MILK

Resolutions looking toward the safeguarding of the milk supply of Newton were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Health Division of the Newton Central Council, held at the Community Welfare Centre, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, on April 1.

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Acting Chairman of the Division, presided at the meeting. Mrs. William A. Bedford, of Newton Highlands, Chairman of the Public Health Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking on "Newton's Milk Supply," brought out the fact that if Newton wishes to make its milk supply really safe for life and health, it should require that all milk sold in the City should either be pasteurized, or that it should come from herds which have been tuberculin-tested.

An animated discussion followed Mrs. Bedford's address. Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Chairman of the Board of Health; Prof. Murray P. Horwood, of Newton Centre, Assistant Professor of Biology and Public Health at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Mr. Robert V. Spencer of Newtonville, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League; and others, participated in the discussion. In the end, the following resolutions, the first of which was proposed by Dr. Curtis, were unanimously adopted by the Division:

Be it resolved:

1. That the Health Division of the Newton Central Council favors the principle of the pasteurization of all milk from non-tuberculin-tested herds.
2. That the Division favors a periodical bacteriological examination of all milk sold in Newton.
3. That the Division favors an educational campaign to obtain the objects stated in the preceding resolutions.
4. That the Division shall co-operate with the Public Health Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and all other organizations interested, in initiating and developing such an educational campaign.

The following committee was appointed to represent the Division in the campaign for safe milk: Mrs. William A. Bedford, Chairman; Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Chairman of the Public Health; Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Chairman of the Public Health Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club; Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. The Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau, of which Mr. Arthur Kendrick is Chairman, has been invited to appoint an additional member of the committee on the milk education campaign.

The report of the Nominating Committee was presented by Mrs. Carrie A. Hull. Dr. Fred M. Lowe, City Physician, was elected Chairman of the Division, and Miss Marie M. Knowles, Superintendent of the Newton District Nursing Association, was elected Secretary.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons Inc. report that final papers have been passed this week in the sale of two pieces of mercantile property in West Newton involving the most valuable corner of this business district, corner Water-town and Washington streets being numbered 1259-1261.

The property consists of eleven stores with apartments overhead and, together with 13,540 square feet of land, is valued at $55,000. Charles C. Prescott was the grantor. Louis Bahrach purchased for investment.

John T. Burns & Sons also report that they have sold to Charles W. Paige a three family frame house with 7,000 feet of land, located at 729 Walnut St., Newtonville. Agnes H. Byrne was the grantor. The value of the property is $9,000.

The same concern report that they have sold to Vincent E. Squires a lot of land on Beaumont avenue, corner Hull street, Newtonville, containing 13,000 square feet. Agnes H. Byrne was also the grantor in this transaction. The value of the lot is $3,500.

Burns & Sons have sold for the Buttrick Estate of Waltham to Frank Vincenzo two lots of land on Washington street, corner Cross street, in the West Newton section. The value of the lots is $3,000 and the total area 9,000 square feet.

THE GARBAGE PROBLEM

Dear Editor:

Since we are discussing the subject of garbage disposal, it would be well to consider what other cities are doing. Every city has to face this problem. We have been slow in doing what we know ought to have been done many years ago.

We had far seeing citizens who realized that Newton was going to grow, and they planned for a sewerage system and a water system which are unrivaled. They could not possibly know what an amount of household waste was to accumulate, and they did not provide for that.

We are now in the Dark Ages before the Civil War as regards the disposal of garbage. These open wagons, standing about our streets, would be regarded with horror if we were not so accustomed to them.

The words of the poet almost apply here:

"Vice is a monster of such hideous mien,
That to be hated needs but to be seen,
But seen too oft, familiar with its face
We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

What we do not exactly embrace the garbage wagon, we do pity it, and are thankful to have it come.

Of course, there is no need of the garbage being exposed as it is. The driver leaves his equipage standing where it is most convenient, and goes from one back door to another. He is not allowed to take the pail he finds out to the street to empty it, but must empty it on the premises. When his pail is over running he empties it to the street and empties it there, and when the wagon is full he takes it to the place for emptying. This makes three different handlings, exposures. He is tempted to overload his wagon, and he scatters more or less, which he is supposed to stop and pick up, but of course does not always do so.

He carries his heavy container on his back across our lawn and under our windows; sometimes, poor as he is, he is impatient with him, sometimes they make him a present, but however it is, it is wrong. Such a business should not be carried on, and it is a well known truism, that we should not ask anyone to do for us what we would not do ourselves if we were able.

There is no need of it.

Paper containers could be bought at a low price and furnished to every family in the city. Garbage could be placed in these and sealed up and carried away as neatly as groceries are brought into the house. Housekeepers would soon learn what could be placed in those bags, and no one could object to such an arrangement.

There is nothing objectionable to the refuse from an ordinary house, if properly handled, but when it is allowed to accumulate, it becomes mouldy and rotten, it is to be feared.

These bags could be collected every day on large covered trucks, and easily disposed of. A similar arrangement might be made for the collection of ashes and papers, which should not be emptied in our streets or exposed to the open air. In foreign cities this is not allowed, but the latrines are covered and the covers fastened down, and the whole thing is placed on the wagon and carried away to be emptied elsewhere.

If the City had its own Filtration Plant—we often hear this said—why doesn't Newton have its own Filtration Plant?

We can observe that other cities all around us are having these, and since we live so much by comparison if they have them why can't we?

Why do we have to pay someone to take care of this garbage, when by investing a proper sum we can handle it ourselves and also make a profit?

Everyone knows that with proper treatment there are valuable products to be obtained from this refuse. Nitrate fertilizer chemicals, for which there is a great demand, are all found in these waste materials.

Next follows the question as to where such a plant could be located. Certainly it should not be in its present location, for this land is needed for residences, and the same reason would apply on West Newton Hill, the land is too valuable.

Properly managed and cared for, it might be placed in any part of the City without complaint. It needs only several acres of land.

There is plenty of land at Oak Hill, and the Golf Clubs now occupy land which might well be used for other purposes. Newton does not need so many rural clubs, but it does need land for homes and for such necessities as filtration plants.

Instead of condemning all garbage plants, would it not be wise to say something like this:

There is bound to be a great deal of household waste, increasing every year, and it must be disposed of in a sanitary manner. Let us appoint a committee of our wisest and most public spirited men and women, and have them ascertain what other cities are doing and have accomplished. Let them obtain estimates of the probable cost, and consider different locations. When the report is made our Board of Aldermen will know what should be done, and they will not be long in making it an accomplished fact.

Mrs. H. R. Turner.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

For the week ending March 29:—Patients in hospital, 110; paying patients, 65; part paying patients, 22; free patients (including babies) 6; patients treated by out patient department, 144; accident cases, 9; babies born, 17; social service calls at hospital, 4; at homes, 4; transported by social service car, 35.

During the month of March there were admitted to the hospital 271 patients; the number of patients discharged was 287; the daily average number of patients was 124.81; the largest number of patients in the hospital during any twenty-four hours was 145, and the smallest number, 108. During the month the X-ray department treated 136 patients, and the accident cases for the month numbered 35, in number of babies born, a record was made, the number of births being 56, the largest previous number for any one month being 46.

Sunday, April 6, is the first anniversary of the opening of the Porter ward.

At Wednesday night's meeting of the alumnae at the hospital, Dr. Edward Allen, of the Perkins Institute talked to those present on the "Recreation of the Blind."

Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, the organist of the First Church at Newton Centre, on Wednesday evening, gave the graduating class of the nurses' training school instruction in the singing of the songs that will be included in the graduation programme.

The speaker at the graduation exercises is to be the Hon. Loring B. Young, speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

A date for Newton people to remember and plan for is May 12, which is to be National Hospital Day. On this day the hospital will be open during hours to be announced to all the people of Newton, and it is hoped there will be many visitors.

Thursday of this week the hospital staff attended a meeting of the Massachusetts State League of Nursing Education at Huntington Hospital in Boston, where the subject under discussion was "What the School of Nursing Owes the Student in Public Health Nursing." The speaker was Miss Florence Patterson, R. N., director of nursing and field work of the Boston Community Health Association.

Saturday Miss Allen, the superintendent of the hospital, is to attend a meeting of the councillors of the Massachusetts State Nursing Association.

During the past seven months of the hospital year, 1860 patients have been admitted, and in the same months 291 babies have been born at the hospital. Of the babies born last week, by the way, two of them were twin girls.

The Out Patient Department during 1922-23 treated 2,711 patients and collected $519.92. In the seven months of the present hospital year, 3,270 patients have been treated, and $1,184.20 collected.

Mr. J. H. Selman has been elected auditor to take the place of the late Mr. Herbert F. White.

Miss Ruth Lago, the assistant dietitian of the hospital, on April 1, went to the Hale hospital as dietitian, and Miss Irma Winslow, who has taken the pupil dietitian course, has taken the post of assistant dietitian at the Newton Hospital.

The Newton police are always ready to extend a helping hand to the hospital. Last Wednesday at the time of the meeting of the Middlesex South division of the Massachusetts Medical Society at the hospital, Sergeant Seaver, by taking charge of the traffic, made it possible for the nearly one hundred doctors who attended to gather and to depart conveniently and without confusion or accident.

Science Club listened to a talk illustrated with motion pictures by Mr. Elwood S. Terry of the Massachusetts State Forestry Association.

Mr. Terry said there were three kinds of forests—the primeval or virgin forests, which are now found only on the Pacific coast, the “culled” forests, in which the lumbermen have taken out the marketable timber, leaving only scrub growth of no value, and the cultivated forests, few in number but growing, in which the timber is cut to advantage so that there is a continuous supply. In Europe the forests have been cultivated for hundreds of years, but in the United States the people are only just beginning to realize the absolute necessity of doing something to prevent the timber famine, which will inevitably occur within the next thirty or forty years, unless the forests are given intelligent care and protection. Even now the cost of wood is prohibitive to many people, and that is why the country is “short” one million homes.

In Massachusetts sixty per cent of the land is suitable for forest growth, and the State now owns and operates 70,000 acres of the possible 1,000,000, which is now good for nothing and appropriately called waste land. Towns are encouraged to start forests of their own, and thirty-five have now done so. The tax laws have been made reasonable so that private owners of wood-lands will find it profitable to care for their property.

One picture showed the processes of cutting, logging, the use of the streams for getting the logs to the saw-mill, box-manufacturing, etc. Another showed the danger from fire, largely due to carelessness, and the way in which the high towers all over the state make it possible to locate fires before they have made great headway. In Europe a forest fire is practically unknown. In the last picture views of tree nurseries were given. When four years old, the little trees can be shipped and planted in town or state forests. But it takes many years for them to grow to full size. A policy of “re-forestation” must replace the “de-forestation,” which has been the method of the past.

Presidents' Conference

Wednesday morning brought to Newton Centre presidents of federated clubs from all over Massachusetts to confer upon problems and to hear the latest word from the departments of work. The conference opened with the State song, “America the Beautiful,” and the salute to the flag.

Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, as hostess welcomed the guests, saying that they were entertaining as one means of showing their appreciation and affection for Mrs. Poole.

Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation, also brought greetings. Mrs. Frederic G. Smith, the nominee for president of the Federation, responded gracefully, congratulating the club for its enterprise and teamwork that had made the beautiful club house possible. She admonished the out-going presidents not to tie up the policies of incoming administrations, and to pass on as much information as possible, not cleaning house too energetically so far as Federation documents were concerned.

The Federation is built on traditions, she said, it is our duty to carry to successful conclusion, things started by our predecessors, and in leaving office not to say “your” club or “my club,” but “our” club.

Mrs. Poole taking the chair humorously referred to her audience as a group of would-be dowagers and debutantes, and then proceeded to the business of the morning—the receiving of messages from the department chairmen. Representing Americanization, Mrs. Allen Chamberlain told of a club made up of women of many nationalities and of the splendid way in which they are getting to know one another and to work for common objects.

Community Service through its chairman, Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, urged increased registration of club women and others outside the club. She commended the work for good motion pictures done by the Newton clubs. Mrs. Paul A. Peters, of the committee for Friendly Co-operation with the ex-service men, asked for more affluents to be used at Rutland, asked patronage of the store where their goods are on sale in Boston, and to remember the boys in the hospital during the summer with fruit and flowers and automobile rides. Mrs. Harriet I. Goode, of the Conservation department, praised the conservation work of the Newton Federation in its work of the last of April from 585 Boylston street to the Kensington Building, at the corner of Boylston and Exeter Sts., because of the room now occupied being needed by an adjoining tenant. Federation Topics has now nearly 3800 paid subscribers, the largest number on record, an increase of 1300 over last year. The presidents were urged to have at least one program from among the speakers and entertainers advertised in Topics. National Music Week is to be observed in Boston May 4-10. The clubs were urged to have a motion picture in putting good music into Motion Picture houses. Other suggestions included work for safety of children on the streets, for more playgrounds for small children, giving wholesome recreation to young people as an outlet for their social instincts, thus keeping them away from the paths that lead to the courts, and the possibilities of doing good through volunteer service committees.

Mrs. Alfred J. Norton, president of the Springfield Women's Club, explained the work done by her club in investigating the need for the mid-wife bill, which failed of endorsement by the Federation at the Mid-Winter meeting. Miss Marian C. Nichols, for the Civil Service department, announced two trips to be taken to institutions in the near future.

After luncheon, which was served by the hostess club, the conference considered questions of intimate nature in running the clubs. It came out that in many cases men are associate members. In Quincy they are coming in to help on the building proposition. Suggestions for speakers were given by club presidents, in naming the best things they had had during the past year, some of the best being those that cost relatively little.

Mrs. Harriet I. Goode, chairman of Conservation, gave a delightful inspirational talk upon seeing the beauties of nature, which she called Camouflaged Conservation. Mr. Royal B. Farnum spoke of the needs of art in Massachusetts. One way to get it is to support what we have, back your school supervisors, your State school. He told of plans for a big Art Festival, which is being planned for June 1925, when it is hoped to get all the communities interested in art in their own communities. Incidentally he said, Massachusetts has the best Federation in the country, in response to which Mrs. Poole paid a tribute to the work of Miss George A. Bacon in starting us upon the right track.

Mrs. Charles G. Galbo, president of the Woman's Italian Club, was presented and though “a stranger and an sojourner among you,” as she said, she made a charming little speech reminding her hearers of the fact that her ancestors had republics thousands of years before this one was founded. Mrs. Poole closed the conference with a talk upon the intimate things, giving helpful suggestions, and voicing her appreciation of the courtesy shown her during her administration.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

For week ending April 5:—Patients in hospital 113, paying patients 60, part paying patients 26, free patients (including babies) 27, patients treated by out patient department 142, accident cases 6, babies born 10, patients transferred by social service car 16, by volunteer car 6.

The Auburnroad Women's Club has contributed $25 to the superintendent's fund which is used as needs of the patients call for it.

Dr. William Dewire, the senior house officer, who has been ill, is once more on duty.

The new sterilizers and water distiller have arrived but because of an accident to them on their way to the hospital they are not set up yet for use.

Monday night the Know More Kokiki Club held one of its regular meetings at the hospital.

Miss Vera Houston, the supervisor of Founders' Memorial, has been ill and has gone to Maine for a few weeks' rest. In her absence Miss Elizabeth Young of the Training School of 1923 is acting in her place.

Six of the April section of the graduation class at the Training School have completed their time and from now on will study for the final examinations which begin April 21.

Thirty of the nurses at the hospital attended the dress rehearsal of the Players' performance of “Three Wise Fools,” the tickets for the performance being provided by two good friends of the hospital.

Last Monday there was held the regular council of the superintendent and heads of departments at the hospital. These monthly councils have been interrupted this year by the staff's attendance at classes of the Newton Central Council.

The training school board met on Monday and discussed matter connected with the coming graduation exercises and the annual examinations.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

Members of the Hunnewell Club and their friends enjoyed a rare treat on Sunday afternoon, when they had the pleasure of listening to a concert by Jesus Maria Sanroma, pianist, and Ruon Robison, tenor.

Mr. Robison sang with power and poise a program made up in part of classical selections, and in part of Irish melodies and other popular numbers. His tones were clear and full, and his delightful enunciation made it possible to hear him in every part of the hall.

Mr. Sanroma displayed a remarkable technique, and his playing of Liszt was a brilliant performance. In his Chopin numbers he brought out the singing quality for which the composer is noted.

Following the concert, tea was served. Mrs. Henry L. Dexter, chairman; was assisted by Mrs. Carl J. Thornequist, Mrs. Charles H. Barney, Mrs. Everett T. Ryder, and Miss Currier.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The following musical works will be presented at the ninth concert of the Newton Choral Society, Tuesday evening, April 24, at Central Church: Old French Suite, Boston Festival Orchestra; “Toreador's Song” from “Carmen” by Clifton Wood, baritone; Trio from the Finale of “Faust,” Mr. Wood, Miss Marguerite Porter, soprano, Mr. Martin Albrecht, tenor; Cantata “Hilawatha's Departure,” by Coleridge-Taylor, given by the chorus, the Festival Orchestra, and the above named soloists. This is the finest concert that the society has so far given. The brilliant melodies of the cantata will please the general public, while the students of music will be deeply impressed by the composer's power to reflect the thought of Longfellow's poem by a musical interpretation. This cantata is a remarkable example of descriptive music, in which the thought is expressed by musical phrases and motives somewhat after the Wagnerian manner.

—Next week, Holy Week, there will be services in Trinity Church at 8 P. M. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (Holy Communion). On Good Friday the service will be at 10:30. The Rector will preach at all of these services.

—This evening at 7:45 at the First Baptist Church the fourth of the Lenten services of Music and Meditation will be held. The artists will be Miss Marjorie W. Leadbetter, soprano, Mr. Paul Shirley, Viola d'More, and Mr. George Laurent, flute.

—Mr. Edwin J. Burns of 481 Parker street, who has just received his diploma from the Bryant & Stratton School, having completed the General Business Course, has accepted an excellent position with the T. C. Baker Company, Brookline.

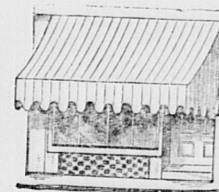

—“America's Empty Chair in Europe” will be the subject of an address by Rev. James L. Burton, D. D., in Trinity Church next Sunday evening, April 13, at 7:15. The Rector will resume his duties at the morning service, at 10:45, and will preach, after an absence of several weeks because of a broken ankle.

—The Woman's Society of the First Church held its regular meeting on Monday. President J. D. Brownell of Northland College was the speaker, and a quartet from the college furnished the music. A social hour followed the regular program.

—Rev. Charles F. Weedon of 110 Glen avenue has an invitation to preach at Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, where Dr. Hillis is pastor. Dr. Weedon will supply on Palm Sunday and Easter at the South Congregational Church, Concord, N. H.

—More than one hundred and fifty children saw the Art masterpieces provided by Professor Augustine Smith at the First Church recently, and about as many adults attended the evening program when the chapel choir were at their best. This was a unique opportunity to learn both of sacred art and music.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS DISCUSSED

At a meeting held at the Newton Public Library on Wednesday night, Alderman Weeks, Alderman O'Connell, Chief Burke and Street Commissioner Stuart representing the City of Newton, met the business men of Newton Center to discuss the problem of traffic regulation for Newton Center.

Among the points discussed were the following: Automobiles in Nonantum Square to be parked for thirty minutes only; Hall street, to be made a one-way street from Washington to Centre street; Washington street to be a one-way street going West from the Square to Hall street; Centre street a one-way street going East from Hall street to the Square; Channing, Bacon, and Pearl Court to be made one-way streets from Washington to Pearl street, Charlesbank road from Washington street to St. James a one-way street going East; St. James street, from Charlesbank road to Hunnewell avenue one-way going South.

Other measures considered were the marking of parking places and the limiting of parking at intersecting streets to within 20 feet.

About thirty-five business men were present.

HOCKEY TEAM HONORED

Newton's World Champion Hockey team was recently honored by an entertainment and supper by Newton Council, Knights of Columbus.

After the entertainment, gold charms were presented to the team, and doughnuts and coffee were served.

The entertainment consisted of a burlesque track meet, in which the 50-yard dash was conducted by pushing a 50-cent piece the length of the floor with a toothpick, and the shot for the shotput was a sponge. The hammer throw consisted of throwing a sponge with a string tied to it, while the javelin was a toothpick.

William Prout of the New England A. A. U. presented the watch charms in the form of small hockey pucks, in behalf of the Knights of Columbus to the letter men of the champion team. Emblems were received by Capt. O'Donnell, Johnson, Stone, Howland, Holbrook, Stunbbs, Rice, Spain, Nixon, Lowell, Whitmore and Gilligan.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—For the attraction at the St. James, next week, George A. Giles will present the Boston Stock Company in “The Man From Home” by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. The play served William Dodge as a starring vehicle for some time. Mr. Gilbert will act the mid-western attorney.

A LOT of new central office names are becoming familiar to Boston telephone users these days, as they take increasing advantage of the fast inter-city toll service now available.

Say you are a Boston subscriber. Your home telephone is in Newton North. Your business telephone is in Main. You call one from the other without thought of distance or political bounds. Metropolitan Boston weaves a daily fabric of speech involving hundreds of thousands of telephones in sixty central offices.

Then why not call Cedar in Worcester just like Regent in Brookline? Union in Providence as you do Porter in Cambridge? Manchester, Lowell, Brockton, as you would Milton, Lexington, Braintree?

You can. Right now.

Not only these, but scores of other towns in a widening circle. On Page 6 in the Boston Telephone Directory is the full list and the rates.

If you do not know the number, ask your local Information. If you do know it, fine. Give it to your own operator and hold the line,—just like a local call.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS ARE ENTITLED TO A REAL HOME

One of America's greatest troubles today can easily be traced directly to a lack of love of home in our children.

Home-building and home-developing has been sidetracked too much of late in favor of renting and the results are not satisfactory.

It is not easy to even like the average rented place, let alone love it. Your family needs a home that they can and will love. A place to which they are proud to invite their friends. A place you and your wife will delight in, where you can develop all those little personal touches and beauties that are found only in real homes.

Give your family a home of that kind this year. Start it now. Let the whole family have a share in planning it. Bring the family ideas to us and we will work them into a plan that will delight all of you and we will help you keep the cost within your financial ability.

EDUCATION MEETING

Dr. Paul H. Hanus, of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, spoke at the Technical High School hall on Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Education committee of the Newton Federation, Mrs. A. E. Holt, chairman. Professor Hanus discussed school curricula from various angles. It was not so long ago, he said, that what are commonly called the three R's, reading, writing, and arithmetic, were considered the solid studies, and it took nine years to teach them, and nothing else was thought of as having an important place in the school arts. He cited an instance of his own observation, where the teacher considered it necessary for pupils to spend three weeks in learning to write the letter "J." A large amount of time has been wasted in the teaching of arithmetic, with no legitimate outcome. There is still a lot of rubbish in the arithmetics. He would compile a book not thicker than the little finger, which would contain all that anybody needs to know of arithmetic for practical use in life—how to add, subtract, multiply, divide in relatively small numbers, and with accuracy, simple fractions, percentage and its simplest applications, and, he added, it doesn't take eight or nine years to do that. In reading, there should be enough training to enable the pupils to acquaint themselves with all that civilization represents. Why should there be the so-called supplementary reading? If a child can't learn to read intelligently in three years, there is something (Continued on Page 6)

FAREWELL DINNER

The annual meeting of the Central club, held Monday evening, took the form of a "send off" dinner for Rev. M. H. Lichliter, who is to leave May 1st to take up his new pastorate at Cleveland, Ohio. Deep regret at Mr. Lichliter's departure was manifested, yet the strong feeling was expressed that he had fairly earned this position of great responsibility and leadership, and that the people of Central church had been fortunate in being able to keep so gifted a minister for a pastorate of practically five years.

A clam chowder and roast beef dinner was served, and a number of popular songs were sung by the company, with Mr. Fred E. Mann at the piano. Mr. Franklin Field rendered several solos. Mr. C. H. Mergendahl, the president of the club, then presented Mr. Lichliter, on behalf of the club, with a handsome suitcase, and hoped that he would use it frequently to travel back to Newtonville.

Mr. Albert M. Lyon was the toastmaster, and he expressed warm personal appreciation of the retiring pastor. Mr. Wallace C. Boyden spoke humorously of the service of Central church as a training school for ministers for larger churches, and presented Mr. Lichliter with a diploma showing that he had taken the needful courses in Congregational lore offered by this training school. Mr. Chas. W. Davidson claimed to have been the first man to have welcomed Mr. Lichliter to Newtonville, and also (Continued on Page 6)

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

For the opportunities of the future the wise person builds a bank account.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

At Players' Hall, West Newton, Entitled: Christian Science: The Way to the True Kingdom, Was Listened to Attentively by a Large and Representative Newton Audience.

The lecture given under the auspices of the Christian Science Church of Newton, drew a record attendance Monday Evening, filling the Hall, the stage and a good part of the Sunday School Room. The lecturer Mr. Charles I. Ohrenstein of Syracuse, N. Y., was introduced by Mr. Edwin C. Johnson, the First Reader of the Church in these words:

One of the sweetest introductions ever given a Christian Science lecture took place in a small western town quite a few years ago. When the lecturer arrived at the home of friends, about two hours before hand, he found that the one who was to introduce him had been called away very unexpectedly. No one seemed to know just what to do, until, finally, the little twelve-year-old daughter, who had been listening to the conversation, spoke up and said that she would be glad to introduce him.

Three members of her family had been healed in Christian Science. Her aunt had been bedridden many years, an uncle had been a drunkard, and her father was healed of a serious illness. When the time came, she stepped forward, and dressed in a pretty white dress, with curls hanging down her back, said, very simply—"You all know my Aunt Mary and how long she was in bed. And you all know how Christian Science came to her and healed her. And you all remember how Uncle Joe was healed of the drink habit by the Christ Truth. And you all know my dear Papa and how he was healed by Christian Science. Now you know all these things because you have seen them yourselves, so you know what Christian Science can do." Then she turned the meeting over to the speaker.

I tell this story because the subject of the lecture this evening is "Christian Science the Way to the True Kingdom." Truly that little child was pointing out the way. We all remember those beautiful words of the Master, "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven" (Matt. 19:14). Mrs. Eddy says in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, "The grand necessity of existence is to gain the true idea of what constitutes the kingdom of heaven in man" (P. 560); and, again, "Willingness to become as a little child and to leave the old for the new, renders thought receptive of the advanced idea" (P. 323).

I am sure that this earnest, childlike, receptive attitude of thought is manifested in this audience here tonight, and that we shall all be blessed by the words of Truth that we are to hear. It is with great pleasure that I present Mr. Charles I. Ohrenstein, C. S. B. of Syracuse, New York, a member of the Board of Lecturers of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Mr. Ohrenstein spoke as follows: A great many people may now be said to know something about Christian Science. They know that many have been healed by it; that many women since becoming Christian Scientists; better husbands, wives, fathers, mothers, children, neighbors, friends, citizens. Many reputable doctors now acknowledge that Christian Science heals, and recommend it to patients whom they cannot cure. Many clergymen acknowledge that it is reforming a great many people, and that it is accomplishing a great deal of good in the world. But because most people are still unacquainted with the method by which these good works are brought about, with the teachings and application of Christian Science, its good works are still quite frequently attributed to other causes than that of which they are the demonstration and result—to other causes than to the power of God and of His Christ. The reason, it is but fair to assume, is not always the desire to be unjust to Christian Science. For generations upon generations people have become so used to trusting only material means to overcome troubles and to restore and maintain health, and so dissuaded to trusting God to help them that they find it difficult, if not impossible, to believe the Bible promises and assurances that God is "a very present help in trouble"; that He "healed all by diseases"; that in reality it is God who does so whether He is credited with doing it or not. Nor can the prevalent distrust in God be looked upon as strange when the training and customs of mankind through centuries upon centuries are taken into account; for, as Shakespeare said, "Use almost can change the stamp of nature,"—and the true nature of man is to trust God.

Knowledge of God Necessary

How is it then, if the true nature of man is to trust God, that men have strayed so far from man's real nature? How is it that men have strayed from relying fully and implicitly upon "Him whom to know aright is Life eternal" (Science and Health, Pref. p. vii); upon Him whom the great Master called "Our Father"? Because, to quote that great Master, "The world hath not known thee"—God. Because the world has had a mere belief of Him instead of a knowledge of Him, a belief that has made it impossible to make it most difficult—indeed impossible—to trust in God in times of trial and distress; for to trust implicitly in God, a knowledge of Him is necessary. Jesus had this knowledge. His own words, "The world hath not known thee; but I have known thee," plainly show this fact. It was because he knew God that he was able to trust Him, but to demonstrate His all-beneficent power.

The world science is derived from the Latin scientia, knowledge. If Jesus the Christ knew God, as he said that he did, and as all of us admit, does it not follow that his knowledge of God constituted his Science, the Christ Science, or Christian Science? And if it was necessary for Jesus to know God in order to demonstrate God's power, is it not necessary that his followers have the Christ Science, or Christian Science, in order to be able to do likewise? But some may say, "Was that all that Jesus knew?" Yes, that was all that Jesus knew; and it was because God, who is infinite good, was all that Jesus knew, that he was able to demonstrate all that is good; to feed the hungry, to comfort the sorrowing, to reform the sinful, to heal the sick, to still the storm, to raise the dead.

Tennyson said:—
Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck you out here, root and all, in my hand,
Little flower—but if I could understand,
What you are, root and all, and all in all,
I should know what God and man is.

When it becomes known what the least living thing really is, all reality will be known, and known to be like God—good. Knowing God as Jesus knew Him, the true nature, the essence of everything was known to him, and it was this knowledge or Science which enabled Jesus to redeem—that is, to rejudge everything—and thus save the otherwise hopelessly lost, restore the incurably sick, the seemingly dead.

Christian Science the Knowledge of God

I trust, my dear friends, that what has been said has prepared you to recognize, to some extent at least, the nature and the magnitude of the Science discovered and founded by Mrs. Eddy. I trust that it has prepared you to appreciate the fact that Christian Science is the knowledge which constituted the Christianity of Jesus; that it is nothing less than the Science of God, and that for this reason it is Christian Science and does the works of God as Jesus did them.

What, then, according to this Science, is God? What is the nature of the God known of Jesus the Christ, and for this reason, the God whom Christian Science teaches us to know and to worship—to know and to worship in a way that leads to the demonstration of His goodness. His ever operative power, beneficence, and love? That we may better appreciate the import of this question, let us again remind ourselves of the words of our Master, "The world hath not known thee; but I have known thee." What has the world believed God to be? Anciently, to the seers of Old Testament times, what is now called God—besides whom, in Bible language, there is none else—was known as power, the only and all-powerful, and as self-existence or Life. But these seers, distrustful of the ability of their followers to appreciate this metaphysical, scientific fact, prohibited the use of at least one of these terms for God and taught them to call Him Lord or ruler. This, very naturally, to the laity, came to mean a humankind God instead of the divine source, or Principle of all true power and life; so that notwithstanding the teachings of the Bible, the Hebrews of old—in spite of the fact that they were not to make unto themselves any graven image—mental or otherwise—believed in, and prayed to an anthropomorphic or humankind God.

Jesus, who knew God as none ever knew Him, called God "Spirit," meaning Mind. A few understood him, because he also called God "Father," meaning the one true source, or progenitor of all, the many, in time, again mistakenly thought of God as a person. And it is this personal God, a power or cause that does not in reality exist—and for this reason cannot save—whom Christendom has tried to trust, whom Christendom has treated to overcome its ills; of whom Christendom has asked and had not, because it asked amiss.

Christianity Not Tried

Jesus' purpose was to usher in and to establish the kingdom or government of God. It was this kingdom which he taught his followers to pray for and to seek; and all will admit that if his teachings were practiced, his spiritual healing would follow as their natural result; want would be unknown; strife and war would cease, and health, peace, and blessedness would reign throughout all Christendom.

An eminent clergyman was once asked whether he did not think Christianity was a failure. After a moment's pause he replied that he did not know. Being asked how he, a Christian clergyman, could make such an answer, he said, "Because Christianity has never been tried." Is not this true? It must be conceded that it is; for the history of the Christian nations is a history of pride and of want of faith; of aggression against and resistance to all that is good; a history of rapine and of destruction written with sword and flame. It is a history of human domination which found its culmination in the carnage through which the whole world has just passed, and continues to record itself, an industrialism which has forgotten that "the labourer is worthy of his hire," and the employer entitled to a full return of labor for that hire,—an industrialism in which the motto of nearly all concerned—of labor and of capital alike—has been and is to give as little as possible for as much as possible, instead of giving and doing as much as possible for what God that he was able to trust Him, but to demonstrate His all-beneficent power.

The world science is derived from the Latin scientia, knowledge. If Jesus the Christ knew God, as he said that he did, and as all of us admit, does it not follow that his knowledge of God constituted his Science, the Christ Science, or Christian Science? And if it was necessary for Jesus

Man's Relationship to God

It has been indicated that the Christian Science of Jesus consisted of a knowledge of God. In teaching this Science he taught the universal Fatherhood or causality of God and defined God to be Spirit, thus Mind; a teaching and definition which quite naturally mean that man, as the son of God, is the idea or reflection of Mind,—subject to God, Mind,—and that, in order to come to the estate of man—to rise to the stature of true manhood—men must be governed by God, Spirit, Mind, by pure intelligence; that men must seek "first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness,"—and cease from holding themselves subject to matter, non-intelligence in any form whatever. To those who accept the teachings of Jesus—to Christians—this in itself should be sufficient to establish conclusively the fact that Christian Science, which teaches Mind, God, to be the only cause and man to be the reflection, the idea of Mind, subject only to Mind, is truly founded upon the teachings of the Christ—especially so since, like Jesus, it demonstrates this doctrine with all manner of beneficent "signs" following its application.

Mind the Only Cause or Creator

But let us consider this fundamental doctrine of Jesus and of Christian Science, that there is only one real cause—Spirit, Mind,—that this cause is the only legitimate governor of man in all circumstances, and that this control or government constitutes "the kingdom of God, and his righteousness," which, in order to obey Jesus, all Christians must seek, and seek to establish now, here "in earth, as it is in heaven."

The fact that everything we perceive, no matter how primary it may seem, is in reality an effect, hardly needs restatement. Just as definitely it is also known that every effect must emanate from a cause equal to its production. Therefore, potentially at least, the primary source or causation of all existence must include the ultimate possibilities to which its product can develop or attain; just as this year's fruit bud includes—in embryo at least—the flower, fruit, seed, and tree which are to come as its resultants. It means that the primary cause of all that really exists, must include the intelligence manifested by its highest product, the enlightened man, plus all his latent possibilities; that nothing short of an intelligent causation can produce an intelligent effect. The question arises then, What of such a causation? Could it be non-intelligent matter—a mist, a gas, an atom, a point of force, an electron, or some stuff more or less concrete than any or than all of these, or some admixture of non-intelligent stuff with some unknown non-intelligent, or even with an intelligent force? Or could an absolutely immaterial intelligent force ever have created one iota of non-intelligent stuff? There is no conceivable method whereby any of these things ever could have happened. Indeed it must be evident that an orderly, purposeful creation, such as we live in,—a creation including living, moving, thinking beings, the highest of which are women—must have preceded, and must continue to proceed from that alone which could bring it forth,—the one and only creator or Father of us all, Spirit, Mind, God.

God Both Father and Mother

Recognizing the great fact that "God created man in his own image,"—male and female created he them," and also that God is the all-compassionate, all-loving protector and provider of all; that "he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust" alike, Christian Science declares God to be not only our Father, but our Mother. If this be not only the world an idea of the tender relationship that exists between God and man, but also the highest concept of God that it is possible to have.

The Christ

Jesus knew God. We have seen that it was his knowledge of God which enabled him to do the healing and other mighty works of which his ministry consisted. We have also seen that, like Christian Science, he declared God to be Spirit, Mind. The only product of Mind is ideas, and, no matter what we may take a thing to be or what we may call it, everything must be in accordance with its true nature. We could not think any given thing to be anything whatever. Right ideas constitute Truth, and—right ideas being the product of Mind—Truth must be and is the anointed, the approved of God, "the only begotten" of the one "Father-Mother, God" (Science and Health, p. 16). Mind, Jesus said, "He shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," and so implicitly obedient to Truth was he, that in speaking of himself as the Christ, he was able to say, "I am . . . the truth," and "Before Abraham was, I am." What say we of Christ, then? What both Jesus and Christian Science teach us: He is the spiritual, the right idea of being. God's truth who is with us always; in whom there is no variability, neither shadow of turning, "the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever."

Science Must be Learned From Authentic Sources

No teachings except those of the Bible, upon which Christian Science is founded, can be said to be the same, or even parallel to Christian Science. Nor can Christian Science be rightly learned from any other textbook than the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, her other writings, and the authorized Christian Science literature. No one should be led to believe otherwise by the many psychological methods now being promulgated and represented as synonymous with Christian Science; nor should any one be led to believe that suggestion or autosuggestion in any guise has anything in common with it. All these methods are self-advocated products of the fleshly or carnal mind and depend for their results upon this so-called mind, which is "enmity against God" and cannot know God. ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

In our thirst for knowledge most of us are apt to seize upon the unimportant or non-essential. We admit the falling in our own case and hasten to say that it is only a matter of digging into an encyclopedia, consulting an attorney or a physician we would not pass the query along. We are compelled, however, to submit this problem to the readers of this column. Our worry for the week is this:

Ploughing through the exhaustive reports in the columns of our esteemed contemporary on the "merchants closing agreements for Patriots' Day," we read, "There are a few cities in this section where it has been voted to do business as usual on Saturday and to observe the holiday on Monday, April 21." Now then what we want to know is, what kind of a warm-over holiday will April 21 be and who will feel like celebrating next Monday all by themselves? In short, how are people going to do it? Talk about "daylight saving," here's a new one—"holiday saving."

The days of brush-fires are upon us. Time and time again the firemen will turn out for the purpose of preventing the spread of some vicious blaze that threatens to damage property. If the firemen still carry brooms with which to fight the fires in burning grass the manufacturers of brooms should rejoice. We don't know if brooms are now considered the best implements for we haven't seen a grass fire for some years. Our first observation was the almost daily battles the firemen had in Spring and Fall against the blazing grass on the railroad banks between Church and Adams streets. Several times, yes, many times, we have run from Nonantum Square to the box at the corner of Church and Jewett Streets and there found a pretty grass-fire in progress on land owned by the Boston & Albany. There used to be more spectacular features to fires in those days. At least it used to give us a thrill whenever we saw Steamer One, drawn by a handsome pair of horses, moving over the road, and those One, drawn by a beautiful big bay, not far behind. There was life in that picture—magnificent, noble horses doing their duty with all the power and muscle they possessed. There was "punch" and excitement! Today the automobile apparatus goes whizzing by before you know it and efficiency is the watchword. It all reflects the progress of the human race and to the credit of the firemen, but the glamour is gone. Harry Laess's famous play "The Still Alarm" would never have made the hit it did if the fire engine was not drawn by horses. Only recently, when revived for the "movies," they had to put horses in the film to get the old-time atmosphere. Thank goodness, we have no pyromaniac tendencies. If we had we wouldn't be tempted to plan a good incendiary half so quick with motor apparatus as when sure of seeing the horses gallop along the streets.

We do not approach the traffic problem in Nonantum Square from the viewpoint of an automobilist, a storekeeper or a policeman. Neither is our position that of historian, as some have hinted. Whatever approaching we do is with the greatest care, caution and coolness which we believe is the only state of mind in which to put oneself if one is a mere pedestrian. Thus we read of the proposition to establish one-way streets in the vicinity of the square with deepest interest. We may say that we would read every word published in that connection and regret that what has been printed has not been in extended form. Just how the proposed one-way system is to be accomplished is not clear to our vision. The first thing that occurs to us is the wheeze about the traffic cop who cautioned the fair driver of a car with "This is a one-way street, madam," and to which the lady indignantly replied, "Well, I'm only going one way." Somehow it is difficult to think of one-way streets without a mental picture of the complications that exist in the heart of Boston because of such regulations. Newton has 19 square miles of territory, which is some area. Suppose certain thoroughfares were designated one-way streets. How is the rule to be enforced? Certainly the traffic officer in Nonantum Sq. has plenty to do at present and cannot well leave his post. Can the city afford more policemen in the square? Isn't it a good idea to have policemen patrolling throughout the city instead of hanging around one spot waiting for some driver to violate a city ordinance? Would a watchtower on top of the Nonantum building answer the purpose if the watchful cop therein stationed had a megaphone or maybe a shotgun? Who is going to benefit from one-way streets and what will they accomplish? All we ask is enlightenment and ask it in all earnestness. We should like to have our questions answered before we find that somebody has come forward with a proposition to make one-way paths for the baby-carriages in Farlow Park.

These are certainly the days of specializing. A shoe store in Newton was entered by a thief who carefully examined the large stock of shoes and selected several pairs of a particular size, together with rubbers that fitted the shoes. We deplore the weakness of character that causes men to steal. And yet we cannot stifle a slight feeling of admiration for a crook who has the necessary courage (?) to patiently go over a stock of shoes and choose his favorites. It is not because we ourselves wear size 8, the size which the thief in question sought, that we speak so extensively of his daring. We would like to see him apprehended by the police. Not that we wish to see him languish behind the bars. Indeed, no! But we appreciate the opportunity to study his case. We would question him about his motives, something the way a psychiatrist would tackle a human problem. We would be patient and kindly because it might be proved he was not a thief at heart and that he confidently expects to send the shoe store proprietor a check for the shoes at the first opportunity. We think that our examination of the culprit might disclose that he had been trying to get a pair of shoes to fit him and finally became impatient. It may have been his belief that he could wait upon himself better than anybody else could. On the other hand he may have been carried away with this idea of self-service that seems to be getting hold of everybody. Guess, however, we'll have to charge the whole business up to "unsolved mysteries, volume 905."

Great stress has been laid upon the fact that the city fathers adopted the 1924 budget at a meeting which lasted little more than an hour. Emphasis is placed on the circumstance that at this extraordinarily brief session all was politeness and there was no sarcasm. Yet we are of the opinion, speaking mother-gossily, "If the meeting could have been longer the language might have been stronger."

We cannot but indorse the action of the Board of Aldermen in drafting a city ordinance requiring publicly-used taxicabs to be properly marked and their drivers to wear badges. We note that some owners say that such marks of identification will displease certain of their fastidious customers who threaten to shift their patronage to some other town. As if it wasn't hard enough to get a taxi in your home town to come to your house on time! Such a claim is bluff, in our opinion. As a matter of fact we cannot weep over the "troubles" these taxicab folks find themselves in, according to their own story. Whatever stern rebuke has come to them from City Hall they certainly brought upon themselves.

In accordance with the agreement of all people doing business in Newton we wish to announce that this column will be open (to suggestions and improvements) all-day Patriots' Day as well as Friday evening and every other day and night in the year, Sundays included.

SUMMER HALF-HOLIDAY

The Mercantile Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce held an interesting meeting recently when the questions of summer half-holidays, special arrangements to overcome as much as possible the disadvantage of Patriots' Day falling on the Saturday before Easter, and the possibility of bringing about the adoption of uniform evening closing hours, were given consideration. The meeting was well attended, while the mercantile membership of the Chamber had been partially canvassed in advance to secure a better idea of the general sentiment of the business men of the city.

The general report from all sources, and the expressions of opinions by the members of the committee, was to the effect that the summer half-holiday plan had worked out so successfully last summer when the stores closed generally on Wednesdays at 12 o'clock during July and August—that but little could be gained through making any change in the closing schedule for the coming summer. It is generally agreed that the half-holiday closing was more uniform—and the plan developed more effectively—last year than ever before. There were reported but a very few instances in which the merchants of the city were not willing to co-operate in giving a half-holiday to their clerks, and in securing one for themselves. It is believed that the plan can be developed even more effectively during the coming summer and that the business men of the city are on the verge of an effective solution to a problem that has troubled them for many years.

The fact that Patriots' Day, April 19, falls on a Saturday, and the Saturday before Easter, presents a troublesome problem to many merchants, who desire to observe the holiday but must also necessarily consider the demands and needs of their trade. After considering the matter from all viewpoints, it was the opinion that the situation could best be met through the observance of Saturday evening hours on the Friday evening before the holiday, April 18, and it was so voted.

This will not only apply to the stores of the city, but to the banks as well, including the several branches of the Newton Trust Company, the First National Bank, and the savings banks of the city. It is expected that this agreement will apply only to those stores and banks which are open regularly on Saturday evenings, the banks from 6.30 to 8 o'clock, and the stores until such time as they usually close on Saturday evenings, the time varying from 9 to 10 o'clock in accordance with the established custom of each store.

The general adoption of this plan—which seems assured—will unquestionably prove a great accommodation to the people of the city, who must necessarily do their Easter shopping a day earlier than usual, and supply their larger more generously than usual to provide for the holiday as well as the usual week-end.

In voting to observe the holiday as usual, the Newton Chamber has followed the precedent established by the Boston Retail Trade Board and the chambers of commerce of a majority of the larger cities of the state, including Worcester, Lowell, Salem, Brockton, Fall River, New Bedford, and most others. A few of the other chambers of commerce, chiefly in the smaller cities and towns, have voted to keep their stores open for business on the holiday, which is a legal holiday in this state, and in Maine.

The matter of seeking to work out a uniform evening-closing schedule for Newton stores was discussed at length, without definite action being taken except to recommend that the Chamber conduct a canvass of its mercantile membership during the next few weeks to ascertain the sentiment on this question and the best manner of working it out to the best interests of all concerned.

The Truth

About this Light-Six—plus proof on proof

THIS Studebaker Light-Six is the supreme value in the "thousand-dollar" class.

It offers, not a few, but scores of advantages. In its chassis it represents the best that modern engineering knows. In its steels and quality of construction it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

This is to offer you proofs. Then urge that you see it before paying $1,000 or more for a car.

Some evidence

The extra values which this car typifies have made Studebaker the largest builder of quality cars.

They have made these cars a sensation. Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The multiplying demand has forced an investment of $50,000,000 in model plants and equipment. Of this, $38,000,000 has been spent in the past five years, so the plants are up-to-date.

The engineering department which designs and superintends this Light-Six costs $500,000 per year.

The machines which build it are modern and exact. 517 operations on this car are exact to 1/1000th of an inch. 122 operations are exact to one-half 1/1000th of an inch.

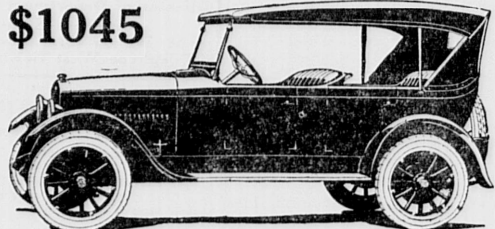

1,200 inspectors are employed to submit each car in the making to 32,000 inspections.

Infinite care

The steels are selected from 35 formulas, each one proved best by

Built by the leader in the fine-car class. One of the cars for which people last year paid $201,000,000.

Built in a model $50,000,000 plant, producing 150,000 cars yearly. And saving you by quantity production from $200 to $400.

Built of the same steels, with the same care, as the costliest cars we make.

The equipment is unusual. The cushions are of genuine leather, and are ten inches deep.

Every part and detail accords with Studebaker traditions. And the name Studebaker has for 72 years stood for quality and class.

years of test for its purpose. On some we pay the makers 15% premium to get them exactly right.

The crankshafts are machined on all surfaces, as was done in the Liberty Airplane Motors. This to give perfect motor balance, at an extra cost to us of $600,000 yearly.

It has more Timken bearings than any other competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

cars in this class called in auditors to compare the operating costs. They made comparisons on 329 cars, running up to 25,000 miles.

It was found that this Studebaker Light-Six cost for operation 11.4% less than the average of its rivals. This figure included depreciation. That meant $207.50 saved on 25,000 miles. All because of this quality construction.

What it saves you

We build 150,000 cars yearly. All such major costs as engineering, dies, overhead, etc., are divided by 150,000.

We build in model plants, with modern machinery, which have immensely reduced the manufacturing costs.

A car like this, built under ordinary conditions, would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

Learn, for your own sake, what that means to you.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance: It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free—clip the coupon below.

Easter promise, will be presented in the church auditorium at 7:30 in the evening by a group of members of the Church School assisted by many other friends. The Junior and Young People's Chorus will sing.
The pageant is an allegorical narrative, telling of the conversion of the Questioner, a man who has no use for religion and no interest but the pursuit of pleasure. Joy, Sorrow, Faith, Nature, Death and many other symbolic personages appear and speak with him, and through them and his experiences in the courtyard of Ye In Called Life, where the scene is laid, he learns the teachings of the Church and its Easter message. The Easter promise is thus reassured most effectively in an entirely novel way.

EDITORIAL

We are glad to note that Governor Cox has taken steps looking to a solution of the dangers of automobile traffic on our highways. It is just such loose statements as that recently made by Judge Bruce of the Malden court that encourages lawlessness and hinders the proper administration of justice. When our judges appreciate the fact that a license to operate a juggernaut on our public highways is not a "right" but only a "privilege" we will have taken a step in the right direction. Incidentally, in view of the action of several district court judges, we venture to suggest that the life tenure to that class of officials be restricted, and they should be required to come up for reappointment every few years.

One feature of the budget for this year deserves special consideration. The item for street sprinkling has been merged into the general street maintenance, and the usual street sprinkling tax of 4 cents a running foot of frontage has been abandoned. We recognize the argument that street sprinkling, or dust laying, as it ought to be termed, has become part of the street maintenance, as it is not only a dust layer, but a preservative as well. The Street Department has done this work on some streets where assessments were levied, and similar work on other streets, where assessments have not been levied. But at the same time we believe that while the householder may save the special sprinkling tax by the new method, it should be borne in mind that the general tax levy must include the $50,000 or more expense and the final cost will probably be much larger than the special assessment. In addition we fear that now the assessment has ceased the demand for dust laying preservative will spread so that all the streets in the city will be given the treatment at a greatly increased expense for this particular part of the work.

The proposed traffic regulations which are promised for next week, are none too soon for the serious congestion already existing in the vicinity of Nonantum Square. Patrons of the theatres in this vicinity park their cars all around the business section of that district regardless of the rights and convenience of the business men and their customers and cut down the travelled areas fully one third for persons driving through the city. A time limit should be placed in this part of the city and vigorously enforced.

Representative Early of this city deserves the thanks of all our thoughtful citizens in his good work in effecting a settlement of the agitation which has been in progress the past four years over the handling of prisoners by the counties and state.

Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM

The annual gymnastic exhibition held last Thursday night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium proved very successful. Over a hundred men and boys participated in the various features. The marching, drills, and novelty races by the junior classes were very interesting.

Mr. Frederick D. Fuller, President of the Newton Y. M. C. A. presented athletic certificates to the following boys of the Junior A class for passing an all-round athletic test: Henry Farrell, Howard Johnson, Edwin Wickes, Walter Pierce, Gerald Coe, Harry Ward, Robert Bonner, Paul Ross, Charles Dolber, Robert Johnson, Jefferson Farmer, and Wm. Woodruff.

Letters were also awarded to members of the Junior A and B classes who were on the winning teams in the all-round competition during the winter season. Captain Ray Pierpont's team won the Junior A honors, while Captain Charles Smith's team won the Junior B championship.

The lighted torches swung by Joe Santillo was a very well received specialty. The clowns were Stanley Kimball, Richard Carr, Wm. Alexander, George Marsh, and Clyde Hess. Mr. Hess had charge of the clowns and their several comedy acts furnished much amusement to the on-lookers and proved a pleasing feature.

The Boston "Y" Gym Team gave an excellent performance on the high and parallel bars. The pyramid work by members of the senior class was another very attractive feature. Eight pyramids were formed on the gym horse by the following members—Donald Cunningham, Leo Frazier, Walter Connor, Robert Arnold, Earl Wallace, Henry Vachon, Joe Arsenault, Ray Van Buskirk, Carling and Carling.

The American Farmer dance in costume, the closing number, was also a very interesting attraction and the following senior members performed in true farmer style: Hugh Boyd, Cameron Rae, Henry Vuilleumier, Edgar Livingston, Leo Frazier, Donald Cunningham, David Clarke, and Ray Van Buskirk.

Alfred Hanson's orchestra furnished several pleasing numbers before the show which was an added feature to the affair.

Miss Florence Walsh, who for the past seven years has been playing for the gymnasium classes at the Y. M. C. A., presided at the piano in her usual excellent style throughout the entire performance. A large audience was present and a good time was enjoyed by all.

SUNRISE SERVICE

The Annual Sunrise Service of the Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Waverley Oaks, Waverley, at 7:30 on Easter morning.

There will be singing of hymns and short addresses by prominent speakers. All Endeavorers are urged to attend this inspirational gathering.

NEWTON LOSES

The high school baseball team was badly beaten yesterday on Clafin Field by Boston Latin, the final score being 7 to 3.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The most important event of the week was the passage by the House on Wednesday of the compromise bill on the matter of examination and classification of prisoners. As noted last week, this had been brought about largely through the good work of Representative Early of this city, and his statement, (which is printed in full this week) was considered so important that the House ordered it printed as a public document. The House further complimented Mr. Early by suspending all rules and passing the bill through all its legislative stages in one session.

Mr. Early's statement was as follows:

There are on today's calendar five different matters from your committee on State Administration; all of them concerning the same subject. They result from the reference to that committee of three bills; that is, of the initiative petition of Elie S. Atwill and others, the petition of Joseph Lee, and the petition of County Commissioner Richardson. The petitions of Elie S. Atwill and of Joseph Lee have asked for legislation to accomplish the classification of prisoners. The petition of County Commissioner Richardson asked for legislation to prevent the transfer of any prisoner from a county jail or house of correction unless the consent of the sheriff had been first obtained. Your committee has recommended that the petition of County Commissioner Richardson and the petition of Joseph Lee be given leave to withdraw. Upon the initiative petition of Elie S. Atwill your committee has reported in part a bill providing for the psychiatric examination of prisoners, in part a resolution which is precisely the same as the one which is now before the House, and which is the initiative petition that the initiative bill in its original form ought not to pass. The bill contains signatures. If the initiative petition will, according to its terms, take effect on September 1, 1924, provided the initiative petition is not completed by the filing of five thousand additional signatures. If the initiative petition is completed, then the bill will not go into effect. The resolution has been prepared in accordance with the Constitution to go upon the ballot together with the initiative measure as a legislative substitute for that petition. The measure which is now before the House is placed upon the ballot by the filing of five thousand additional signatures. In the event that the initiative petition is not completed by the filing of five thousand additional signatures, the resolution will, of course, not go upon the ballot. Your committee has thus provided that the measure which is here before you today in two forms—that is, in the form of a bill and also of a resolution, shall become law if the initiative petition is not completed, and that it shall have every opportunity of becoming law if the initiative petition is completed, by going upon the ballot as a legislative substitute for the initiative measure.

The measure which is thus embodied in the bill and the resolution has been arrived at as a result of a happy compromise between, on the one hand, the Civic League and the many affiliated bodies who have sponsored the initiative petition and the petition of compromise between, on the one hand, the Association of County Commissioners and sheriffs which has sponsored the petition of County Commissioner Richardson and has opposed the petitions of Elie S. Atwill and of Joseph Lee. Of course, all members of this house are familiar with the long and at times bitter fight which has been waged around the classification of prisoners, and which has made it for several years the hottest legislative battle that has been waged here at the State House. It gives me great pleasure to inform you, Mr. Speaker, that as a result of the efforts of your committee on State Administration, and also as a result of the conciliatory spirit that has been displayed by counsel for the Civic League and its affiliated bodies on the one hand, and the Association of County Commissioners and Sheriffs on the other hand, this bitter controversy has at last been settled. The terms of the settlement are embodied in the bill and resolution, which have already passed the Senate and which are today upon the calendar here.

The terms of the compromise are relatively simple. The bill and resolution alike provide that all prisoners who are sentenced to jail or house of correction for the second time, and also all prisoners sentenced for a period of over thirty days, except prisoners sentenced for non-payment of fine, shall be given a psychiatric examination by a psychiatrist, to be appointed by the Department of Mental Diseases and paid by the Commonwealth. The bill and resolution further provide for a penalty of fifty dollars upon any sheriff or keeper of the House of Correction who fails to cause the examination to be made. This measure provides a very simple and a very happy solution of the long battle between the two sides of the classification of prisoners question.

It has been said that the bill and resolution do not provide for the object sought by the petition that is for the classification of prisoners. Mr. Speaker, no such provision is necessary. The present law provides for classification of prisoners. Sections 37-12 of Chapter 127 of the General Laws deal fully with the question of transfer of prisoners. Two of the sections permit the Commissioner of Correction to transfer any prisoners whom he sees fit from a jail or House of Correction to a State Institution, and section 117 of that chapter permits him to place any prisoner in a hospital. Furthermore, sections 20 and 21 of that same chapter give the Commissioner full power for "grading and classifying" prisoners. So much of the initiative petition as provided for the classification of prisoners was superfluous. This present bill and resolution provide for giving the Commissioner of Correction full information in every respect concerning every prisoner who is sentenced to a jail or House of Correction for a sufficiently long time to permit the making of any real examination. In accordance with his power of transfer and classification which already exists, he can then proceed to classify prisoners in such a manner as to provide for their treatment in accordance with the most advanced ideas.

The compromise bill and resolution are in the opinion of your committee very much better legislation than the initiative petition or the petition of Joseph Lee. They are better legislation also in a respect which hardly can be overlooked. The examinations made in accordance with this compromise will cost many of thousands of dollars less per year than would the examinations which were provided by the initiative petition, by eliminating the examination of prisoners sentenced for less than thirty days, and of prisoners sentenced for non-payment of fine. The compromise measure eliminates chiefly persons whom it would have been useless to examine and furthermore, persons who would have been sentenced for so short a time that a thorough examination during the term would have been impossible. The compromise measure will, of course, involve the spending of a considerable sum. However, it should return to the Commonwealth many times that sum in savings made within the next few years through the identification and classification of those persons of the criminal class, who are sure to be repeated offenders because of their mental condition. The amount saved from avoiding the necessity of arresting and trying over and over again these offenders should amount in the long run to considerably more than the cost of the examinations provided for by the compromise measure. We must realize also that very much greater sums will be saved through the saving of the damage done to the community by having these individuals repeatedly at large and doing continual damage to our citizens.

The chief advantage of this compromise, however, lies in the fact that it represents an agreement between the Civic League and its associated bodies and the Association of County Commissioners and Sheriffs. These two groups of organizations have been fighting on opposite sides of this question for several years. Now, at last, they have joined hands and are ready to go forward together. All the energy which they have spent in fighting each other can now be turned toward improving the handling of our prisoners. The adoption of this measure by the General Court should mark the greatest step forward that has been taken in the intelligent handling of our prison problems. I feel sure, Mr. Speaker, that the bill and resolution will be adopted by an overwhelming vote; I even dare to hope that the vote may be unanimous.

On Wednesday, the House allowed sentiment to sway its action and passed a bill to require the shops for the blind at Cambridge to be reopened and its former employees given work. This was done over the recommendation of the Ways and Means committee that the whole matter of employment for the blind should be studied and a permanent method of relief adopted. The House, however, largely through the desire to show its resentment over the closing of the shops last summer by the commission on administration and finance, turned down the Ways and Means committee and substituted the bill above mentioned.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

At a very successful dancing party Wednesday afternoon, April 16, for the benefit of athletic equipment, the following men were awarded a minor "N." These letters were earned on the basketball team, the first one in our school history: Edward Ebelhara, Captain, William Batstone, Fred Becker, Harold Lodge, Captain elect for next year, Lloyd Osborne.

Fred O'Sullivan, although he did not play in the required number of games to win the letter, was awarded one by Coach Simmons and his consistent paying and trying when called upon to play. Oscar Margolin received honorable mention for his loyalty to the squad, and regular attendance.

The following men have earned the right to wear a minor "N" which they have earned on the hockey team: James Brown, Captain elect, William Adams, Robert Bennett, Ralph Carey, Roland Coombs, Philip Andres, Joseph Gilligan, George Hicks, Herbert Holbrook, Donald MacIntyre, Gordon Paul, Wilbur Trussell, Maynard Whitaker, Richard Zoller.

wrong with him. They should get enough to enable them to get an education by themselves in after years, and thousands have left school without getting it.

The aim of elementary education, he said, is to open the mind of the child and let the world in, to draw out all worthy interests and to exercise worthy powers in its social and physical environment. Every individual should know how to appreciate beauty, should learn how to live and how to make a living, that he may be a useful, progressive member of society.

Dr. Hannus believes thoroughly in the junior high school idea, that the three grades, seven, eight, and nine, the beginning of the adolescent period, should be segregated. The traditional high school course of Latin, Greek and mathematics came in for a similar criticism to that given the three R's. These years are too precious to be unprofitably spent. The aim of secondary education should be to reveal the discovery of the pupil—to reveal himself to himself, and to attain culture, which he defined as the capacity to understand and appreciate the resources and problems of our civilization, and the power to deal efficiently with some of them. It should aim at citizenship, and at vocational efficiency. A man must not only be good, he must be good for something. He should attain this through training prior to leaving the secondary school, or later, if possible.

luded humorously to the time he met him at the station, when, seeing a man with a western hat come in, he said to himself that it was either William Jennings Bryant or the new pastor. He paid warm tribute to the spiritual uplift that Mr. Lichtner had given the church. Dr. Gorham W. Harris said that it was a sad occasion to him, and he could not reconcile himself to the thought of the pastor's departure, but joined in giving his heartiest good wishes. Mr. Ernest F. Miller spoke of the very agreeable relations that had prevailed between the board of deacons and the pastor.

Mr. Austin H. Decatur spoke humorously of the experiences of Central church in losing its ministers as they approached the height of their power, and added his hearty appreciation. Mr. Nagle spoke of his intimate relations with the departing pastor in fraternal and church life.

Mr. Lichtner was then called upon, and he reviewed some phases of his association with the church. He had been often asked as to why he was leaving, and it was not that he cared any more for the west. He had become very deeply attached to New England, he appreciated its loyalty, and had thoroughly enjoyed living here. It was his hope to find some summer home along the New England shore to which he could return each season and renew his ties in this neighborhood. But it seemed to him that the center of the coming struggle in this country was to be in the Mississippi valley. There is the center of unrest, with a new agrarian problem coming to the front. He would like to be in a neighborhood where thousands of young people are coming into the colleges of that section, where he could have a chance to meet them. He felt that there was the center of the battle, and he wanted to be in it.

He described the conditions in his new pastorate. The church is located in the center of the city, and it was a very interesting undertaking to him to maintain and carry on its life, and particularly to make the effort to reach the students of the great university close by. He had the feeling that the man who would make the deepest impression in the ministry in the future would be one who should emphasize the pastoral side of the work, and he regretted that on account of his extended engagements as a speaker and lecturer he had not been able to do more of that here. He expressed very warm appreciation of the freedom that had been given him to preach the things that he felt to be the truth. His address was received with prolonged applause.

The annual meeting of the club was held and these officers chosen: President, Gorham W. Harris; vice-presidents, Mr. Arthur LeBaron, Mr. John Morgan; treasurer, Mr. Harold Lounsbury; secretary, Dr. Percy G. Stiles; executive committee, Mr. George Rachel, Mr. Arthur Burdick, Dr. Harold Shedd, Mr. J. H. Bushway.

NEWTON LEGION RAID

With the close of the membership "raid" of Newton Post 48, American Legion, but a few days' distant, plans have been completed for a grand finale on Saturday. Already over 200 new members have been enrolled in the Post, and a final effort will be made on Saturday to substantially increase this number.

On Saturday a "patrol" will be established at various points along the route of the B. A. A. marathon course. This "patrol" which will be divided into smaller sections, will enroll all eligible service men who seek to join the Legion.

During the two weeks of the "raid" every effort has been made to place the question of joining the Legion personally before every eligible man and woman in the city, but it is possible that some have been overlooked. Members of the "raid" committee wish it understood that no one has been overlooked whose address was available.

With Memorial Day a little over a month away the Legion wants every man and woman, eligible for membership, to join now so that they may assist in the work of decorating graves and paying other honors to departed members.

Commander Thomas A. Franey of Auburndale will gladly receive all applications for membership, or give out information to those desiring it in relation to other matters.

Service

The Service of a modern funeral director is founded on a large fund of new scientific knowledge. It is backed up with facilities that provide for every possible requirement.

We have made this question of Service a life study. In your time of need we understand just what to do in the way that makes the last tribute a comforting memory. Our well equipped establishment at Newtonville with our corps of especially trained assistants make it possible for us to give this Service.

Your curtains tell the world

Your curtains are the only part of your house furnishings that most of the world ever sees. If they're fresh and clean, hang straight and true, they tell passers-by a lot about your housekeeping and your home.

Let us help you put up a "good front". We wash your finest curtains gently and carefully and our wonderful Curtain Dryer finishes them exactly to measure, without hooks or pins. We give them a crispness and smoothness, an evenness of "hang" that it is impossible to get by home laundering methods.

Try a pair and see.

20% Reduction

this Month on CURTAINS and BLANKETS from Prevailing laundry prices. Reduced prices are 40 cents a pair for Plain Muslin—80 cents for lace, and upwards.

Our price on Curtains and Blankets for this month is 20% less than any other Laundry in Greater Boston.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

Greetings from the California Local Biennial Board are at hand. "Like good hostesses," it runs, "we have been setting our house in order, and we hope that our arrangements will be so complete as to enable all the members of our great Federation to make the most of the important program which is to be presented." All the morning meetings, the afternoon conferences and the evening meetings of each and every department will be held in the same auditorium. "In the interest of the program," it continues, "we have denied ourselves the pleasure of offering the many social courtesies which our inclination suggests. Our hospitality is limited, but our welcome will be warm and sincere, and this welcome comes, not from Los Angeles alone—it comes from California."

California hospitality is to be extended in the form of nearly two hundred brilliant entertainments extending over the ten days of the convention. Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, chairman of Luncheons, has arranged for nearly thirty noontime feasts, beginning with June 3, when one thousand California club women, the hostesses of the Biennial, will lunch together at the Biltmore. Each day will be marked by one to four midday assemblies around tables in hotels or clubs. Two luncheons of one thousand each, one for eight hundred, one for six hundred, and one for five hundred have been contracted for, and all the details down to the color schemes and speakers have been worked out. The luncheons include the following: June 4, for Pioneer Workers; June 5, for Department of Legislation, Division of Civil Service, and Department of Press and Publicity; June 6, three luncheons for the Department of Applied Education; June 9, luncheon for outgoing and incoming State Directors; June 10, luncheon for Department of Public Welfare; June 11, three Luncheons for Department of Fine Arts; June 12, luncheon for Department of American Citizenship; June 13, luncheon for Department of International Relations. The reception at the Biltmore, at which thousands will be entertained, will have a setting of extraordinary beauty and charm. The new hotel offers a picturesque background and is adapted to accommodate an immense throng without crowding. In addition to all the other opportunities for delegates and visiting club women to become acquainted, Sunday afternoon, June 8, from two to four P. M., California women will be hostesses in thirty hotels at tea.

State Federation

Monday, April 21, 2.30 P. M. Music conference at Grace Horne's studio, Boston. Every chairman is invited to bring one interested member. Club musical problems will be discussed.

Wednesday, April 23, 9 A. M. Meeting of Biennial delegates at 555 Boylston street, Boston.

Annual Meeting

Reservations at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, for the annual meeting have all been taken, but the management is planning to place late applicants in local homes.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole, president, announced that her farewell address will be made on the first day of the convention, May 14.

Boston Women's Civic Club

Wednesday, April 23, 12.30 P. M. Annual meeting and luncheon at Hotel Brunswick. As this is the one playtime of the club, there will be a special musical program and special features by members. Mrs. Grace M. Poole, president of the State Federation, Mrs. A. R. Shepherd, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eva Whiting White, president of the Boston City Federation, will be honored guests, and there will also be greetings from the Newton Federation, there being many Newton members active in the club.

Newton Federation

Monday, April 21, 10.15 A. M. Regular meeting of the Executive Board at the Newton Club, Newtonville.

Local Announcements

Miss Mary E. Hyde will be in charge of the work at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. next Monday afternoon, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, 4 Chester street. The subject will be, "Portulaca Wilde, The Craftsmanship of the One-Act Play."

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and their friends are looking forward to the next meeting on Monday evening, April 21, when William N. Craig, a member and former president of many state and national Horticultural Societies, will give a stereoscopic lecture on "Horticultural Hints for Garden Lovers." "Hubby," come and get some new ideas for that back-yard garden you are about to plant.

The annual business meeting of the Waban Woman's Club will be held on Monday, April 21st, at 2.30, in the Union Church. The reports of the year's work will be read and the following ballot for new officers voted upon. President, Mrs. Walter Hosley; first vice-president, Mrs. Philip Warren; second vice-president, Mrs. Hector Holmes; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Thomas Taylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Barnard Root, Jr. and new director, Mrs. Benjamin Codman. Preceding the business meeting, there will be a luncheon at 12.45 o'clock in charge of Mrs. James A. Hewins, assisted by Mrs. A. L. Stephen and Mrs. Bruce Wyman. Mrs. Stanley Newton is chairman of the decorations and Mrs. Garfield Charlton of the tickets. There will be a group of songs by Mrs. Ezra L. Bushnell, a member. The Civic committee has arranged for a lecture by Mrs. Martha Helen Elliot, to be given on Thursday, April 24th, at 3 o'clock, in the Waban Free Library. Her subject will be "The History and Importance of the Presidential Primary." Every one is invited. Every woman is urged to avail herself of the opportunity to become a registered voter by going to the City Hall at West Newton, on April 21st, between 8.30 and 5.00.

The tenth birthday of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club is to be celebrated Tuesday, April 22, in the Club House. Luncheon will be served at 12.15, and the business meeting will be held at 2.30 as usual. The polls for the election of officers will be open from 11 A. M. to 2.45 P. M. Members only are invited. Come and help celebrate and have a good time.

A buffet lunch prepared by the Home Economics committee at 12.30 P. M., will precede the eighth annual business meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, on April 22, when the yearly reports will be received and the election of officers will take place. A half-hour program, consisting of songs by Mrs. Harry Forte and the reading of "The Twelve Pound Look" by Mrs. John S. Gove, will follow the business meeting. The Treasurer will receive annual dues at this meeting and checks should be made payable to Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. The ballot sent out for the season 1924-25 is as follows:

President, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler; first vice-president, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson; second vice-president, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson; recording secretary, Mrs. Joseph C. Allen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry R. Lamphere; treasurer, Mrs. Harlan J. Maynard; auditor, Miss Alberta J. Crombie; directors for one year, Mrs. W. P. Collins, Mrs. J. C. S. Taber; directors for two years, Mrs. Frank R. Patterson, Mrs. Curtis C. Chipman. On Friday, April 25, a group of the members will join in a bird and nature walk. On Saturday, Arbor Day, the Community Christmas Tree will be dedicated. April 28 is the date for the swimming class. On April 30, with an alternate date of May 14, the Public Health department has arranged for a final jollification on Penobscot Hill when games and stunts will be the order of the day.

The last program meeting of the year of the Newton Social Science Club will be held on Wednesday, April 23, at 10 o'clock, when Dr. E. M. East, of Harvard University, will speak on "Race Problems." Guests may be invited.

On Thursday, April 24, at 2.30 P. M. the Newton Community Club will hold its annual meeting. In addition to the reports and election of officers there will be music and a tea.

The final exhibition in the Art Gallery of the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, arranged by the Art committee of the club, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, chairman, will be shown on Thursday afternoon, April 24, the day of the regular business meeting. This comprises pastels by Edith Scott, instructor of art in Farmington, Conn., and by Arthur Spoor, children's portraits by Eleanor Revere Weeden, drawings by Marion Powers Kirkpatrick, sculpture by Richard H. Rechia, secretary of the Boston Society of Sculptors, and by Mellie Louise Thompson. The class in outdoor sketching will meet one morning a week beginning in May for six weeks under the leadership of Mrs. William Paxton. Easter Monday, April 21, there will be another dance under the auspices of the Activities committee with favor dances and a good orchestra. The Children's Carnival will take place on Wednesday, April 23rd, at 2 P. M. There will be a fairy play and music by local children, followed by general dancing, refreshments, and surprises for the young people. Mrs. Phil M. Riley is in charge.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its annual meeting and luncheon on Friday, April 25th, at the Masonic Club, 449 Beacon street, Boston. Luncheon will be served at 12.30, after which a short musical program will be given, and the business meeting with election of officers will follow. Mrs. Frederick E. Waring is in charge of the arrangements.

The Newton Grade Teachers' Club is putting on "Nothing but the Truth at Players' Hall, West Newton, on May 13, at 8 P. M.

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, April 11th, Miss Ruth H. Stevens, director of the Mayor of the Massachusetts Council of Girl Scouts, gave an interesting talk on the Girl Scout Movement, telling how it has grown from its beginning in Savannah in 1912 till every state in the Union has at least one troop, and it is now a national organization. It supplements the work of the home, of the school, and of the church, she said, and she made a strong plea for its support. Miss Caroline Freeman, captain of the West Newton Troop, also spoke of the growth of the movement in Newton, starting with the Newtonville troop in 1917, till now every village in the city, except Lower Falls, has a troop, and the number of girl scouts in Newton is over 400. Miss Freeman's troop gave an excellent demonstration of their work, the Bugle and Drum Corps furnished music, and Miss Marion Maxim rendered several bugle solos. At the close of the program, Mrs. McDonald, the president, thanked the girls for their creditable performance, and on behalf of the club presented the troop with an American flag and standard. Refreshments were served by the Hospitality committee, under the direction of Mrs. Angell.

Mrs. H. E. Child, president of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, has the pleasure of obtaining and presenting to Mr. Frederick Hodges, Emerson School, to the 300 pupils of the upper grades in attendance, a stereoscopic lecture on the "Preservation of the New England Wild Flowers." It was thru the courtesy of the society of this name, located in Horticultural Hall, Boston, that these beautiful colored slides, 54 in number, were obtainable.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending April 12: Patients in hospital 119, paying patients 63, part paying patients 32, free patients (including babies) 24, patients treated by out patient department 133, accident cases 8, babies born 9, social service calls at hospital 19, patients transported by social service car 12, by volunteer car 3.

This week the superintendent was happily surprised by a gift of $200 by the Hospital Aid Association, to be used for the purchase of bath rugs, hot dish covers and needed useful utensils.

May 12 is hospital day throughout the country. On that day Newton people should plan to visit the Newton Hospital and gain for themselves a first hand idea of what the hospital is, and something of the work it is doing.

The executive committee has voted to add a fourth truck line to the three telephone lines that now connect the hospital with the outside world. With four trunk lines it is hoped to be able to give quicker and better service than is possible now.

At the April 14th meeting at the hospital of the Newton Medical Club, Dr. Robert B. Greenough, surgeon in chief at Collis P. Huntington Cancer Research Hospital, and visiting surgeon at the Massachusetts General Hospital, spoke on the Cancer Problem.

Students from the Boston School of Physical Education attend the orthopedic clinic at the hospital three times a week for practice in corrective work and at the same time, by their help, make it possible for the hospital to care for from forty to sixty patients at each one of the clinics. The superintendent of the hospital recently attended a most interesting exhibition in the school's own building of the work that its pupils are doing.

The doctors of the Newton Medical Club are adopting as their automobile emblem the caduceus which has been adopted by the Massachusetts Medical Society as their official emblem, in place of the green cross, the use of which has been abused by those having no right to use it. The caduceus, the fabled wand of Mercury, is generally represented as a staff surmounted by wings and with two serpents twisted about it in opposite directions, their heads confronting one another. As adopted by the doctors, the wand appears in the middle of a red background on a plate with a gilt edge.

MARGARET SLATTERY TO SPEAK

The Norumbega District Sunday School Association will hold its annual supper and convention on Monday evening, April 28, in the Waltham Immanuel Methodist Church. The supper will be at 6.30 A. M. The special feature of this occasion will be an address by Margaret Slattery, probably the best known woman speaker in America.

The first Commencement exercises of the Norumbega District Sunday School of Religious Education will precede Miss Slattery's address. The school has just closed its third successful year. The total enrollment at the school for both terms of the past year has been 172, about half of this number being members who had previously attended, and half being new persons enrolled this year for the first time.

Eight persons are now ready to graduate, having completed the full three-year course and obtained credits in all the courses they have taken. These graduates are Mrs. R. H. Bird, Miss Celia E. Bowie, Miss Emily F. Miller, Mrs. Fred W. Peakes, Miss Patricia S. Richardson, Miss Lizette Smyth, Miss Sarah A. Wall, and Miss Lulu M. Whitney. They have organized into an alumnae class, with Miss Richardson as president, Miss Smyth as secretary-treasurer, and have selected Mrs. Peakes as the member of the class who shall respond with a short talk at the Convention, after the presentation of diplomas.

D. A. R.

On Monday afternoon, the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., held its April meeting in the Ladies' parlor of the Unitarian church, West Newton. The recent, Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, presided and after the short business meeting spoke briefly of the State conference held in Worcester. She then introduced Mrs. William Lee Y. Field, who gave an interesting talk on the Evolution of Flags from the time of the Crusaders. She further explained the correct use and the etiquette of the flag. Mrs. David E. Baker then read a paper, "A Brief History of the Woodward Homestead in Waban, One of the Oldest Houses in the United States," which was written by Mrs. Frederick Woodward. In 1681 John Woodward came into possession of this homestead and in which seven generations of Woodwards have since been born. The old house is most interesting. In one of the living rooms the floor is made of hand-hewn boards seventeen inches wide and in another there is a fireplace large enough to take a cordwood log and there is a quaint stairway of panelling and there are hand-hewn rafters. There is also the family collection of old pewter, beautiful old china and numerous pieces of rare furniture. The thick walls of masonry have been standing for two hundred and thirty-eight years and are still in good condition. After the meeting adjourned the guests enjoyed a social hour in the pleasant rooms which were bright with spring flowers. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss Olive Webster, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Mrs. H. L. Whittlesey, and Mrs. L. F. Bachrach.

The annual meeting of the club will be held Saturday evening, April 26th.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of the Newton Graphic, published weekly at Boston, Mass., for April 1, 1924.

State of Massachusetts, County of Middlesex, ss.

I, Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared John C. Brimblecom, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Newton Graphic and that the following is to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in Section 445, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

John C. Brimblecom, Newton, Mass.

2. That the owner is: (If the publication is owned by an individual his name and address, or if owned by more than one individual the name and address of each, should be given below; if the publication is owned by a corporation the name and address of the corporation and the names and addresses of the stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of the total amount of stock should be given.) Newton Graphic Publishing Company with these stockholders, John C. Brimblecom, Lillie F. Brimblecom, Newton, Mass., Alliston, Burr, Chestnut, Hill, Mass.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are (if there are none, so state). There is none such.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company under a name or name or names other than his own, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; and that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which the stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, own or hold their stock or securities, in whole or in part, as bona fide owners; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated on this form.

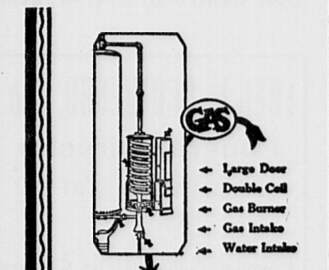

JOHN C. BRIMBLECOM.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of April, 1924.

G. L. WHITE,

Notary Public.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR CLOSED

Channing Alliance closed its year's work with the annual meeting on April 8. At the morning session Miss Maud B. Henry, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, who is in England. The committee reports were full of interest, and revealed a large amount of work accomplished. Something over $1,000 have been expended for home and outside needs. Through the Post Office Mission committee Unitarian literature has found its way to various parts of the country. Children in hospitals and children at the School for Feeble Minded have been made happy by scrap books and by post cards, lonely women in far-off homes have been cheered by reading matter, by patchwork pieces and the like, through the work of the Cheerful Letter committee under the direction of Mrs. Oliver M. Fisher. The Children's Mission and the local hospitals have received beautifully made garments from the Sewing Circle, and many things have been made smoother through the kindly offices of the different committees.

Next year the meetings of the Alliance will fall on the fourth Tuesdays, and the Sewing Circle on the second. The funds will be raised by the group system, the membership being divided into ten groups, each of which is to be responsible for raising a definite sum. A committee was authorized to have charge of redecorating the parlor. Miss Elizabeth Rees reported the work of the Junior Alliance, and Marion Nelson for the Lent-A-Hand Club. Miss Edith Fisher's report from Channing Guild was read by the secretary.

A dainty and very delicious luncheon was served by the committee in charge with Mrs. Ralph W. Angier as chairman. In the afternoon the Alliance choir sang several selections, which were greatly enjoyed, and Rev. Chester A. Drummond read impressive short plays, "Dust of the Road" by Kenneth Goodman, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Francois Coppee. A cable of greeting from Mrs. Palmer was received during the meeting.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. Edward M. Moore; vice-presidents, Mrs. Philip Nichols, Mrs. Robert G. Howard, Mrs. Daniel Pratt; recording secretary, Miss Marjorie S. Ball; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gilbert R. Griffin; treasurer, Mrs. Harry N. Milliken; auditor, Mrs. Ralph W. Angier; director for three years, Mrs. Thomas Temple.

NEWTON COMMUNITY CLUB

Mr. Charles Crawford Gorst entertained an attentive audience of members and their children Thursday, April 10, with his wonderfully beautiful reproductions of bird songs and hints of their habits and of their place in the economic life of the world. After two whistling solos he proposed a new version of an old proverb, "A bird in the bush is worth two in the hand," illustrating it by giving startling figures as to the number of noxious insects which they devour. A scarlet tanager, for example, was observed to consume 630 gypsy moth caterpillars in 18 minutes. A bird is made up of four things, he said, beautiful song, beautiful feathers, interesting ways, and useful ways. If you shoot it, he told the boys present, you can't get the bird, for you have nothing left but bloody feathers. After impersonating most of our common birds in so realistic a manner as to make one think the little creature itself was singing, and one could readily believe his having fooled even the birds themselves, Mr. Gorst took his bearings to a deep wood by a beautiful brook in the northern mountains, and gave them the even song of a choir of hermit thrushes.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY LITERARY ASSOCIATION

The John Boyle O'Reilly Literary Association held one of its largest and most enthusiastic meeting last week, Wednesday, and entertained visitors from Boston, Waltham, Watertown, and all sections of Newton. The meeting was held for the purpose of commemorating the Easter Week struggle in Ireland in 1916, and the glorious results of that sacrifice which cost Ireland some of her best blood.

M. J. Cuniff of Watertown gave a history of the Association and the good work done by the Clan Na Gael to aid Ireland in her struggle for freedom. Mr. Cuniff brought the assembly to its feet when he closed by saying that although the object of this order was to help the Irish Cause, still it demanded one hundred per cent Americanism, and loyalty to the United States from its members.

Other speakers were J. D. Monahan who told of the work done by the Clan Na Gael to drive from the schools all histories that made an attempt to misrepresent the story of America's fight for independence and called for renewed efforts to maintain the ideals of Washington and Jefferson.

Remarks were also made by R. H. Lyons, J. J. Herlihy, J. Flemming and John Kane. During the exercises it was announced that the first president of the club, E. J. Burke of Newton, was confined to his home with a severe cold and a committee consisting of the officers and M. J. Cuniff were instructed to convey to Mr. Burke the sympathy of the Club.

As the result of the energetic work of President O'Connell the club has more than doubled its membership.

WHIST PARTIES

On Wednesday evening, April 9th, the fourth of a series of five whist parties was held in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton. The attendance was the largest of any of these parties held thus far, showing that they are gaining in popularity and that the committee's selection of prizes is being appreciated. Twenty-one tables played and an unusual congenial atmosphere was noticeable. Mrs. Joseph Seaver won high ladies' prize, Mrs. M. L. Sweet, second, and Mrs. D. M. Chandler the Ladies' Booby. The gentlemen's 1st prize was won by Mr. James Colligan, who just closed out that splendid player Mr. N. Forte who carried off second honors. The Gentlemen's Booby was taken by Mr. A. H. Moyer. The Grand Prize was on display and many favorable comments were made about the picture. The Grand Prize is a large copy of Parrish's latest entitled "Daybreak." Those familiar with the gorgeous coloring of this artist's work will realize that the picture is worth a place on the wall of an home.

The next and last Whist of the series will be held in Odd Fellows hall on Wednesday, Apr. 23, at eight o'clock. The regular prizes which will be presented, the pleasant atmosphere and general good time makes attendance well worth while. Refreshments will be served.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

"Hiawatha's Departure," the cantata by Coleridge-Taylor, which the Newton Choral society is to give at its concert next Thursday evening, April 24, at Central Church, might be called a musical picture of Indian life expressing some of the finest thought of Longfellow's famous poem. The story takes up the tales of Iago, the great baaster, who came home telling about the achievements of the white man and the advance of white civilization. But the Indians receive his report with derision. Then the story goes on to tell of the advent of Christian missionaries, and the music takes a more churchly character, and finally through poetic and romantic passages describes the departure of Hiawatha for the portals of the sunset and the regions of the home wind. The whole cantata is a wonderful example of descriptive music, and the very beautiful accompaniments will be splendidly given by the Boston Festival Orchestra. Soloists, Clifton Wood, baritone, Marguerite Porter, soprano, Martin Albrecht, tenor.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. physical department has had a very busy winter with all the gym classes unusually well attended. A hundred new lockers and another locker room for business men had to be installed to accommodate the members. These lockers are now all occupied and further enlargement may be necessary later. Classes will continue till warm weather sets in.

The spring and summer work is just opening up with bright prospects for a busy season. The baseball field is now ready for use and the Association is going to be represented again this year by a ball team and a good team is already in sight. The opening game will be played April 19th at 10:30 A. M. on the Y. M. C. A. field.

If the weather continues favorable the tennis courts will be in shape for the holiday.

The swimming pool is always a popular feature at the "Y" and those interested in qualifying as Life Savers will have an opportunity from April 12th to May 3rd to pass the Red Cross Life Saving Test in the "Y" pool. The entire week will be given over to senior life saving for men and boys and those interested should send their names in to the Newton Y. M. C. A. and report on the 28th for the first part of the test.

"THE GOBLIN FAIR"

Parents who are confronted with the problem of finding clean and wholesome entertainment for their children, will find it in "The Goblin Fair"—A Fairy Opera, with Folk and Interpretive Dancing, to be presented at Players' Hall, West Newton on Saturday afternoon, April 26 at 3 P. M. The children of Social Service House of the North Bennet Street Industrial School, Boston, make their fifth annual appearance in this performance, which promises to even excel their reputation of previous years in interest, skill and in variety of program.

The proceeds will be used for summer work among the children of the North End of Boston.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Under the auspices of The Newton Centre Woman's Club and The Newton Centre School Association, Prof. E. D. Starbuck, head of Department of Religious Philosophy of Iowa University will give an address on "The Worth of the Child," on April 22nd at 8:00 P. M., at The Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Professor Starbuck is one of the leading educators of this country and one of his specialties is the religious psychology of the child.

This lecture is free and everyone is invited to avail himself of this opportunity.

Toll Calls While You Wait

(To points listed on page 6, Boston Directory)

FAST inter-city toll calls—toll calls while you wait—toll calls just like a local call—it means just that.

You know the number you want. All right. Just take your receiver off the hook. "Number, please?" To which you reply:

"Manchester, N. H.—7591"

And, receiver at your ear, you await the completed connection with the same confidence you feel when you call Congress or Back Bay.

But maybe you don't know your man's telephone number. Still it's just like a local call. Ask Information. Your own Information.

She'll tell you the desired number with least loss of time. Ask her. You see, from start to finish, it's easy—just like a local call.

synonymous with Christian Science, there would be no need of it; and if none of them is identical with it, then all such methods are opposed to Christian Science and contradictions of it.

Mrs. Eddy's Relation to Christian Science

Right here it may be helpful to say a word about Mrs. Eddy. The right sense of Christian Science can be gained only as we gain the right sense of Mrs. Eddy and understand her relation to this Science and its movement. As has been said, Mrs. Eddy is the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. She never made any but this most modest claim for herself, giving God—who through the Christ, Truth, is the sole revealer, the sole author of all that is good—entire credit for his teachings. The Bible teaches that "whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth." In other words, it teaches that whom the Lord loveth He makes chaste or pure; and Jesus said that the pure in heart shall see God. We have seen that God is all-embracing intelligence or Mind. For this reason God is Love, as we have seen that He is, and as the beloved disciple declared Him to be, and surely God—who made all that was made, and made all good—loves all. Were this not so, then God, pure intelligence, would have created and would include in Himself the absolutely impossible, — something unlovely or unlovable. Only those who love God, good, are admissible of, and submissive to Him. Mrs. Eddy loved God. For this reason she was so chastened, made so pure by Him, that through the right idea of Him she was able to see Him, to discover Him, and to make God and His Christ known to all who are willing to receive Christ, Truth. More than this, she so loved God that she was willing to devote herself entirely to making Him known, so that all men, "taste and see that the Lord is good," that He is the only healing, saving, regenerating power. She demonstrated her discovery by healing all manner of diseases. She taught others to do likewise. She wrote the only textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and quite a number of other books in elucidation of the revealed and un-revealed. She was the official publication of the Christian Science organization, The Christian Science Journal, and gave the movement all of its periodicals, including The Christian Science Monitor, a clean daily newspaper which has taken its place in the front rank of the world's great newspapers. Mrs. Eddy's love for God and for mankind led her not only to found, but also to develop and forever to protect the movement which she founded by providing it with By-laws, published in a little book which she named "Manual of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts." This book provides all the By-laws for the conduct and government of every activity of this great movement. By-laws which govern its Directors as well as its humblest members. All of this has made Mrs. Eddy the only Leader of the movement which she founded, a Leader who asked to be followed only in so far as she followed Christ. (Message for 1902, p. 4.)

Fundamental Teaching

I trust that what has been presented will at least indicate what the study of Mrs. Eddy's teachings will make entirely plain; that, as stated on page 468 of the Christian Science textbook, "all is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation," and that the Mind which is here referred to is God. This great fact is the fundamental teaching of Christian Science, and it is for this reason that the paragraph from which I have just quoted is designated by Mrs. Eddy as "the scientific statement of being" (ibid., p. 468). It is on the basis of the omnipresence, omniscience, and omnipotence of Mind, God, that every good work was wrought by Jesus, by his apostles, and early followers. It is on this basis that all the good works of Christian Science have been and must continue to be accomplished. It is because of this that these works are Christian, and not due to the suggestive, hypnotic, or mesmeric processes of any of the so-called psychological methods now so generally practiced, not only by physicians, and under the patronage of churches, of other denominations, but by many whose intents and purposes are altogether unchristian, and sometimes sinister.

The Way to God—Good

"He that cometh to God," says the apostle, "must believe that he is." All religions have taught this. All have also taught that God is omnipresent, omniscient, and omnipotent,—meaning that God, good, is everywhere present, all-knowing, all-powerful. But have they taught that because of this great and all-important truth evil is non-existent, and therefore without power? All will admit that they have not. For this reason their teaching has been a house divided against itself that cannot stand, and cannot do the Christian healing of which there is such urgent need. To come to God, that is, to come to the one true good, which, as God, would necessarily be infinite and include all that is right and possible in the way of peace, safety, health, ability, prosperity, all that is absolutely true and consequently absolutely intelligent, and, therefore, good; to come to all of this, to arrive at our complete good, we must, according to the Bible, "believe that he is." In other words, we must have, as Christian Science teaches us, a trustful, constant, firm confidence in that all that really is, meaning all that has presence with us, power over us, intelligence to enlighten and direct us, is God, and thus good. Is not this the "Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace," and is there any other way in which a trustful, constant, firm confidence in God can be obtained, except through learning that in very truth God is the only Mind, the only cause, the Christian Science declares Him to be?

The Source of Every Good Effect

We all know some things so well that most of us never give them a thought. For instance, all of us know that Mind is the source of every incentive, of every volition, impulse, thought, reason, judgment, determination, decision; of every design, purpose, plan, action; of all order, law, and so on. All of us know this, I am sure. It should not be difficult, therefore, for any one to see very plainly that without Mind nothing whatever could be or occur. What, for instance, could be or occur without incentive, volition, or impulse to bring it into being? What could be without reason for its existence; without the necessary thought or judgment or decision to fashion it; without determination, design, purpose, or plan in its creation? It must be evident that nothing whatever could be or occur without any one—yes, without every one—of these essentials, all of which must inhere in, emanate from, and be projected by Mind. Yet there are those who say in their hearts that Mind is not primary; that there are things that are not possible to Mind, and that the righting, the healing, protecting, and providing for the things that Mind alone could have made are not possible to Mind without the aid of unintelligent matter.

Christian Science takes the opposite view. It teaches us to know that "all is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation," it teaches us to rely on Mind, God. It teaches us to surrender to Mind's, God's, fashioning every thought, feeling, action, and thus to give "to God the things that are God's," and to surrender as false the things that are false in the sight of God,—the suggestion of inability, sickness, sin, and their consequent want, and misery of every kind. It is in this way that Christian Science teaches us to give to God "the kingdom, and the power, and the glory" that are due Him, and to do it now, by making Him our whole, sole, and unqualified reliance.

All Desire to Live

You will recall that the passage quoted from "the scientific statement of being" was that "all is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation." If the nature of the all-existing good, or God, has been somewhat indicated, may we not now ask in a more specific way, What is the manifestation of

The primary desire of all normal beings is to live. It is the desire of the young and the old; the rich and the poor; the weak and the strong; the well and the sick. For this reason, the great quest of mankind has been the prolongation of life into its unending prolongation,—immortality. Nor is this strange, for to be immortal would mean to be free from everything that could result in mortality or death. It would mean immunity from deterioration, from lack of ability, capacity, vigor, and vitality; from lack of strength, health, and the means to sustain life,—all of which would have to be maintained in their fullness, and without impairment, that eternal life might be maintained.

"This Do, and Thou Shalt Live"

When Jesus was asked what one shall do to inherit eternal life, he answered, "What is written in the law? how readest thou?" And receiving the reply that the law was to "love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself," Jesus said, "Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live." Jesus' questioner and tempter, being a lawyer, was one well acquainted with the deeper meanings as well as with all the subtleties of the Judean doctrines. He knew quite well that to love God, which was the only power and ability to be,—the Principle of right being. But wishing to justify himself, he said unto Jesus, "And who is my neighbour?" Then Jesus told that wondrous parable of the good Samaritan, which will live until its lesson shall be learned. This parable, as all know, tells of a man who went from Jerusalem, meaning the city of God, and who, which means fragrance, and thus, figuratively at least, the pleasure or delight of the senses, as indeed Jericho was; for it was the resort of pleasure seekers, a place for sports of all kinds, and thus also the haunt of thieves, robbers, and degraded people. On the way, this traveler was waylaid, stripped, wounded, and left for dead. He lay there for days when we go from Jerusalem to Jericho, from the peaceful habitation of our rightful home to the habitations of sensual delights. By chance, as the story goes, a priest came by, but passed on the other side. "Like-wise a Levite," one of the priestly class, one who was looked upon as orthodox, "came and looked on him, passed by on the other side." But a certain Samaritan (one who, although an Israelite, was not acknowledged as such, but was looked upon as an outcast, one not to be associated with), as he journeyed, came where the bruised traveler lay, and "when he saw him, he had compassion on him," and succored him. "When now of these things," concluded the Master, "was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?" "And he," the lawyer, chastened by what he had heard, said, "He that shewed mercy."—the one who has always been the "rejected of men," the one who reflected, showed forth the one true intelligence or Mind; the one who expressed the all-tender, the all-merciful, all-just Father-Mother God, or good who Love the one who was the manifestation of all that is good, and thus, man. Knowing his questioner had been instructed as to what he should do to have eternal life,—yes, to have all that is included in that great possession,—the perfection, the harmony, the health, the abundance of providence which we must have in order that we may have eternal life,—Jesus said unto him, "Go, and do thou likewise." May we all do likewise. May all of us be instructed by the Christianly scientific teaching as to what God is, and what the manifestation of God—man—is; for only in this way can Christianity be practiced, only in this way can we, as well as we seek "first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness," only in this way can we expect all these things—the things so universally desired—to be added unto us.

The Power of Christian Science To Heal and To Save

Like Jesus, Christian Science has "Not come to destroy, but to fulfill" the law of God and of His Christ, and thus to fulfill every right, every just law. "Whosoever therefore shall break one of these [its] least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." The right application of the law of God leads to its fulfillment. The law of God is that man, the reflection of God, must be obedient to God, to all that is good; for only in this way can he show forth his pure, perfect, harmonious well-being, and be able to fulfill all right demands upon him. We have seen that God is Mind, and that God is Love. Mind always expresses its law and its power through its idea, through Truth. Christian Science is the idea of God, of Mind and of Love. For this reason it is the law or enforcement of the power of God; and the right application of it accomplishes the works of God,—heals all diseases and saves to the uttermost.

The reflection of any of you here in a mirror must be obedient to you; or it could not be your reflection. Just so the reflection of God, man—which means every one of us,—must be obedient to God, to good, in order to be man. Obedience to God, then,—that is, obedience to all that is right, and good, and beautiful, and pure,—constitutes the true man, and no one can be nor is, man without this obedience. It is of every true man, then, that the Psalmist sang, "Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day; nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. . . . Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation."

From this it will be seen that man, as Christian Science declares him to be, is truly under the constant guidance, protection, government, providence, of God; that he cannot be, nor become, impaired or sick, and that he cannot lack any needful thing. It is by the true teachings as to what we really are, that Christian Science encourages and spurs us on to reclaim and to regain ourselves. It not only promises; it fulfills. Listening to it and obeying its demands, we mount higher, become more able, and more free; and through complete obedience to its teachings can that complete freedom for which we long, the kingdom of God on earth be gained.

Perfection A Divine Demand

But this, some may object, requires perfection. Yes; is that requiring too much?

When any one is not well, or is laboring under some inability, does he want only partial, imperfect restoration,—or does he want to be restored to a perfect state? If to a perfect state, then does not he—does not every one of us—want perfection. Wherein does the rub, the difficulty, lie? In this; that we all want perfection without a willingness to take the necessary steps that lead to it. There are those of us who want to attain to a right, a perfect state, but who want to do so in a false way; who perhaps want to do so by repeating to ourselves some formula. In other words, many want to take the broad way, the way of suggestion, of autosuggestion, which leads to destruction, instead of taking the narrow way of Christ and of his Science, the way of the true understanding of being, which exposes all suggestion, all autosuggestion, as unchristian, as deception and self-deception, and so destroys it.

No one feels satisfied with imperfection. It is for this reason that the Psalmist said, "I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness." When we are God-like, we are satisfied; when we are not God-like, we are not satisfied. This universal desire and demand, not only as human, but as God's demand, and for this reason one that must be met. "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect," were his words; and this, his supreme test, his supreme challenge and demand, required of his followers, what can ultimately, if not immediately, be fulfilled. In the Christian Science textbook, page 253, Mrs. Eddy again calls attention to this divine demand: "The divine demand, 'Be ye therefore perfect,' is scientific, and the human footstep leading to perfection are indispensable. Individuals are consistent who, watching and praying, can 'run, and not be weary; . . . walk, and not faint.' To gain God, rapidly and hold the position, or attain slowly and yield not to discouragement. God requires perfection, but not until the battle between Spirit and flesh is fought and the victory won."

Suppose that any of you here intended your child to become a mathematician or a musician. What kind of mathematician or musician should you want him to become,—an imperfect one or a perfect one? To what kind of school, to what kind of teacher should you have him to go; to such as would teach him an incorrect, an unscientific system of mathematics, an imperfect method of theory, of harmony, of composition and technique in music, a mere belief about music? Should you consider teachers and schools which constantly limited and shrouded his outlook, his attainment, instead of constantly holding his highest possibilities before him, proper ones for his advancement, and his highest attainment? Should you not want him to go to one who encourages him to hitch his wagon to the stars, recognizing that to achieve at all requires the highest outlook? Such a teacher Jesus was. Such a teacher Christian Science is; and it is only this kind of teaching that ever can or ever will Christianize the world, and ultimately bring in the Kingdom of God on earth. It is only this kind of teaching and this kind of Christianity that will solve the problems which are dominating the world; problems that seem to be industrial, political, or social. It is only this kind of teaching and this kind of Christianity that will end strife and wars of every kind, and form a true league of men and of nations. It is only this kind of teaching and this kind of Christianity that ever can or ever will heal all manner of diseases, and banish want, woe, and immortality, and bring men under the government of God, under the government of pure intelligence or Mind. It is only this kind of teaching and this kind of Christianity that will ever solve the problem as to what man is, by arousing us into being God-like, and thus spiritual and not material.

Present Claims

But do we, the present Christian Scientists, count ourselves to have apprehended all this? That is, do we count ourselves as having already attained to this state? No. But we do count on who, in speaking of herself, said that "today, though rejoicing in some progress, she still finds herself a willing disciple at the heavenly gate, waiting for the Mind of Christ" (Science and Health, Pref., p. ix), as the best Samaritan that has visited our earth since the Master's time; for the wounds of untold thousands, waylaid on their way from Jerusalem to Jericho, have been healed up by her, and, in the Science of Being, she has left the true, the ideal remedy and sustenance,—the true penny for the keep of each with a lordly world.

As for ourselves, we rejoice that we have even begun to make "toward the mark . . . of the high calling,"—the high calling of the Master to be perfect, the high calling of Christian Science to show forth more and more of the real man, the reflection of the altogether true, the altogether good, the altogether intelligent, perfect Mind or God, and to do this by taking the necessary steps that lead to this desired and desirable state,—steps which must be taken in the way that Christian Science teaches; in the way of obedience and of humility made plain to us in Jesus' words and works,—and particularly, in the beatitudes.

It is only in this way, the way in which the Master trod, the way in which our Leader followed him, that Christianity can be practiced. Not through self-aggrandizement, but through self-immolation and self-forgetfulness; "not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit."—the Spirit of Him who is the greatest servant, God; not through pride, but through purity, meekness, and humility, does the way of Christ in Christian Science lead us into that felicity, that blessedness, and freedom which can be found only under the government of God,—only in "the kingdom of God, and his righteousness." That state in which there shall be no injustice, no strife, no wars; in which in Bible language, "there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain." A way, it is not hedged with forms. A truth, too large for creeds. A life, indwelling, deep and broad. That meets the heart's great needs.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop V Receives a New Flag

The members of the Women's Educational Club of West Newton have presented the Girl Scout troop of that village with a new and very beautiful American flag. On Friday last week at the regular meeting of the Club Miss Ruth Stevens, the Director of the State Council Girl Scouts, spoke to the members of the Girl Scout work, its aims and its possibilities. Fourteen members of the Newton Girl Scout troop were present. Other guests were Bugle and Drum Corps gave a splendid program under the direction of Marion Maxim, Drum Major, Elizabeth Plimpton playing a bugle solo. Then the West Newton Troop gave a short demonstration of a Scout program which included a portion of the regular opening meeting of a troop, scout work, an explanation of the three grades of Scouts and Troop singing. After the program the flag was presented to the troop by the president of the club. The girls responded with hearty cheers.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club was a merry place on Friday evening of last week. It was the occasion of the yearly banquet of the Newton Centre Troops. Troop 3 Seniors and Troop 3 Juniors. At six o'clock a large number of girls sat down to very prettily decorated tables and enjoyed the supper prepared by some of the Scouts. Mrs. Frank A. Day, the Newton Commissioner Girl Scouts was the guest of honor. Other guests were members of the Newton Centre Troop Committee and the local Director, Scout Elizabeth Noyes was toast mistress of the evening and called on Scouts Muriel MacClelland, Elizabeth Plimpton, Katherine Stone, Margaret Noble and Catherine Hayden to give the toasts. Captain Ordway presented the Scout Spirit Badge to Katherine Stone of the Junior Troop and Captain Skipwith presented a similar badge to Grace Brown of the Senior Troop. Many perfect attendance stars were awarded to members of both troops and quite a number of girls received the 100 per cent attendance star. Fifty dollars was given to the local Director by the Junior Troop to be used for a tent at Camp Mary Day. This was a great surprise to all and the girls are all looking forward to seeing a tent marked with their emblem at the camp this summer. After the speeches and awards each of the patrols gave a short "skit." All of them were good and the banquet proved to be one of the very best the troop has ever had.

Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. C. D. Meserve and Mrs. Loring Marshall were delegates from the Newton Council at the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Division of Girl Scouts which was held at Cedar Hill on Wednesday this week.

last meeting of the season on Monday, April 14th, at the home of Mrs. William D. Keefe, Prospect street, Newton Lower Falls. Papers on the flora and fauna of Sweden were given by Mrs. Frank J. Chaplin and on the Laplanders by Mrs. Frederick E. Waring. The class has had an interesting and enjoyable year of study, the papers have been excellent and the interest sustained. A vote of thanks was given the leader, Mrs. Justin D. Starkie, for her very efficient services.

Among the activities reported at the annual business meeting of the Newtonville Women's Club on Tuesday afternoon, were work with the Welfare Bureau, the Gay, John A. Andrew Home, and for tubercular soldiers at Rutland by the Volunteer Service committee, 14 afghans have been knit beside socks and scarfs; gift of children's books to the Newtonville Branch Library, Christmas Party to fifty little children, gifts to the Barnard School by the Civics committee; flowers, fruit, and vegetables to the Flower and Fruit Mission by the Flower committee; sewing for the Newton Hospital and making surgical dressings (359 garments were made and 444 glasses of jelly contributed, also gift of a couch for the nurses' home) by the Hospital committee; a substantial nucleus for a scholarship fund through the producing of two one-act plays by the Education committee. The treasurer reported gifts as follows: Newton Hospital and Stearns School Centre, each $100; Newton District Nursing Association $50; Gov. John A. Andrew Home Association, State Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, West Newton Music School, and Newton Free Library, each $25; Flower Mission, Museum of Fine Arts, State Federation Endowment Fund, Kindergarten Work in France, Julia Ward Howe Fund, Public Safety Work in Newton, Marion Chase Baker Fund, each $10; International Longfellow Society, $1; Ex-soldiers' Relief Fund and Lectures on Forestry in the schools each $5; Newton Federation Philanthropic Fund, $15; Christmas Party for Needy Children $159.34; Victrola and Records for Barnard School $46.10; Newton Hospital Training School $70; Gov. John A. Andrew Home Association, additional, $21; Newton Federation for band concerts $67.50, totalling $549.94.

A report of outstanding interest was that of Mrs. L. W. Leland, under whose direction a group of 14 has been sewing independently for the hospital for the last two years. This group is the outgrowth of the old Social and Industrial Committee discontinued in 1922, of which Mrs. Leland had been chairman for several years. They reported 391 articles made for the hospital, including jayettes, pajamas aprons, sheets and towels.

The reports of committees showed the work of the past year to be encouragingly constructive. Activities of several departments, noticeably the Volunteer Service, Hospital, Civics, and Education, have been drawn more closely into co-operation with their fields of work by their chairmen, thereby inspiring greater feeling for effort in the club. The chairman of the Hospital committee is on the board of managers of the Newton Hospital Training School, the chairman of the Flower committee is a member of the Fruit and Flower Mission and the remaining chairmen have had training which adapts them to their offices. Two new committees have demonstrated their usefulness, the Volunteer Service and Hospitality. A glee club has been organized with Mr. Edward Griffin as instructor. Co-operation in the use of the Bulletin Board has kept the club in touch with other organizations—notably the Newton Library, Newton Central Council and the Improvement Association. The Christmas and birthday parties and the social teas have promoted good-fellowship.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur; vice-presidents, Mrs. P. A. Evans, Mrs. C. D. Kepner, Mrs. E. P. Crave; recording secretary, Mrs. E. E. Bruce; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. A. Richardson; treasurer, Mrs. W. V. Voburn; chairman of Finance, Mrs. G. W. Harris, chairman of Publicity, Mrs. P. A. Evans. Following the business meeting a reception was held for the new president and officers, and tea was served by the Program committee, Mrs. Harry Cabot and Mrs. H. C. Bore.

President, The Club with Mrs. J. F. Gilbert at the piano, sang two spring songs that were thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on April 16, Mrs. Arthur E. Holt read a paper on "Week-day Religious Training," which aroused great interest and led to much discussion among the members present. Mrs. Holt began with statistics which showed that two-thirds of the Protestant children and youth in this country are growing up with no religious training whatever, and quoted several statements from an article by Dr. Charles W. Eliot on the subject in a recent number of the Atlantic Monthly. Of the remaining third of children who are attending Sunday school, a liberal estimate of the time spent in religious instruction is 52 hours a year, and even this would imply perfect attendance, and a school in session all the year round. The week-day church school, which is a comparatively new idea, is growing in favor—the number of such schools increased from 324 in 1922 to 1500 in the fall of 1923. There are three types of such schools—first those which are part of the educational program of the individual church; second, those which are under denominational supervision; third, interdenominational schools representing co-operating churches. Mrs. Holt described vividly the work of such a school in Malden, which she had visited. It has classes to meet the requirements of all ages from kindergarten through high school, and the children come after school on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons for an hour. Their attendance is voluntary with permission from their parents. The teachers are trained for the work, so that they hold the attention of the pupils even at the end of a school day. All the people of the community are genuinely interested in the experiment, which has proved very successful.

THE REVOLT OF YOUTH

At an old-fashioned parish supper held at Central Church, Newtonville, last Friday night, Mr. Stanley High, author of "The Revolt of Youth" was the guest and speaker.

Mr. High is a college graduate, and was an aviator in the late war. From his own personal experience and observation, he told what the ex-soldiers and the college students think in regard to War, Race Relationship, and Religion.

He spoke in part as follows: "In regard to war, ex-soldiers everywhere feel as if they have been hoodwinked. They are a disillusioned lot. In an earlier period of history they would have received the spoils of war. When the world needed them, the youth of all nations were called upon to fight. High ideals were set before them. They were to make the world 'safe for democracy,' to defend their Fatherland, protect the helpless, etc. This was as true of Germany as of our own men, for youth today will not fight except for high ideals.

The war over, they found themselves to a large extent neglected, and the ideals for which they fought not carried out.

One and all the youth of the world is determined not to fight again. In a German University recently the question was asked, "In the advent of another war, would you fight?" Ten thousand students replied, "No." Similar gatherings have been held in our own country. Our college men are determined to have peace, and to work for it, even if their attitude costs them their diplomas.

There is a great bond of idealism uniting the youth of today. College students in this country are helping students in other countries, many of whom, starving and ill, are yet striving to "carry on" to prepare themselves to make a better and saner world.

In regard to race relationships, the youth of today believe in co-operation rather than coercion. In the great university of Prague where there are 10,111 members, representing almost every country on the globe, there have been no racial clashes. The hatred which war engenders dies when men come face to face.

The youth of today believe that America should join to help other nations solve the problems which are of vital interest to the whole world. Six thousand students in a university in our country recently voted in favor of the League of Nations.

No generation has thought so much about religion as the present generation, but, the youth of today are interested, not in theological discussion but in the demonstrable truths of religion. They are everywhere asking that their ideals be given a chance; that their dead comrades may not have died in vain.

Following Mr. High's address, there was a lively discussion led by Rev. M. H. Lichtner. All present felt that a very real insight had been given them into the mind of the youth of today and their purposes and ideals.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Robert B. Littlefield, of Newton, to John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., dated November 27, 1922, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4881, Page 517, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises described in said mortgage deed, to wit: "The land in said Newton, being shown as Lot Four (4) on a Plan of the Bonelli-Adams Co. property, Newtonville, Mass., dated June 21, 1919, drawn by Wm. E. Leonard, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book of Plans 274, Plan 22, and said parcel containing about 9404 square feet, with the buildings thereon."

Southerly by Commonwealth Avenue eighty-four (84) feet; Westerly by Lot 8 on said plan one hundred thirteen and 5/100 (113.53) feet; Northerly by parts of Lots 22 and 23 on said Plan eight-two (82) feet; and Easterly by Lot 3 on said Plan one hundred fifteen (115) feet.

Reference for title is made to a deed by Frank K. Harris to said grantor to be recorded herewith, and said premises are subject to the restrictions referred to in said deed, and to a prior mortgage of $9000 held by the Gardiner Savings Bank.

The premises will be sold subject to all and all unpaid taxes, assessments, tax titles and municipal liens, and there be, and to restrictions of record in so far as now effective and applicable and to said prior mortgage.

Three hundred Dollars in cash to be paid at time and place of sale. Other terms at sale.

STOP! THINK!! COMPARE!!!

WHICH SHOULD YOU HAVE FIRST—A HOME OR A CAR

Warm weather is coming.

Outdoor pleasures, including the automobile are going to call you in siren tones.

It is going to be hard to resist the pleasure of indulging in a car, whether you own a home or not.

But remember that hundreds of people who have bought their car FIRST have never been able to build a home. Many of them find themselves drifting rapidly into debt.

We are sure you do not want to do that too. That's why we say Stop, Think and Compare.

SUPPOSE YOU DO THIS

Call at our office at once. Select from our collections of plans a home design that looks good to you. We will tell you what it would cost to build it and we can also give you some information on financing if you need it.

THEN you will be able to compare a home with a car intelligently and decide which you want FIRST.

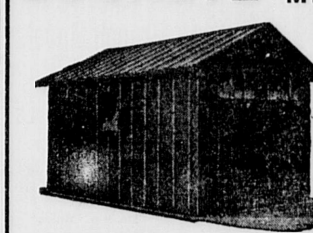

An increasing number of people are deciding on the home first these days and they are happy because of it. They will be enjoying homes very soon and saving money too.

It's better to be a home owner and then buy a car than to be a car owner and pay rent for a home for a large share of your life.

ALDERMEN CHANGE ORDINANCE

To Allow Present Acting Public Buildings Commissioner to Be Appointed to Office. Garbage Permit Granted W. H. Magee.

The regular meeting of the aldermen, which started rather prosaically on Monday night, developed later into an old-fashioned debating society over the question of amending the ordinance relative to the qualifications of the Buildings Commissioner. It will be recalled that the Graphic suggested some months ago that Mayor Childs should take some action in regard to this department, which has been under the charge of an Acting Commissioner for over a year, either by appointing a Commissioner duly qualified under the ordinance or by changing the ordinance so as to allow the appointment of the acting commissioner to the office itself. A few weeks ago Mayor Childs recommended a change in the ordinance, stating that he could not find any one duly qualified under the present ordinance who would accept the office. Monday night the committee reported a change in the ordinance so that besides the present qualifications of a building Commissioner, namely, that he should be "an able and experienced architect, builder or civil engineer," it might be "a man who has had training and experience in an administrative capacity in a municipal buildings department." Alderman Madden said that in view of the fact that the mayor was unable to find a qualified man for the office, the committee had reported an ordinance to the man, and not a man to fit the ordinance. Mr. Madden said that while there were many builders qualified for the office, he doubted if they would accept it at the salary of $3,500. The present acting commissioner had had charge of the office for two years, and was better qualified than a new man on account of his practical knowledge of the zoning law and the Building Code, and it would be a disadvantage to the city

KNIGHT TEMPLARS HERE

An interesting Masonic event in this city was the visit of De Molay Commandery, Knights Templar, of Boston, to Elliot church, Newton, on Easter afternoon. De Molay Commandery has always made it a custom to attend divine service on Easter in a body, and as its Eminent Commander, Theodore Lockwood, is a resident of this city, the Commandery honored its leader by coming to Newton for this service.

De Molay marched from Masonic Temple in Boston to Trinity Station, taking special cars there for Newton, where they were joined by the brethren of Gethsemane Commandery. The route was then up Washington to Church street, and thence to the church, one of Newton's most beautiful ecclesiastical edifices. Em. Sir Theodore R. Lockwood was in command of the De Molay section in the procession, assisted by Sir Leon L. Allen, generalissimo, and Sir Walter A. Smith, captain general.

Gethsemane's chief officers were Em. Sir George A. B. Bacon, commander; Sir Winton L. Buddington, generalissimo, and Sir Charles E. A. Ross, captain general.

The services were of an impressive character. The invocation was followed by a number by Unity Quartet, "Praise Ye the Lord." Then came a responsive reading, the minister, Rev. Brother Richard C. Paines, and the entire congregation taking part in this service. The Scripture lesson was by Em. Sir Irving G. Findlay, grandmaster of De Molay Commandery. Unity Quartet then sang "Gloria" and "Hallelujah," the latter at the offertory.

Rev. Sir Henry Hitt Crane, D. D., a former pastor of the Newton Methodist Church, preached the sermon, prefaced by a few words in which he alluded to the presence of the Masonic bodies and the appropriateness of Easter for the annual pilgrimages of the fraternity. He described, especially, the real meaning of Christianity, which, he declared, is life itself—that is, the life that Jesus pictured, the life that keeps men clean and worthy in the sight of God.

After the services the lines were reformed, the members of De Molay entraining at the Newton station for the return trip to Boston. Arriving at Huntington avenue, the commandery returned to the armory in Masonic Temple, where it was dismissed.

About 150 in all turned out representing De Molay, while Gethsemane Commandery had about 100 in its Easter day delegation.

POLICE COURT

Joseph Golas of Carter street, Needham, was arraigned in court yesterday morning charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, operating an automobile without a license, and unlawful appropriation of an automobile. Golas was arrested Wednesday night by Sergeant Meehan and Patrolman Dan Crowley.

Chandler Hovey of Lawrence road, Chestnut Hill, was fined $20 by Judge Weston for setting a fire without a permit. He was arrested by patrolman Thomas Whelan. Newton police officers are strictly enforcing this law as a result of the many grass fires about the city this Spring.

Joseph Gallant of 55 Border street, West Newton, was taken to the Newton Hospital Wednesday night in the police ambulance after he had broken his leg in a wrestling match with a friend. Gallant, who is about 21, and several others were fooling in the house and became engaged in a friendly wrestling match when a sudden fall broke Gallant's leg above the knee. Dr. Lowe, city physician, was called, and he ordered the young man removed to the Newton Hospital.

A GREAT SUCCESS

The Cabaret held this week, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, at the Hunnewell Club, was a great success, whether viewed from the entertaining or the financial angle.

The assembly hall was beautifully decorated with red and white streamers, so draped as to give a roof to the hall, while the same color scheme was carried out on the tables.

The program included solo dances by Naomi Andrews, dancing specialties by Ted and Marion Douglas, monologues by James T. Anderson and Charles Pearson, a specialty act by Florence Carr, and an excellent magician act by an unknown. The chief interest, however, centered around the one act play, "The Show Actress," given by local talent, the cast including Mrs. R. W. Bartlett, Anne Katherine White, Florence Morford, Katherine White, Florence Norford, Dr. L. H. Naylor and Dan Smith.

The hostesses for the Cabaret were Mrs. Thomas F. Murray and Mrs. Raymond G. Conning, and they were assisted by the Misses Muriel Anderson, Barbara Angier, Charlotte Aubin, Alice Barney, Anna Bartlett, Edith Curtiss, Loraine Defren, Constance Elliott, Virginia Gilbert, Dorothy Griffin, Gwendolyn Hayes, Hope Hodder, Katherine Holmes, Helen Moore, Harriet Murray, Barbara Partridge, Elizabeth Rees, Portia Russell, Mary Scofield, Mary Switzer, who served ice cream and candy both evenings.

The committee in charge of the cabaret comprised Carl J. Thornquist, Carl Peirce, Dr. L. H. Naylor, Arthur W. Blakemore, Frank B. Cummings, Edward O. Loring, George A. Schaefer, Daniel A. White, Frank I. Peckman, Everett W. Crawford, Charles J. Oman, Philip S. Jamieson, Peter Turchon, Henry P. Curtis, Frank P. Schofield, Herman C. Soule, Edgar M. Horne, Paul Sykes, and L. D. G. Bentley.

GIRL SCOUTS ALREADY SET

Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. C. D. Meserve, and Mrs. Loring Marshall, all of the Newton Local Council, Girl Scouts, start today for Chicago, where they will attend the annual convention of the National Girl Scout Organization. Miss Freeman, Director for the Newton Scouts, will join them on Monday.

All roads led to Camp Mary Day for the Girl Scouts last Saturday. What started out rather dubiously from the weather-man's point of view, turned out to be a glorious day, and those scouts who hiked to camp for the day cared little for the few showers that drove them from lively games out doors to equally jolly games on the porch. At dinner-time the sun smiled on groups of girls cooking their bacon or hot-dogs in the council ring, singing on the look-off rock, or taking their mid-day siesta on the bare tent-floorings. After dinner a very exciting baseball game was played, the victors being Troop VII. Troop VII also had a very interesting treasure hunt, planned and laid by the older girls, who are working for their First Class Test. This, the first all-day hike of the season, we hope is but a forerunner of many such happy days to come.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONRY

There will be a mass meeting next Monday evening at the Masonic Building, Newtonville, open to all Masons in Newton, and held under the auspices of the Masonic bodies in this city.

Rev. Dr. Frederic W. Hamilton will speak on the subject of Scottish Rite Masonry. Excellent music will be given, and a report made on the recent Masonic drive.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

Ninth Concert at Central Church, Newtonville, Heard by a Large and Enthusiastic Audience

Central Church, Newtonville, was filled to its utmost capacity last night to hear the ninth concert given by the Newton Choral Society.

The society was assisted by the Boston Festival Orchestra who gave, as the opening number, the popular Ballet Suite by Grets. Following this, Mr. Clifton Wood, baritone, sang the well-known "Toreador Song," from "Carmen," and Miss Marguerite Porter, soprano, with Messrs. Woods and Albrecht, tenors, sang the Trio from the last act of "Faust." These artists also took the solo parts in "Hiawatha" which occupied Part 2.

Probably no writer has so thoroughly understood and appreciated the peculiar character of Indian music as has S. Coleridge Taylor, whose musical rendering of Longfellow's "Hiawatha" has long been a classic. In an earlier concert the Newton Choral Society gave the first part of this immortal Epic with its wedding feast, and the heart rendering death of Minnehaha. Last night it gave the last half dealing with the coming of the white men and the departure of Hiawatha.

Infinitely poignant are the words of Hiawatha in his vision,

"I beheld our nation scattered,
All forgotten of my counsels.
Saw the remnants of our people,
Sweeping westward, wild and woful,
Like the cloud-rack of a tempest,
Like the withered leaves of Autumn."

The orchestra interprets every emotion in a rarely sympathetic way, dying to a pianissimo in the night scene where the "drowsy forest whispered round the sultry wigwam," and rising to a magnificent crescendo in the Farewell to Hiawatha, while high above them rises the voices of the chorus.

Never have the members of the chorus done better work. Great credit is due Mr. William Lester Bates, the conductor, for his fine work with the chorus, and to Miss Lillian West the accompanist.

The absolute stillness of the audience bore testimony to their absorption in the music. At the end of the first prologue they broke into spontaneous applause. Mr. Wood as Hiawatha was impressive, and his words could be heard clearly in every part of the house. Miss Porter's high bird-like soprano was particularly effective in the descriptive portions of the cantata.

It speaks well for a city that can command so large and enthusiastic an audience for a concert of such high character, and the Newton Choral Society deserves the patronage of every music lover in Newton.

Lasell

On Tuesday afternoon the Lasell students had the opportunity of hearing by Radio President Coolidge's speech delivered by the Associated Press in New York.

The pupils of Miss Anna Eichhorn, violin instructor at Lasell Seminary and Woodland Park School, gave a recital at Bragdon Hall on Wednesday evening, April 23. Assisting were Miss Eleanor Mulloy, 'Cello, Helen Hansen, Organ, and Ella Loewe, Piano.

Thursday evening the Senior Dramatic Club gave a recital under the direction of Miss Lora V. Francois, head of the Expression Department.

Mr. Lawrence Brainard of Cambridge will give a talk about Amy Lowell and will read selections from her poems this afternoon.

This evening a reception with a musical program will be held at Bragdon Hall. The artists are Miss Beatrice Griffin of Brockton, violinist, and Miss Corinne Schlegel of Boston. On Wednesday evening, April 30, there will be a concert by the Tufts Glee Club and the Lasell Glee Club at the Auburndale Club House. This concert which is open to the public, is for the benefit of the Lasell Endowment Fund.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The business of the legislative session continues to drag along with little or no matters of importance coming out of committee.

Newton taxpayers will be interested to learn that the tax for Middlesex county has been increased about $100,000, the exact figures being $1,385,130.77, as compared with $1,285,380.28 last year. The increase is largely due to the increased pay for jurors just authorized by the General Court, added to some $27,000 increase in interest and debt requirements.

A bill to increase exemptions under the income tax from $300 to $1000 has been favorably reported by Taxation, of which Representative Early is a member, and by Ways and Means, with but one dissenter on the latter committee. This subject has been before the public for some time, as it seriously affects persons with small, fixed incomes, and the conclusion of the two committees shows how it has appealed to the judgment of the Legislature.

Newton residents are also interested in the hearings held this week on the cure for traffic conditions. While this commission is wholly unofficial, it can probably present some recommendations which Governor Cox will transmit to the Legislature. We have every reason to believe that Newton residents are heartily in favor of backing Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin to the limit, and giving him more power and assistance in carrying on the good work he has already started.

Mr. Matt B. Jones of Newton Centre, president of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., has been in the lime light this week on Beacon hill on the hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on an increase in telephone rates affecting switchboards and tolls.

Neither of these matters seriously affects the residents of Newton, unless they are the thin edge of the wedge to open up the matter of increasing local service rates in the future.

LODGES

On Thursday evening, April 17th, Newton Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., held its Old Timers' night at the Lodge rooms, West Newton. Among the Old Timers present were Bro. W. H. French, who joined the order in 1867, was Charter Member of Newton Lodge, and who will reach his 88th birthday this month; Bro. G. W. Dearborn of Waltham, charter member of Newton Lodge No. 92, who reached his 88th year three months ago; Bros. Chas. T. Bartlett, C. H. Stacey, Harvey Wood, Chas. Potter, Charter members of Newton Lodge No. 92; Bros. Dr. F. M. Lowe, Geo. K. Stacey, Frank E. Hunter, and John Manter, who joined in 1894, and are therefore in their 30th year of Odd Fellowship.

There was a large number of younger brothers present ranging from the thirty year men down to those brothers who have just completed their period of initiation.

Mr. Norman Brightman gave one of his interesting, pulse quickening, heart stirring talks, while the Alden Trio furnished harmony for community singing, and rendered a number of musical selections.

Altogether the evening was one which will be long remembered by all who attended, and the simple little tribute to the Old Timers, typical of the ideal of the Order which these old Timers so ably and steadfastly carried along during their active years in Lodge work.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. J. J. Chiera, rector of the Episcopal Church, St. Francis of Assisi, Boston, spoke at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening on "Immigration." His talk was illustrated with lantern-slides and was much enjoyed by members of the Club.

The last meeting of the Fellowship Club for this season will be held on Monday evening, April 28th and the speaker will be Rev. Richard C. Reineck, acting pastor of Eliot Church.

The Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Association will be on Monday evening, May 5th, in the Assembly Hall. The guest and principal speaker will be Mr. Edward W. Hearne, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

At this meeting eight directors, a clerk, and treasurer will be chosen and immediately after the meeting the new board will meet to elect the President and Vice-President. Brief reports will be given by different members.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Auburndale Co-operative Bank will be held at the office of the Bank at 293 Auburn street, Auburndale, on Wednesday, May 7, 1924, at 7.30 P. Your Next Car

Will be this Light-Six, if you learn the truth

WHEN you buy a car in the "thousand-dollar" class, here are some things you should know.

We made a canvass of men who bought rival cars in this class. And we found that 96 in each 100 bought without knowing these facts.

So, for your sake and our sake, we want to present them to you.

Save $200 to $400

Studebaker builds 150,000 fine cars yearly. It builds in model factories, modernly equipped. It has spent $38,000,000 in the past five years on new-day plants and equipment.

By quantity and up-to-dateness it saves large sums per car. A car like this Light-Six, built under ordinary conditions, would cost $200 to $400 more.

11.4% less to run

This supreme quality means lower operating cost. Owners of fleets of cars in this class made audited records to prove this.

They compared 329 cars, running up to 25,000 miles each. And they found that the Studebaker Light-Six cost 11.4% less to operate than the average of its rivals. This includes depreciation. The saving was nearly one cent per mile.

The reasons are these

The Studebaker Light-Six, in its chassis, represents the best we know. In steel and in workmanship it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

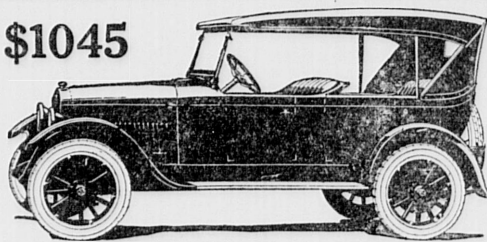

It is designed and superintended by an engineering department which costs us $500,000 yearly.

Each steel formula has been proved the best for its purpose by years of tests. On some we pay 15% premium to makers to get them exactly right.

Each car in the building gets 32,000 tests and inspections.

More Timken bearings are used in this car than in any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

There are 517 operations in making this car exact to 1/1000th of an

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Unusual equipment. Scores of extra values.

Made by the leaders

This is one of the cars which has made Studebaker the leader in quality cars. Our sales have almost trebled in three years. The trend toward Studebakers has become a sensation.

Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

Back of this car is an honored name, which for 72 years has stood for high ideals.

Behind it are $90,000,000 of assets, staked on pleasing you better than others.

Before you pay $1,000 or more for a car, these are facts you should know and compare. You owe that to yourself.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

qualified for the position. He thought the Mayor was signing, "Yes, we have no bananas" but we do have plenty of onions. He said there were good reasons why certain persons favored the amendment, as the Commissioner had considerable discretion and it was not wise to be opposed to him. He stated that if the aldermen would consult their constituents they would find that the eulogy on the acting commissioner was not wholly endorsed. He suggests an amendment to strike out all qualifications for the office, and allow the mayor to appoint whom he pleased to the office.

Alderman Ball said he had had good reports from the acting commissioner, and most complaints were on the basis that he was "too strict" in enforcing the ordinance. Incidentally Mr. Ball said that there had been considerable complaints of previous Commissioners.

Alderman White's amendment received but five votes, and the amendment was then adopted by a vote of Alderman Ball said he had had ing Earle, Heathcote, Leahy, Lloyd, O'Connell, Walton, White and President Hollis.

Another matter which took considerable time was the report of the License committee, granting W. Mague a permit to erect a platform in his yard on Lexington street for the transfer of garbage. Alderman Heathcote said that if there had been any agreement between the city and Mr. Mague in making the garbage contract last year in regard to the building of this platform, it ought to have been stated in the contract itself. He thought the residents of Auburndale might be willing to tolerate the nuisance during the life of the present contract, providing this permit would be limited to that extent. City Solicitor Bartlett stated that no such action could be taken. Mr. Heathcote then said that five years ago the price was around $14,000, now it was $52,000. In naming this contract Mague had professed good intentions, and modern methods, but he had only put in two trucks. Alderman Crosby asked why Mague had not put in the new equipment during the last year and a half, but had waited until court proceedings had been instituted before making any effort to provide sanitary methods. Alderman G. W. Pratt said the contract provides that Mague can be stopped at any time from using this place as a transfer point, as the contract gives the Street Commissioner arbitrary powers to act in this manner. Alderman Gordon said that Auburndale had two groups, one wholly opposed to the garbage plant, the other willing to allow it to be maintained under sanitary conditions for the life of the present contract. Alderman Lloyd said he had visited the yard and was greatly surprised at conditions. He thought the platform a good way to handle the garbage, but it should have a covering to protect it from the sun in hot weather.

Alderman Heathcote wanted to ask Mr. Mague some questions, whereupon Mr. Mague wanted five minutes, which President Hollis refused, but not before Mr. Mague had ejaculated, "I'll tell them where they fit."

Mr. Heathcote's motion to recommittal was lost.

Alderman Ball thought the city was morally bound under the contract to grant this permit, and Alderman Walton said that the lower story was complete, the walls up, and it only needed a roof to make the nuisance less. President Hollis took the floor to state that he was sorry the permit could not be limited. He believed conditions had radically changed since that neighborhood since the garbage yard had been established, and it was not fair to make present conditions permanent. Alderman G. W. Pratt said that Mague took a business risk under this contract, as the Street Commissioner could stop him at any time. Alderman Collins said he knew about the making of the present contract, and that Mague had reduced his bid on the understanding that he was to use this yard in a sanitary manner. The permit was then granted with Aldermen Crosby, Gordon, Heathcote and President Hollis voting in opposition.

There was the usual grist of public hearings, no one appearing on petitions of McIsaac Bros. for additional gasoline at 2066 Commonwealth avenue, of Annie F. Johnson for private gasoline tank on Dalton road (and which was later granted) and on a sewer in Wessex road. Mr. S. R. Porter spoke in favor of laying out Tarleton road, and a sewer in Hamlin road, which was favored by one speaker. Mr. P. Sarsfield Cuniff, who opposed the petition of J. Sherman Irving to enlarge his garage on Pearl street, and Mr. James A. Waters favored petition of Paul L. Mullen for a 3 car garage on Centre street, Newton Highlands.

These persons were drawn for jury service at Cambridge in May, Frank A. Day, Sargent St.; Charles H. Barney, Breamore road, Harrison Kellar, Hammond street, Louis P. Barach, Highland avenue, James W. Doane, Cottage street, and Albert W. Elliott, Berwick road.

Mayor Childs submitted communications from the School Committee and the Buildings Commissioner relative to the use and repair of the Froebel school. The school committee deemed it not wise to discontinue the school on account of the crowded conditions in other school buildings, and Mr. Chadwick estimated the expense of repairs at $7,000.

The Mayor also recommended $3,375 for water mains, an appropriation to pay some 1923 bills of the Board of Health, a change of ordinance relative to the city messenger, $2,317 for work on the Newtonville drain, an offer of John J. Spear of $75 for purchase of land on Winchester street, and a request for improvement of Kenrick street.

The Mayor also sent in a communication relative to insurance on city buildings, to which Alderman Fitts later called attention, urging thorough consideration, as the use of our borrowing capacity for new school buildings will leave us without means of replacing any city buildings which may be destroyed by fire, except thru an appeal to the Legislature, or a large addition to the tax rate, even though we do have about $60,000 in an insurance fund. He believed the responsibility for the situation ought to be borne by the full board, and not by any individual alderman or committee. On his suggestion the matter was referred to a select committee of three, of which the president should be a member.

A petition was filed for a change in ward lines between wards four and five, for taking of additional land for water purposes on Waban hill, and a protest was made against street car conditions at Lake street.

Alderman G. W. Pratt made another report of progress on school buildings, saying that the expert, Prof. Alexander Inglis of Harvard, appointed under a previous order, had made a report of the school committee but had died before a conference could be held. Mr. Pratt read some paragraphs from the report to the effect that there was considerable duplication of space in the two high schools, with the same equipment in both buildings. There was need of rearrangement for the natural science department, and a more effective use of room space. Mr. Pratt stated that the school committee had already taken action under this report, and had gained considerable room space under this suggestion.

The appointment of Clarence W. Randall, Chief of Fire Department, was unanimously confirmed.

Leave to withdraw was granted on sewer petitions in Pigeon Hill road, Oakland avenue and Evergreen avenue.

Orders were passed for hearings on sewers in Winnetaska road, Milton street and Underwood avenue, Mt. Alvernia road, Parker street, Daniel street, Ridge avenue and Walter St., for laying out of Morton street, Parmenter road, Frederick street and Eliot avenue, and for drain in Newtonville. Orders were passed for sewers in Bulbough park, Allerton road, Jameson road, Converse avenue, Channing road and Hazelton road.

The polling place in Newton Highlands was changed from Lincoln hall to the Hyde school house. The usual grist of licenses for billiard tables, bowling alleys, pool tables, intelligence offices, dealers in second hand articles, junk collectors, victualers, lodging house keepers, third class liquor dealers, express wagons and trucks, hackney carriages and trucks were granted, mostly renewals.

Leave to withdraw was granted on the following petitions: Pasquale Cetrone, garage, 21 West street, and 2 J. J. Smith, public garage and gasoline station, 1449 Washington street, ward 3; Theresa J. DeVizia, relocation of Edison Co. poles on Algonquin Rd., Wd. 6; Solomon Ruben, junk; Jacob Klignman, junk; Joseph W. McDonald, victualer; Fred R. Reid, William M. Maher, Harry Kovitz, Michael F. Lyons, Bartholomew J. Kelley, John Car-mody, Antonio Marrocco, James F. Buckley, Charles F. Brothers, George W. Chase, L. J. Halpin, hackney carriage licenses; Antonio Marrocco, Intelligence Office, 378 Centre street, and Henry DeMichele, garage, 325 Eliot street, ward 5.

Petitions were received from Edward Bassett, for victualer license, 993 Boylston street, for sewers in Centre street, ward 6, Salisbury road, Winnetaska road, and Wiltshire court.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connell of 24 Paul street, Newton Centre, observed their golden wedding anniversary last Saturday at their home surrounded by many of their children and grandchildren. They were married half a century ago in Hyde Park on Patriots' Day.

Mr. O'Connell is active in business in Boston. Both Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell are in robust health and are looking forward to the observance of their diamond wedding anniversary and have a busy life planned for the future. They have 10 children living, and 11 grandchildren.

According to Mr. O'Connell it takes one to continue a controversy after it is once started. Therefore he advises married men to do all the listening, when the domestic skies become clouded with stormy words. Mrs. O'Connell shares her husband's inclination in his opinions, but advises that it is sometimes well to let "the Boss" do some talking, too.

For the week ending April 19:—Patients in hospital, 123; those paying as much or more as the cost of their care, 63; those paying less than the cost of their care, 35; free patients (including babies) 25; patients treated by out patient department, 69; accident cases, 8; babies born, 11; patients transferred by social service car, 4; by volunteer car, 3.

With Monday, the 21st, the senior class in the Nurses' Training School began to take their final examinations, which go on for three weeks every other day.

Miss Asta M. Erpestad, of the Nurses' Training School Class of 1905, has been appointed superintendent of nurses at the Rhode Island Hospital in Providence.

A friend of the hospital has given to it down and material with which to make twenty-six tuck-in-pillows, enough for Coburn and Porter wards, and a few over. Founders has always been provided with them. The tuck-ins are pillows that can be used under the hollow of the back, under the neck, under the knee, or anywhere where a little support adds to the comfort of the patient.

The Know More Kokki Klub had one of its regular meetings at the hospital Monday evening, discussed some most interesting cases, and wound up as usual with light refreshments.

At Christmas a group of children from Auburndale, under the care of Mrs. E. H. Ordway, visited the hospital and sang Christmas carols for the patients. At Easter they sent a beautiful Easter lily for the Children's Ward. To the Children's Ward, there was sent also, lately, a doll's house and a number of picture books by the children of the Carroll school in West Newton.

The class room in the reception room and the stairway in Ellison Hall are to be painted, also the physician's office.

Thursday evening a number of the hospital staff attended the exercises at the Children's Hospital in Boston, where Miss Mary Louise Wakefield, a graduate of the Newton Hospital Training School for Nurses, is the superintendent of nurses.

MANSTER-DUMAS

On Easter Monday, Miss Agnes E. Dumas of Upland road, Newtonville, was married to Mr. Allen W. Manster of South Manchester, Conn. The wedding took place at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and was performed by the Rev. J. E. Robichaud, pastor of the church.

The maid of honor was Miss Hazel M. Manter of Pittsfield, Mass. Mr. Paul McCarthy of Pittsfield was the best man, and the ushers were Horace I. Manter of Connecticut, and Charles and Herman Dumas of Palmer, Mass. The flower girls were Katherine M. Shugart of Newtonville, and Marie Reeves of Pittsfield.

The bride wore a gown of broadened chiffon with pearl trimmings, and a satin train. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

The maid of honor wore peach chiffon taffeta with silver head gear, and carried pink roses. The two flower girls were dressed in baby pink and blue and carried baskets of sweet peas.

A reception at the home of Miss Clara Dumas, aunt of the bride, followed the ceremony at the church. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with roses, lilies, carnations, and ferns.

After a wedding trip to New York and vicinity, Mr. and Mrs. Manter will make their home in South Manchester, Conn.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University and the groom of the University of Vermont.

WHITNEY-MAZZUR

A wedding of much local interest was that on Tuesday of Miss Mattie Perrin Mazzur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Mazzur of 303 Windsor road, Waban, and Mr. Allan Francis Whitney of Cambridge.

The wedding took place at Union Church, Waban, and was performed by the Rev. Charles H. Cutler, pastor of the church.

The maid of honor was Mrs. A. Shephard Mazzur of Watertown, and the best man, Mr. Carlton S. Whitney of Somerville.

The bride wore a gown of white satin crepe trimmed with old lace, and the maid of honor a gown of apricot georgette.

The ushers were Messrs. A. Shephard Mazzur, brother of the bride of Watertown, Clifford O. Strout of Cambridge, Frank C. Mazzur, brother of the bride, Horace E. Whitney, Jr., brother of the groom of Cambridge, Harold Bowen, cousin of the groom of Fall River, and William M. Jones of Waban.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 203 Windsor road, Waban, the bride and groom being assisted by the bride's mother and the mother of the groom.

After a trip to Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney will make their home on Hall avenue, Watertown.

GOES TO COLUMBUS

Next Tuesday Rev. M. H. Lichliter, for nearly five years pastor of Central Church, Newtonville, leaves to assume the pastorate of the First Congregational Church, Columbus, O.

Mr. Lichliter came to Newtonville in 1919 from the Epworth Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church in Cleveland, O. In 19 years in the Methodist ministry he had served important churches in Olean, N. Y., St. Louis, Mo., Baltimore, Md. and Pittsburgh, Pa. During his five years at Newtonville, approximately 250 members have been received into the church, and the financial strength of the church has been almost doubled. He has given a great deal of time to the lecture platform and to college chaplaincies. Always interested in Freemasonry, he has been officially active in several Masonic bodies, serving as chaplain to four bodies and for one term was one of the grand chaplains of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLIOTT

Mrs. Mary J. Elliott, widow of George W. Elliott, one of the earliest residents of Roxbury, where her father was identified with the building interests of the city, died on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin H. Rogers, 79 Hillside avenue, West Newton.

Mrs. Elliott was in her 79th year and had lived in Newton since the death of her husband six years ago. She was a member of the Second Church, West Newton.

Services were held at her late residence on Tuesday, Rev. J. Edgar Park of the Second Church officiating, and the burial was in Forest Hills.

DEATH OF VETERAN

The funeral of George Wascott of 248 Eliot street, Newton Upper Falls, a veteran of the Spanish War, took place Tuesday afternoon at his home, Rev. Mr. Potter of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Waltham, officiating. A delegation of Spanish War Veterans from Camp Thomas Burnett attended. The pallbearers were William Munsil, Philip Butler, Fuge Woodward, Commander Kelliher of Camp 18, Boston; Michael Hoban and William Boutre. The burial was in Needham, where a firing squad and bugler from Co. C, 101st Infantry, M. N. G., fired the last salute and sounded taps.

PRE-SCHOOL AGE PROBLEMS

As an outcome of the meeting on March 26th under the auspices of the Newton Centre School Association, at which Miss Elliott spoke on the Pre-School Age child, a group of mothers will meet with Miss Elliott to discuss pre-school age problems. The mothers will talk over home problems, and Miss Elliott will give the benefit of her experience with a large group of children in her Nursery School. The meeting will be at Mrs. Geo. Willard Smith's home, 51 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, at four o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, April 30th.

TWO sound business reasons stand behind minimum rates on telephone toll calls placed for a number and not for a name.

One is that the number call involves less work by our people. That makes it faster. And that, in turn, lets us get more work out of our wires. The saving we share with you.

The other reason is that number calls are so fast and so satisfactory that their volume steadily grows.

This is especially true of toll calls within the Providence-Worcester-Manchester radius, where local operating methods lend simplicity and speed to your service. See Page 6, Boston Directory.

For a toll call within this circle, pick up the receiver, give the number, and listen for the reply.

If you don't know the distant number, ask your local Information. From every angle, it's just like a local call.

The action of the aldermen in allowing the garbage contractor a permit to erect a platform on his premises on Lexington street for the more "sanitary" handling of the garbage of the entire city, will not be relished by the residents of that locality, and we trust that the court proceedings which have been started on that matter will prevent the continuance of the garbage nuisance which has been endured in that vicinity for many years. It should be remembered that when first used as a garbage station, a generation or more ago, this was a sparsely settled territory and not much garbage was taken there. Now, the garbage of a city of 50,000 is of some size and the land near the garbage station has been developed into a residential territory. There can be no "moral" or legal obligation which one city government can place on its successor and arguments of that nature are more in the line of excuses than anything else. The city government should understand that the people of Auburndale have some rights to live undisturbed by the constant passing of garbage carts and their unsavory contents and should compel the contractor, who by the way is receiving a high price for his work, to carry the garbage entirely outside of the city, and to abandon the use of the Lexington street premises as a transfer station. Incidentally, Mr. Maque's exclamation to the board "I'll tell them where they fit" looks like a threat which it might be well to call.

We have noticed in some newspaper accounts of proceedings in the superior or district courts that the "rights" of the motorist have been the subject of careful consideration by the judge and jury. We believe that it would help us to arrive at a saner understanding if we substituted the word "privileges" for the so-called "rights" of the offender. When a person is licensed to do a certain thing, he does not obtain that license as a "right" but merely as a "privilege," and our licensed motorists have only a "privilege" to use the public streets and then only on the terms and conditions of the license, based on law and regulation. It makes it much simpler to understand, if we keep to the word "privilege" in our automobile language of the future.

The matter of insurance on our city buildings has been the subject of aldermanic consideration many times and has always resulted in the continuation of our present policy for the city to be its own insurer. We can see no other sensible conclusion for the discussion of this matter which has been referred to a select committee for consideration. We believe there should be an annual contribution in the budget to the present Fire Insurance fund established some years ago and which now amounts, we understand, to some $50,000. With this precaution, we believe the city would be well protected from fire loss. Incidentally it seems poor taste, to say the least, to have an active fire insurance agent as a member of that committee.

The city government apparently has settled the qualifications for a Public Buildings Commissioner by an entirely wrong method and one which in years to come will prove a bad precedent. To change an ordinance to fit the man is not good legislation, no matter how competent the person benefited thereby may be. Alderman White had the most sensible plan to settle the matter by striking out all qualifications for the office and we fail to understand just why a majority of the aldermen did not see it in that light. Incidentally, we note that Alderman White, a staunch supporter of Mayor Childs, a staunch mayor with evading his responsibility in not appointing a qualified buildings commissioner months ago.

Few parents fully realize the tremendous power for good that lies close at hand in this city in the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts organizations. School athletics, particularly baseball and football, are confined to the members of the school teams, a relatively small percentage of the school population, and the great majority are left to fill the cheering sections when important games are played with other schools. The Scout movement, on the contrary, seeks to develop the individual boy and girl to become self-reliant and competent to handle himself or herself physically, mentally, and morally. We hope that the present Scout organizations in this city will grow both in influence and membership in future years.

Next Sunday morning, daylight saving in this state will be resumed for a period of five months. Considerable interest will undoubtedly be manifested in the referendum to be submitted to the voters of the state at the election next November asking for approval or disapproval of the system. While the result of that vote will not of itself carry any weight, it will show the Legislature of 1925 what the electorate favors and be a guide for future legislation. Personally, we believe that as Massachusetts is a manufacturing state, with hundreds of thousands of employees engaged in indoor occupations, the vote to continue the system will be overwhelming.

While the presidential primary next Tuesday has but little vital interest on the Republican side as it is a foregone conclusion that delegates and alternates pledged to Mr. Coolidge for president will be almost unanimously elected in this district, let us cast our votes nevertheless, and show the rest of the country that Massachusetts still has faith in Calvin Coolidge by rolling up a record vote. Our Democratic friends will undoubtedly attend the primary as they have a live contest for delegates to the National Conventions of that party.

So much of the report of Prof. Ingalls on our high school conditions, as was read last Monday evening by Alderman Pratt, seems to indicate that there is considerable need of consolidation and revision of present methods in our High Schools. We wonder why it was necessary to employ an expert at $2500 to show our school authorities what ought to have been done years ago.

We trust our citizens will not be confused with the notice in the Boston papers regarding the hours for voting in Boston. There has been no change in the usual hours for voting in this city, and the polls will be held next Tuesday from 6 A. M. to 4:30 P. M.

JAMES HOWE WHEELER

Funeral services for James Howe Wheeler were held at Mt. Auburn Chapel, Easter Sunday, with the Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of Newton, officiating.

Burial was in the family lot. Mr. Wheeler, who was in his 94th year, passed from earth life at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, where for five weeks he had been a patient, following an operation. Born in Boston in 1830, a son of James Howe and Catherine Reed Wheeler, he was for many years engaged in business as a note broker. At the time of his death he was a dealer in real estate, and was also President of the Shipmark Co., of 201 Devonshire street. He was a member of Montacute Lodge of Masons, A. F. & A. M., of Worcester. He leaves a widow and two sons, Donald B. and Lucius Wheeler of Boston.

USE MORE MOTOR BUSES

Thousands of Them Are Operated Over Routes Totalling Fifteen Hundred Miles.

One thousand motor buses are now operated by more than 100 electric railways over routes totalling 1,500 miles in the United States and Canada, according to a survey recently completed by the editors of Bus Transportation. The figures indicate an increase of nearly 100 per cent in the use of buses by trolley companies since October 1, 1922. At that time there were only fifty-six companies operating 350 buses over 900 miles of highway. Of the 1,000 buses now in operation 225 are in the eastern states. The western states are rapidly approaching this figure, however, with 200. Wisconsin has the largest railway owned bus system in the world. The Wisconsin Motor Bus Lines, Inc., a subsidiary of the Milwaukee Electric Light and Power company, operates a bus system which spreads out like a huge fan from Milwaukee and covers 600 miles of highway. One hundred modern speed buses are used on this system. The next largest operation is run jointly by the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles railway on eleven routes in southern California.

RESCUES STOLEN BABY SEAL

Mother of Little Animal Follows Ship for Eighty Miles and Recovers Infant.

A sea captain not long ago captured a young seal, hoping to tame and rear it on board his ship. He placed it in a sack to secure it, but wide as the ocean was, and swiftly as the ship sped on, the mother was as swift, and followed in search of her young.

When it was first caught the mother howled piteously and the "baby" barked back its grief, but the man was relentless and coolly watched the agonized mother follow him till the ship reached the wharf at Santa Barbara, says Our Dumb Animals.

Here he thought his prize was safe, for surely no seal would venture there, and the ship was docked. Suddenly the mother gave a cry close to the ship, and the little one, as if obeying instructions, struggled, still in the sack, to the edge of the deck and rolled itself overboard. The mother was seen to seize the sack, rip it open with her sharp teeth and joyfully claim her baby. She had swum after it for eighty miles.

Capital in Movie Industry.

The capital invested in the different branches of the moving picture industry in the United States exceeds $900,000,000. About 35,000 persons are employed in production work, and 190,000 persons in the distribution and exhibition of the films. Their salaries, wages, royalties, and commissions exceed $200,000,000 annually. Fifteen thousand theaters are conducted exclusively for the showing of motion pictures; with 1,800 other theaters exhibiting motion pictures in conjunction with vaudeville and other entertainment. The audiences number 50,000,000 each week.

Stand Erect for Happy Thoughts.

After 3,200 tests, Chester W. Darrow of the department of psychology at the University of Chicago, has concluded that bodily attitudes affect emotional thought. In general, the person with a smiling attitude will think pleasant thoughts more readily and one with a sneer will more easily register unpleasant thoughts, he said.

Bodily postures also are an important element, he added, explaining that the subject standing erect and straight responded more readily to pleasant thoughts than the person assuming a slouching posture.

Quick Retort.

"And you say that you dined at the Hotel Splendid?" counsel for the prosecution asked the prisoner.

"Yes," was the answer.

"What did you partake of?" put in the judge.

"Beefsteak," replied the prisoner.

The judge regarded the man with a cold eye for a moment and then asked:

"On your oath?"

"No," came the reply, without a moment's hesitation. "On a plate."

Maids From the Antilles.

Maid servants from the Antilles were imported by a group of French women. However, they did not prove altogether satisfactory. A quarter of the negroes made fairly good servants, but were inclined to be restless. The remainder have fully lived up to the expectations of their employers. Hard-working Czechoslovak girls are now drifting into Canada as servants. They are hard working and know their value, which is far above that of the serving girls from Martinique.

Fishermen Tell of Sea Monster.

Certain Prince Rupert fishermen have come ashore in Vancouver with a weird tale of a strange sea monster. It has a fan-like tail, elevated like the feathers of a peacock, which forms a sail to propel the abnormal marlinlike apparition. It has the bodily form of a bear and long leathery fins to aid in its navigation. It has great tusks like those of a walrus. Indians say they saw it emerge from the water, walk up and down the beach for some distance, wade out in the water, spread out its tail and sail away.

DOUBLE WEDDING

A great deal of interest was felt this week in the double wedding on Tuesday night at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, of the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Whittlesey of Fountain street, West Newton.

Both sisters were dressed in white embroidered satin with tulle veils caught up with orange blossoms and carried white roses and sweet peas. Miss Winifred Whittlesey went down the aisle on the arm of her father, while Miss Charlotte Whittlesey was on the arm of her brother, Mr. John Whittlesey.

The husband-to-be of Miss Winifred Whittlesey was Mr. John Averill Reed of Belmont, a graduate of Harvard College, while Mr. Frederick Whitney Hall of Cambridge, also a Harvard graduate, was the future husband of Miss Charlotte Whittlesey.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Horace S. Crowell, for some years a resident of this city, died quite suddenly on Tuesday at his home in Brookline.

Mr. Crowell was 75 years of age and one of the leaders in the real estate business in Boston.

Mr. Crowell was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants and until recently of the Massachusetts Forestry Association. He was a Mason, belonging to Marlboro Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Gethsemane Commandery, Newton.

Mr. Crowell is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fay C. White of Boston and Mrs. Marguerite C. Stephenson of New York, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from his late residence on Braemore road, Brookline.

Avoid Suspicious Thoughts.

Suspicious among thoughts are like bats among birds, they ever fly to twilight; they are to be repressed, or, at least, well guarded, for they cloud the mind.—Bacon.

LOW DAM ON RIVER'S BOTTOM

One Was Constructed Across the Miami to Catch Drifting Sand and Gravel.

An interesting example of turning waste into profit has been recorded by a writer in Concrete who tells how a dam was constructed across the Miami river as a barrier to prevent gravel from drifting down into the improved channel through the city of Hamilton, O. To overcome the expensive operation of removing the sand and gravel carried down by the river and hence prevent the formation of troublesome bars, a low concrete dam was built across the bottom of the stream.

In commenting on the project, the writer states:

"As long as rivers continue to flow they will carry along with them silt and gravel, especially at times of high water. The heavy gravels and sands, which are most troublesome of all the materials carried along by the water, travel on the bottom of the stream. A depression in the bed, plus a slight check in the velocity of the stream will cause the materials to drop into the depression and stay there until the pit is filled. This dam will check the velocity of the Miami, and the basin above will form the pit in which the gravel and sand will drop. A sand and gravel plant will excavate the deposited material, screen it, and sell it for building material, and thus put a bad habit of the Miami river to beneficial use."

BANDITRY BECOMES GENERAL

French Writer Laments Recent Crime Wave That Has Swept Over France.

Violent crimes are not the monopoly of American gunmen and Barcelona pistoleros.

Figaro (Paris) laments the crime wave that has swept over France recently. Bandits robbed the pay clerks of the Marseilles street railways, killing one and wounding another in broad daylight, and disappearing with 142,000 francs. Another group of bandits slugged and robbed a Paris jeweler in his shop, in broad daylight, when other customers were in the store. A list of similar violent crimes follows.

The author comments: "These robberies and murders, and the criminal bands that commit them, invite certain observations. The first is that their number and their brutality no longer shock the public. Before the war, such criminal gangs as la bande Bonnot were thought extraordinary; today they hardly attract remark.

"We consider braiding jewelers, raiding banks, robbing postoffices, and mysterious murders in the same matter-of-fact way that we regard motor car accidents. They seem to be becoming part of the customs of the time."

Two Million Lepers.

It is estimated that there are about 2,000,000 lepers in the world, half of whom are in China. The disease appears to be spreading among the natives of Central Africa, but is receding where modern methods of control and cure have been undertaken on any large scale. Science confirms the theory as old as Bible times that the disease is spread by infection, although prolonged exposure to the disease is necessary, and that segregation is one of the most effective methods of treatment. Definite cures in many cases have followed the injection into the veins of the active principle of chaulmoogra oil, and it is now being used on an increasing scale. Similar preparations have also been made recently from olive and from linseed oils. As an illustration of what modern sanitation and segregation of cases will accomplish, it is said the number of cases in Norway has been reduced from 2,833 to 140 in sixty years.

All Wrong but the Trombonist.

Popular music today is often so ornamented with irrelevant and impertinent sound from some of the more noisy instruments that no one is astonished if the results are not always harmonious. The band of a small Minnesota town, says the Highway Builder, had just finished a vigorous but not particularly melodious selection. As they sank perspiring to their seats after bowing self-consciously for the applause the trombonist asked hoarsely:

"What's the next one?"

"The Maiden's Prayer," answered the leader, consulting his program.

"Good Heavens!" ejaculated the trombonist. "I just got through playing that one!"

Fairly Put.

"I want a shave," said the determined-looking man as he climbed into a chair in the Coliseum barber shop. "I don't want any bay rum, witch hazel, hair tonic, hot towels or face massage. I don't want the manœuvre lady to hold my hand nor the bootblack to fondle my feet. I just want a plain shave, with no trimmings. Do you understand that?"

"Yes, sir," said the barber. "Will you have some lather on your face, sir?"—New York Mail.

Hotel for Dogs Planned.

A Los Angeles man has announced that he is going to erect and manage a hostelry exclusively for canine guests. The dog hotel will cost approximately $50,000 and will have all the modern conveniences, each dog having a bed and a sun porch, with uniformed attendants in charge of each section.

BEANS AS MUSCLE BUILDER

Lumberjacks Work Long Hours at Top Speed on Plain Diet—Meat Called Harmful.

The hardest work in the world is lumbering, for it means working at top speed from dawn till dark, and usually in intense frost. Lumberjacks live principally on beans baked with pork and flapjacks (a kind of pancake) eaten with maple sirup. They also eat quantities of steamed brown bread.

It is a mistake to think that a lot of meat is necessary to make muscle. The coolie, especially the Chinese, who lives on rice, is more active and enduring than the negro fed on meat; and the Arab, who lives largely on dates, is extraordinarily wiry and can travel all day in burning heat that would kill a meat-fed man.

Among the strongest men in the world are the Turkish porters. Two of these have been known to carry a grand piano up a flight of stairs, and one will carry a load of 100 pounds twenty miles in a day on his back. These men live almost entirely on dried fruit and olives.

The Spanish peasant works all day and dances half the night on black bread, onions and occasionally a little cheese; while the Italian who is the best navy in the world, does his work on an equally simple diet, of which the principal part is chestnut meal, onions and fruit.

Doctor Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, who has lived longer in the Arctic than any other white man, existed for months on nothing but fish. All day he was out in temperature below zero, yet he has put it on record that during that time he actually gained weight.

The staple diet of the Roman soldier was coarse brown bread and sour wine, yet on this he built roads and carried incredible weights of armor and baggage over extraordinary distances.—London Tit-Bits.

TRICKS PLAYED WITH COIN

Various Methods Explained So That You Can Entertain Your Friends.

The trick of making a coin stick on a surface will greatly puzzle your friends when you perform the seeming magic for them.

Take a coin, and, placing it flat against a door or some other smooth surface, rub it back and forth vigorously a dozen times or more. Take away your hand after repeating a mystic chant, and the coin will stay there. After a few moments it will drop. The explanation is that the rubbing of the coin on the smooth surface heats and drives the air out from under the coin, thus leaving the atmospheric pressure on the exposed face to hold it in place. After the coin has had time to cool, the air gets under it and it drops off. Be sure the coin you use has a good rim on it and the surface on which you put it is very smooth.

Another trick is performed with a bottle, a match, and the coin. Break the match stick so that the two parts hang together by only a few fibers of wood. Place it in a v-shape on the neck of the uncorked bottle, and then on the match lay the coin. Now ask your friends if they can make the coin fall into the bottle without touching the match, the coin or the bottle. Various solutions will be tried, but the winning one is this:

Dip your finger in a glass of water, and placing it above the angle formed by the match, allow a few drops to fall in the broken place. The fibers of the wood, swollen by the moisture, will try to straighten themselves, and you will see the angle of the match increase little by little until it gradually works out from under the coin and the money drops into the bottle.

The Wise Bellboy.

Among the guests at a small hotel was a woman from a country district. The landlady noticed every night that she came downstairs and got a pitcher of water. One night he asked her why she did not ring the bell for the bellboy to bring the water to her.

"No bell in your room, madam? Let me show you."

He took the pitcher of water in his hand and escorted her to her room. Entering the apartment, he pointed out to her the knob of the electric bell. She gazed at it with wonder and then explained:

"Is that a bell? Why the bellboy told me that it was the fire-alarm signal, and that I must never touch it except in case of fire."

Inventor of Hose Supporter.

A little contribution to the history of women's garments: The origin of the garter—not the round kind, but the other variety. It was invented, for his personal use, by one of the most illustrious German philosophers, Kant, who had observed that the type of round elastic garter he had been using to hold up his silk stockings stopped the circulation of the blood. Kant set his brilliant mind to work, and finally devised a combination of elastic and catgut harness attached at the top to his vest. Thus the hose supporter was born.

Something to Worry About.

"You look blue, old man."
"I am blue. I've been rejected."
"Oh, cheer up! There are plenty of other girls, you know."
"Girls be hanged! It's an insurance company that has done the rejecting."

SALT DRINK FOR HOT CLIMATE

Experiments on Miners Indicate Diluted Sea Water Keeps Them Stronger and Fitter.

Dilute sea water or salt water in any palatable form may be the basis of future soft drinks for hot weather and tropical climates, says a London dispatch to the New York Evening Post. A long series of experiments on workers in hot mines has shown that a small quantity of salt daily has the power to relieve the men of much of the exhaustion supposed to be due to severe toil at high temperatures, and to prevent altogether the development of the dreaded miner's cramp. Men given about one-third of an ounce of common salt dissolved in a gallon of water reported themselves stronger and fitter in every way.

Measurements taken by Prof. K. Neville Ross of Birmingham university showed that during a five and one-half hour working shift at a temperature around 100 degrees, the men lost from nine to eighteen pounds through perspiration and respiration. Other men who worked in a specially heated testing room in a laboratory showed similar losses and a loss of twice as much salt from the system as under normal conditions. He also discovered that men who worked in hot mines ate a third more salt food than those who worked under normal conditions.

COULDN'T SIDETRACK HENRY

Orator Brought in His Favorite Hero Even in an Address on Colic.

Rear Admiral John K. Robinson tells this story:

"Down in Virginia there was an old friend of mine who was very potent at after-dinner speaking. He had only one speech, in which he always glorified Patrick Henry, his own particular hero among the many Virginia has given.

"Some of his friends, perhaps a little bored at the oft-repeated story which always wound up in 'Give me liberty or give me death' put up a job on him one night when he was called upon, without previous notice, to speak on the subject of horse colic.

"My friend was equal to the emergency. He arose and addressed the audience about as follows:

"Gentlemen, this subject is one of much more importance than you believe. It affects the cost of transportation, the reliability of communication and it has a definite effect upon the cost of living. Horse colic consists of millions and millions of little microbes within the body of the horse, each crying out the words of the immortal Patrick Henry—'Give me liberty or give me death!'"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Seat of Empire Will Move Some Day.

It has been estimated that the British isles are overpopulated to the extent of fifteen million people. A million and a half draw unemployment doles. These figures imply that there is a great deal of poverty. The solution, or at least one of them, is emigration to the dominions. This strengthens the Anglo-Saxon element in these countries and at the same time provides the young countries with sorely needed farmers. Australia has been getting the bulk of this immigration so far, but Canada and South Africa are also in the market following the imperial conference in London. In Canada the government will give the newcomers 160 acres of land free and a loan to finance the first years on the farm. But the settlers must pass certain agricultural tests.

Mother-in-Law Knows Everything.

The country doctor was driving along a mountain road when a man came out of his house and hailed him. "Say, doc, has the man up the creek got smallpox?"

"Well, I can't say just now—I'm not sure."

"My mother-in-law says it's smallpox."

"Really! Has your mother-in-law seen this case?"

"Naw!"

"Well, has your mother-in-law ever seen a case of smallpox?"

"Naw! But that don't make no difference to my mother-in-law!"

An Appropriate Notice.

Joseph Conrad, the eminent English novelist, was seated, at a dinner party in New York, beside an editor's daughter.

"Tell me about the London night clubs, Mr. Conrad," the young lady said. "They must be awfully jolly."

Mr. Conrad stroked his beard gravely.

"I have never visited a night club," he said, "but from what I have heard, it wasn't at all an inappropriate notice that the rather illiterate manager of a Leicester Square night club once hung up. This notice said: 'The management have the right to exclude any lady or gentleman whom they think proper.'"

Fair Notice.

"Nigger," warned one, "don't mess wid me, 'cause when yo' does yo' sure is thirtin' wid de hearse."
"Don't jesterate wid me, nigger," replied the other, shaking his fist, "don't force me to press dis yo' 'cause of I does I'll hit yo' so hard I'll jest knock yo' from amazin' grace to a floatin' opportunity."
"Ef yo' mess wid me, nigger," continued the other, "I'll jest make one pass an' dere'll be a man patten' yo' in the face with a spade tomorrow mornin'."—Brooklyn Citizen.

LODGES

On Tuesday evening, April 22, Newton Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., held a Benefit Dance at the Armory, West Newton. About 100 couples stepped across the floor to the harmony of Cole's singing orchestra. Mr. Jerry Mooney, that sterling song bird of the Jerome H. Remick Co., and Mr. George Dion, the Irving Berlin Music Co.'s sweet wabblers, entertained with the latest song hits, accompanied by the orchestra.

The Committee, headed by that popular, up to the minute Odd Fellow, Harry J. Gammons, certainly lived up to their reputation and the evening was kept pepped up by a number of features.

The Prize Waltz with two $2.50 gold pieces for the winning couple, was won by Miss Ada M. Goddard of Brighton and her partner, Mr. Ed Buel of Newtonville.

Miss Agnes Cullity of West Newton, and her partner, Mr. W. J. Quinn of Brighton, stepped to victory in the Prize Fox Trot and were awarded a $2.50 gold piece each.

Then came the Spot Dance, which caused the greatest enthusiasm of the evening. Mr. A. Wilson of Newtonville, and the ever charming Mrs. A. Wilson, captured this popular event, and the enthusiastic applause which greeted the announcement that they were the happy winners of the two $2.50 gold pieces awarded for this event, left no doubt in the minds of any of those present that the outcome met with popular approval.

The dance events were judged by Miss Mary Sprague, Mrs. D. Forbush and Mr. C. C. Sprague.

Your curtains tell the world

Your curtains are the only part of your house furnishings that most of the world ever sees. If they're fresh and clean, hang straight and true, they tell passers-by a lot about your housekeeping and your home.

Let us help you put up a "good front". We wash your finest curtains gently and carefully and our wonderful Curtain Dryer finishes them exactly to measure, without hooks or pins. We give them a crispness and smoothness, an evenness of "hang" that it is impossible to get by home laundering methods.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

Continuity of the club work is assured only when records of past achievement and of plans for the future are passed on from one officer to another. The recording secretary's records are as a matter of course, but much of the work of committees often exists only within the brains of the chairmen. Chairmen, if you wish your stand to stand as a memorial to you in future years, record your plans and their working out in some permanent form. If you do not have time yourself, organize your committee with a secretary and let her do it for you. You are helping to make history for your club, which will be of great interest in the future. Secretaries, frame your records so they will be enlightening to future officers, tell enough of the reasons for arriving at conclusions to make them intelligible twenty-five or even fifty years hence. Presidents, put your houses—that is, your club papers—in order before going out of office, but, as Mrs. Poole suggested at the Presidents' Conference, do not clean house too thoroughly. Your successor will need much of the material which has been sent you, at least, until the new Manual is issued and Federation Topics comes out again in the fall. Gather up all the loose ends, and don't, above all things, pass on matters in a slipshod fashion, which will make endless trouble for your successors to straighten out—something you ought to have done yourselves. Incoming presidents have trouble enough of their own without being obliged to finish up something that did not belong to them to untangle. Having done that, drop club work from your minds and take a much needed vacation. No woman can serve a club faithfully for two or more years without having strength taken out of her. If she is wise, she will not allow herself to be drawn into another hard job immediately, or, at least, until she has had time to recoup herself somewhat. Many are loath to believe that a work can't go on if they loose their hold, but it will, and that is the humiliating thing about life. The most restful of vacations to all retiring officers!

State Federation

On Wednesday of this week the delegates to the Biennial of the General Federation met at 585 Boylston street, Boston, for their annual convention. The party as registered to date consists of 160 from New England, of whom 125 are from Massachusetts. Fifty of the party plan to go to Alaska afterwards. Those registered from the Newton Clubs include: Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, Newton Community Club; Mrs. D. Kepner, Newtonville Woman's Club; Mrs. C. E. Quinn, Newton Centre Woman's Club; Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, West Newton Women's Educational Club; Mrs. George W. St. Amant, and Miss Ruth St. Amant, Auburndale Woman's Club. The party leaves Boston on the evening of May 27th.

Newton Federation

Thursday, May 8. Annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. At the morning session there will be the annual reports of officers and committees. This year the presidents of the local clubs will be allowed three minutes each to present some one outstanding feature of the year's work. Luncheon will be served by the Social committee, tickets for which must be secured before May 8th, as none will be sold after that date. In the afternoon there will be music and two plays produced under the direction of Mr. Chester A. Drummond. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the State Federation, will be a guest for the whole day, an unusual honor for the Federation.

Hon. James Jackson, treasurer of the Commonwealth, and candidate for the nomination for governor, will be one of the speakers at the meeting of the Political Department, Woman's Republican Club of Massachusetts, Saturday morning, April 26th, at 11 o'clock, the Copley Plaza, Boston. Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer will also speak, covering two questions "Shall Henry Ford have a 100-year Lease of Muscle Shoals," and "The Revitalization of the Hague Court as a Means of Preventing War."

Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A.

Thursday, May 1st, 12 M. Annual meeting. Luncheon at 1 P. M., followed by after-dinner speaking, by Hon. Edwin O. Childs, "Why We Should Work for the Y. M. C. A.," Mr. L. Chase Kepner, chairman of Boys' Work, "Why We Should Work for the Newton Y. M. C. A." Mr. Pitt Parker will give an illustrated address, and there will be music by Miss Sylvia Lovejoy, pianist.

Local Announcements

The Bird Walk for the Newton Community Club, under the leadership of Miss Margaret Tucker, will take place tomorrow Saturday morning. Those joining should notify Mrs. Clarence E. Allen, 12 Belmont street, and meet at the Newton railroad station for the 7.56 A. M. train for Riverside. Thence across country to Roberts, where the return to Newton will be made by trolley at noon. Bring bird glasses and wear heavy walking shoes. If raining the walk will be cancelled.

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will hold its annual meeting on Saturday, April 26, at the home of Mrs. C. G. Ward, 121 Ward street, Chestnut Hill.

Monday evening the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will hold its annual meeting following a banquet at the Pettee Inn.

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Newton Social Science Club will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday, April 30. The business meeting will be at 10.30, and luncheon at one o'clock.

Thursday, May 1st, the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold its annual luncheon at the club house at one o'clock, followed by the annual business meeting with election of officers and reports of committees.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, May 1st, at 2.30 P. M., in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville.

Local Happenings

The annual luncheon of the Waban Woman's Club was held Monday, April 21st, at one o'clock, in the Union Church. Mrs. James Hewins, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Bruce Wymann, Mrs. L. Stephen, Mrs. Fred S. Gourley and Mrs. Frank C. Hodgins prepared a delicious luncheon, served by some of the members of the club, amidst very dainty pink and lavender decorations, in charge of Mrs. Stanley Newton. At the head table were many past presidents of the club, together with the active officers. Mrs. Eugene Bissell, second vice-president, presented the retiring president with a beautiful basket of flowers, from the executive board. In their behalf she said a few words of appreciation to the president of her uniting work of the past two years and compared some of her qualities to those for which the flowers in the basket stood, such as, the rose for friendship, the laurel for cleverness, the fern for sincerity, the hyacinth for faithfulness, and the pansy for memory. Mrs. Ezra Bushnell accompanied by Mrs. William Stevenson sang two songs, which greatly delighted and pleased the audience. At the business meeting, the reports of all the committees were read and the following donations to charity were made: $25 to the Newton Hospital; $20 each to District Nursing Association, Newton Welfare Bureau and West Newton Music School; $40 to the Newton Circle for Community Concerts; $10 each to the Fathers' and Mothers' Club, Floating Hospital, Florence Crittenton League, Marian Chase Baker Endowment Fund, the Kindergarten Unit in France, Infantile Paralysis Clinic, Palmer Memorial Hospital for Cancer, International College at Springfield, and to State Endowment, also $5 to the W. G. T. U., to the Army and Navy Club, and to the Consumers League. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Walter A. Hosley; first vice-president, Mrs. Philip Warren; second vice-president, Mrs. Hector Holmes; treasurer, Mrs. George Phillips; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Taylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Barnard Root, Jr.; and new director, Mrs. Benjamin Codman. Under the auspices of the Civics Committee there was a lecture on Thursday, April 24th, at 3 o'clock in the Waban Free Library, by Mrs. Martha Helen Eliot. Her subject was "The History and Importance of the Presidential Primary."

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club were entertained by Professor W. N. Craig, who lectured on "The Garden and Its Flowers." The lecture was illustrated and views of many home gardens at the various large estates throughout this section, as well as Italian, Danish, and English gardens, were shown.

The Auburndale Woman's Club celebrated its 10th birthday on April 22nd with a merry birthday party. At the luncheon, which was served shortly before one, about 200 members were present, and at the head table, the founders and past presidents were honored guests. Miss Emma J. Totten served as most clever toastmistress, and opened the post-prandial part of the program by reading a poem to the club, written for this special occasion by one of our local poets, and our president's husband, Mr. Herbert H. Longfellow. Then Miss Louise Peloubet, one of the founders, was called upon to tell what Auburndale was like before the club was started, and next, Mrs. Joseph R. Draper, the Club Historian, to tell of her work in her field of Home Economics. Then the past presidents, in their order of service, Mrs. Charles A. Brown, Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson, and Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, and the present president, Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow, told of past experiences and future hopes, and as each one spoke, candles were lighted on the big birthday cake, one for each year of office held by the speaker. And the conclusion of the festive part of the program was the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," with all joining hands about the board.

The business meeting was taken up with the annual reports of the officers and committee chairmen, and the year's record of work, in every field of activity, is one of which all club members may well be proud. At the close of the meeting the tellers reported the result of the ballots cast for officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow; first vice-president, Miss Florence N. Bridgeman; second vice-president, Mrs. Stephen Wright; recording secretary, Mrs. Leon G. Horne; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. L. Shaw; treasurer, Miss Anne Bunker; directors for three years, Mrs. Lowell D. MacNutt and Mrs. John J. Brown, Jr. All voted the party a great success.

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

For the opportunities of the future the wise person builds a bank account.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts LAND COURT

To William J. Hannan, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth: John Gearity, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Hugh Allen Macdonnell, of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Southwesterly by Wildwood Avenue, 60 feet; Northwesterly, Northeastly and Southeasterly by land now or formerly of William J. Hannan, 80 feet, 60 feet and 80 feet, respectively.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land the right to use Wildwood Avenue as a street or way for all usual purposes.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1924, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-four.

Attest With Seal of said Court.
[Seal.]
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

NEWTON BOAT CLUB

The Newton Boat Club opened its season last Saturday evening with a dance at which members of the Omicron Delta Canoe Association of Waltham were the guests. The elimination dance was won by Mr. Batchelder and partner from Waltham.

Plans are being made for another dance on May 17th, the proceeds of which will be used for the A. C. A. for the Olympic games.

Many applications have been received for membership, at this early date, even before the canoeing season has got under way, which indicates a big year for canoeing.

The Newton Boat Club, on the Charles, for years has been one of the most exclusive centres in Newton, and plans are being made for another dance on May 17th, the proceeds of which will be used for the A. C. A. for the Olympic games.

The club is situated on the main line of the Boston & Albany Railroad at Riverside, where it is easily reached by train, electric or automobile, while the scenic beauty of the surrounding country lends a charm that is irresistible to the lovers of out-door life.

The new board of officers are united in their determination to make this summer, in commemoration of the 50th year of the club, the biggest season in its history.

—Professor E. D. Starbuck, P. H. D., addressed the students at the convocation of the Theological Seminary on Tuesday morning.

—On Tuesday evening, Professor Starbuck spoke in the evening at the Club House on "The Worth of the Child."

—The age of faith has gone, gone for good," mused Smith to himself. "We don't know what to believe today. The Bible is under fire, the churches are almost empty, the preachers are tired out; I wish I could have lived in the days of my grandmother when everything was easy to believe. God would have seemed nearer to me than He does now."

So poor Smith mused with himself. And all the time that Smith was doing this, more things were being said about God that were really true than ever before! And better still, more deeds of righteousness were being acted by men through the inspiration of God than ever before.

And science was revealing God more fully than ever before! God did not leave the preachers altogether, but He took up part-time residence in the laboratories. He moved into the poet's brain too! He moved into social life. He moved into international life and began to make love the rule for the majority! But poor Smith didn't know anything of all this, for poor Smith was living in the days of his grandmother, and Smith didn't know that he was living there either! At the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre next Sunday, April 27, the minister, George Lawrence Parker, will preach on the topic, "The Spiritual Opportunities of our Day." Twenty new members were received into this church on April 13. The Laymen's League has elected the following officers for the ensuing year, president, A. Oram Fulton; vice-president, Carlton W. Baxter; secretary-treasurer, J. W. Whitteley. The Hale Union attended the picnic at Second Church, Audubon Circle, on Easter evening.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—"East-Side—West Side," a play new to Boston, will be used by the Boston Stock Company as their attraction for next week at the St. James. It was written by Henry Hull, who enjoys the distinction of being one of Broadway's best leading men, and Leighton Osmun. It ran in New York for several months last season. The play is likened to "Peg O' My Heart" and "The Brat," telling the Cinderella story of a young stenographer of the East Side who, with a girl who has aspirations, the hero is Duncan Van Norman, of the aristocratic West Side, who, instead of sowing a young man's usual share of wild oats, has devoted his attentions to literary efforts for the magazines. Cheerfully, the mother urges him to sow just one little wild oat, and the family lawyer aids her plans by convincing him interested in the young typist. The affair starts on a very respectable basis, but gossip develops many complications which the conspirators had not figured in their plot. The story is worked out in the most interesting manner, and the denouement is quite the reverse to what theatregoers expect.

Miss Mason will play the East Side stenographer, with Mr. Gilbert as her "dumb-bell" hero. A large cast will be seen in support.

Newtonville

—Miss Martinetta Wright of 11 Gray Birch terrace has gone to East Northfield, Mass., for the summer.

The Doctors and Nurses of the Newton Hospital are the special guests at the service next Sunday evening at the Methodist Church at 7.30 P. M. Mr. Harper will preach.

There will be an extra luncheon under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Congregational Church on Monday, April 29th. All women connected with the church and congregation are invited.

Wednesday, April 30, at 8 P. M., there will be a Joint Concert by Lasell Seminary and Tufts College Glee Clubs at the Auburndale Club for the benefit of the club of 1924 and the Endowment Fund of the Seminary.

The last sewing meeting of the season of the Ladies' Benevolent Society was held on Wednesday at the Congregational Church. Mrs. T. B. Scott was hostess, and the speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Christie G. Tokas of the Greek Church, Boston.

This evening at 8.30 the superintendents of the church schools of the Methodist Church and of the Church of the Messiah are to be the guests of the superintendents of the Congregational Church. Following the supper there will be addresses.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Newtonite dance is to be held May 9 in the Drill shed. The social committee has been actively at work during the past few weeks getting plans under way.

Ramsden entered this year from the F. A. Day Junior High School, where he has been active in school work and athletics, going out for track and baseball.

The election was carried out in accordance with the plan employed by the other classes, with booths and election officials.

Miss Wallace and Miss Goodwin will spend six weeks of the coming summer in Rome for study.

Y. W. C. A.

The annual Membership meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held this evening. Following the supper there will be an entertainment consisting of a one-act comedy by the business girls, and demonstrations of the work of other groups using the Y. W. C. A.

MAY FESTIVAL

The annual May Festival of the Church School of the West Newton Unitarian Church will be held in the Parish House on Thursday, May 1st, beginning at 2.30 P. M. It has been arranged to be more pleasing than ever, and especially to children who are invited to avail themselves of its attractions.

The presence of Mr. Thornton V. Burgess, the man who writes the famous "Bed-time Stories" which appear daily in many papers, who is coming with a new set of lantern slides and new stories about the small wild folk, is bound to be of the greatest interest to children and to their parents and all older people. As usual there will be the May-pole dance and a special table for the sale of May baskets all ready for hanging. Refreshments and other matters worthy of investigation will be ready.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Clara A. Reed, late of Newton in said County, deceased, I, the undersigned, being a duly appointed executor of the will of said deceased, do hereby give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, at least before said Court, on the fifth day of April, A. D. 1924, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

It is our intention to vote in the Presidential primaries next Tuesday. We sincerely hope all registered voters will do the same. In our opinion, it is better that a voter should exercise this privilege. If he doesn't, he has no right to criticize men who hold elective office. There are those who do not share our view but say, "What's the use of my voting?" It is evident that these latter desire that voting be made more attractive. We wonder if, required to pay a fee for the opportunity, would they seize it more readily. The lure of a free ride in some candidate's automobile does not possess the potency of former days. For our own part, we rather resent being "gathered in" but have, in ages past, permitted ourselves to be embarrassed to this extent. That was long ago, for then there seemed to be an element of excitement in it. We abandoned the practice, because we sort of felt that it placed us under obligation to the candidate. We never did it, however, without self-consciousness. When the car drew up in front of the polls and we stepped out, it was not with the proud air of free-born citizens that we alighted. We faced the loungers and political workers, checkers, etc., with a blushing countenance. It made us think of, and sympathize with, the prisoner who steps out of a patrol wagon at police headquarters, a kind of captive in chains. We knew that the on-lookers were making a note of it, and that we were contributing one more to a candidate's score. But we still enjoy seeing such a "round-up" in full swing. Next to viewing a cattle chase by cowboys on the Western plains, we have always believed that "pulling 'em in" on election day was the nearest approach to the thrilling experience of hardy rangers.

Dragging voters to the polls is not without justification. There are occasions when voters need to be stirred to a sense of duty. We much prefer the more picturesque method of a torch-light parade. And yet, that form of creating interest has been done away with, in these parts at least. An automobile procession, with the occupants of the car holding flaming sticks of red-fire, seems to be the thing nowadays. With drivers tooting their horns constantly, the parade is successful as a noise-producer, but it will never compare with the torch-light processions. A good band, a well-dressed, neatly uniformed group of marchers, and several transparencies were the features that used to add "pep" to a campaign. An automobile procession in behalf of a candidate smacks too much of a joy-ride. Most anybody will accept an invitation to ride in an automobile, regardless of his political convictions. The fellow who is willing to march the streets to show his loyalty to a candidate makes more of a man. He proves that he means business, otherwise he would not tramp the highways. When we attained the great and glorious privilege of voting, "Billy" Garcelon was the shepherd of Newton Corner voters. He had a way with him that made the youthful voters feel they were not part of a machine, but were enjoying a right-angled road, headed Americans alone. When "Billy" Garcelon lined 'em up, it was because they wanted to be lined up, or at least they firmly believed they did. It was a heap of fun, too, and no one regretted it. As we view the situation, there is going to be need of real patriotism the coming Fall, in connection with the National and State election. As a resident of Newton Corner, I hope that "Billy" Garcelon will be persuaded to quit his golf long enough to start up a hustling organization in the interest of his party's success, and for the sake of giving folks a chance to do their bit.

Well, well! As if the groaning and protests of trolley car patrons against the overcrowding of passengers were not sufficient. Apparently their wails have, in some instances, let us say "happily remote," fallen upon deaf ears. The ears to which we refer are not very good, except to the music of their own voices. That sounds a bit harsh, but at least it is our opinion. One day this week, we saw an illustration of what we believe to be the finest example of indifference to the welfare of fellow mortals. A large woman, well dressed, with a fur coat and straw hat among her habiliments, conducted her two companions into a Boston-bound trolley with much pomp. Brushing aside all in her path, she proceeded to one of the cross seats, turned it over in such a way as to bring it opposite the seat behind. She bade her friends take the seat that faced forward, and she took the other. She was thus able to address her companions, face to face, and continue a line of sparkling chatter. Although the car soon became filled, no one seemed to share the seat with her, and ride backwards all the way to Boston. Thus a seat was lost. But the lady of the animated conversation gave no thought to that. She was satisfied, so what of the other passengers, poor things! Somehow we rather expect to see men and women turn seats over for the purpose of "hogging" when we board a branch train at Sanbornville, Dover, Rochester, or some railroad junction in New Hampshire. Even on through trains headed for rural communities on the Boston & Albany, we have observed such practices. There are many cases where women with children are better accommodated and made more comfortable by the possession of two seats. Our hearts have been gone out to such folk, and we favor the idea if it will make their journey any easier. But a crowded trolley on a trip of less than 30 minutes at the outside, is not the place. When practiced within city limits, this practice of grabbing-off two seats reveals nothing more than the possession of "nerve" and bad manners.

"There is still a lot of rubbish in the arithmetic," Dr. Paul H. Hanus is reported to have told his hearers at the Technical High School the other evening. There seems a familiar sound to this statement. As we recall, we never before heard a teacher make such a declaration. But we have heard pupils say it more times than we can readily remember. Indeed, we have said it ourselves. If there was one study in which we were absolutely hopeless, in our school days, that was arithmetic. Of the textbooks in our desk, that volume remained the cleanest. It was free from "dog's ears" and thumb-marks. We never soiled any of its pages. The tears we shed over the subject of "2 times 2" came because we did not consult its teachings as we should. Like many others, we owe to our patient teachers all possible gratitude. Noble women, indeed, their kindness and thoughtfulness helped us to grasp the fundamentals to get through the course in arithmetic. We doubt if they would agree with Dr. Hanus' assertion. And we ourselves, densely ignorant as we are, presume to dispute with him. However, it may be true "There is still a lot of rubbish in the arithmetic," but we believe there should be added the qualifying phrase, "if you look at it from a certain point of view."

The cities of Boston and Worcester are under criticism for the unclean condition of their public streets. Boston says the title of "dirtiest" belongs to Worcester, and Worcester asserts Boston should have it. If there is any time when public thoroughfares need attention it is in the spring. We do not really fear that Newton will ever be charged with failing to keep up its streets, and yet we think it is a good thing to remember that Newton's reputation for clean streets has justified the name "Garden City." Therefore, let us never forget, or allow our city officials to forget, that we must have at all times the cleanest city streets there are.

Agreement between contending forces has been reached as to the employment of a psychiatric in State and county penal institutions. Together the organizations of women, and the county officials have agreed to the Legislature, and said they were of one mind as to a bill before the General Court. Now that this harmony has been established, will they please see if they can induce the general public to unite on the pronunciation of the word "psychiatric." At present there are more ways of saying this word than there are varieties of Mr. Heinz' products.

"To the lovers of gardening and garden planning, there are few things more fascinating than a new book on this particular hobby" declares the Newton Free Library announcement. Mistress Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow? If not too good, you know you should have read many books in a row. For your sake, Miss Mary dear, The Library has volumes and more. Peruse each one and when you're done You'll revel in blossoms galore.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Miss Margaret Slattery, well-known all over Newton as a speaker of national reputation and magnetic personality, will address the Norumbega District Sunday School Convention next Monday evening, April 28, at the Waltham Immanuel Methodist church. The Convention begins with a supper at 6.30 for delegates and Community School members. After dinner speeches and reports will follow. Then the Commencement Exercises of the Community School of Religious Education, after which Miss Slattery will speak. The public are invited to attend this evening's program in the church auditorium, at 8 P. M.

President Wm. H. Trimble will preside. Nathan Sears will present the diplomas to the graduates of the Community School, and Mrs. F. W. Peakes will respond for these graduates, of whom there are eight. The diplomas given are those awarded to Community Schools of a certain high standard by the International Council of Religious Education (formerly the International Sunday School Association). Three years of credit work in Bible, Child Psychology, Principles of Teaching and Departmental Methods, are needed in order to win such a diploma.

It is expected that the yearbook of the Young People's Council will be ready for distribution at the Convention. The members of the Council who are at work on this yearbook are Wm. T. H. Henrick, editor-in-chief, Dwight Shepler, Doris Barton, John Clark, Richard Cowan, John Reynolds, Raymond Rowland, and Kenneth Blanton. There are to be many illustrations in this year's edition, and other features to make it of more interest and value than ever before.

NO STARVING GERMANS

It is estimated that about 70% of the tourist travel in Italy and Switzerland is German, who occupy good rooms at the best hotels, smoking the finest Havanas and drinking Champagne.

At Rome, Mr. Colpitts of the well known Travel Agency, in talking with the Managers of the leading hotels, asked "How come so many Germans here?" and was informed that Southern Italy was the same to Germany as Florida would be to New England, and that the war was over, and "Italy needed the money." While in Rome "he did as the Romans do," had to macaroni and garlic when he preferred Boston Baked Beans.

Also had wonderful experiences through other parts of Europe. In Turkey he asked the young man guide how their Country liked America, and he said "about the same as the Mexicans like the Americans." He also said that they had prohibition in Turkey and when asked how it worked out, said, "Oh, about the same as in America."

In Palestine, Egypt, Greece, Italy, France, they had the greatest respect for America and American travelers. The American dollar was always good in all countries, and in many of them they preferred this currency to their own money.

The American tourists were out of luck in Jerusalem and Egypt, as the water was bad and they had to drink wine and beer, which made it pretty profitable for the hotels, who never lost a chance to notify you about the poor water. However, the natives survived and looked pretty healthy.

The galley slaves did not have much on the thousands of Africans, Egyptians and Arabs working on the Nile from sunrise to sundown for about 20-25c per day, lifting water three and four times from the Nile to its banks for irrigation purposes.

There seems to be a wonderful opportunity in Egypt for manufacturing, especially in cotton manufacturing, where so much of the raw material, of a superior quality is grown, and such cheap labor.

It was Spring in Jerusalem, and the Holy Land, and it was amusing to see them farming. They attach a camel or ox to a plow, and a plow is made of a stump of a tree. There is little or no fuel in this country, and they burn roots, branches of trees and grapevine trimmings.

While in France made a complete tour over the battlefields and saw the horrors of the war, but at the same time was fortunate in seeing this devastated country with its shell holes, barbed wire entanglements and partially blown down buildings. They are reclaiming the land, clearing away barbed wire entanglements and repairing the damaged buildings, and in a year or so there will be scarcely any trace to be seen of the war. The reconstruction work is mostly done by Italians, as there seems to be very little Frenchmen labor, and one sees women everywhere, ploughing and working in the fields.

There are also plenty of women in the gay life, theatres and cabarets at night in Paris.

Mr. Colpitts, being in the ticket and tourist business, was especially interested in aerial service and was favored with a perfectly clear day for flying from Paris to London. It is 234 miles—the same distance as from Boston to New York—and the fare is only $18.00, about the same as in the States. The aeroplane service was good, and would consider it very safe and reasonable. Autos call for you at your hotel, taking you direct to the flying field, about 12 miles out.

There the flying machines were all lined up. The morning we went there were four machines waiting ahead of us. The machines carry twelve passengers, besides the pilot and operator, and our car had nearly a ton of baggage.

When you get in the plane you are seated in a wicker chair and given some sheepskin muffs to put on your feet. This is so you will not get a case of cold feet. You soon get started and are off, but some passengers get air sick and a case of cold feet when you shake in the air pockets, but when you get 8,000 feet or more you give up worrying, and begin to enjoy the very wonderful moving scenery.

You are soon over the English Channel, where the big ocean liners look like row boats. We were two hours and fifty minutes in the air, and came down so smoothly we did not know when we touched the ground. We were met by automobiles and driven 15 miles into London to our hotel.

Of course, we saw the usual sights of London, the Tower of St. Paul, British Museum, Galleries, Westminster Abbey, etc.

On our return passage from Europe were especially favored by being privileged to come on the good ship "Majestic," and the Levathan are the largest boats and are floating palaces. Speaking about the Germans, would say they are "some boat builders."

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

The Easter Day services at St. Mary's Church, Lower Falls, were most successful, and were well attended. Large congregations were present at the celebrations and the Confirmation service. At the latter service the capacity of the church was taxed. Bishop Slattery preached and confirmed the following persons: Warren Melvin Boudreau, Helen Mabel (Hastie) Brown, Orson Rogers Clark, Dorothea Winifred Clark, Albert Henry Collins, John Thomas Collins, Louise (Cox) Collins, David Duncan Cox, Katherine (Seabury) Curtis, Richard Francis Cutting, Annabel Julia (Leavitt) Cutting, Luther Walter Hanson, Ernest Howard Harvey, Robert Nelson Harvey, John William Hirst, Henry Francis Hurlburt, Martha Elizabeth (Peters) Kent, Ruth Helen Kent, John Harvey Kent, Everett Ward MacNutt, Maude Alice (Cox) MacNutt, Helen Jennie MacNutt, William Everett MacNutt, Jack Leslie MacNutt, Elizabeth Blair (Hubbard) Meigs, William Alfred Mitchell, William Francis Seale, Richard Clark Schofield, Richard Vanderstine.

The music by the choristers was excellent, and the flowers were tastefully displayed and were of extreme beauty.

None too small None too important —to be beyond the scope of Graham Service. All the skill and sympathetic consideration that great experience has taught us is applied to every service we are called upon.

In our great organization which serves New England we have built a service that truly provides all that is perfect for the last and most reverent ceremony—and economy in costs is a fundamental that has grown side by side with Graham reputation. We serve faithfully—and better.

When bereavement comes—call Graham.

"THE WORTH OF A CHILD"

A most interesting and unusual opportunity was given the people of Newton Centre on the evening of April 22nd, when Dr. E. H. Starbuck, Professor of Religious Psychology at Iowa State University, spoke on "The Worth of a Child." The meeting was under the auspices of the Woman's Club and the Newton Centre School Association.

Dr. Starbuck is in Boston to speak at Harvard, at Wellesley and at the Woman's City Club. He is an authority on the psychology of childhood, and is especially interested in the religious psychology of the child.

He headed the committee that recently won a national prize of $20,000 for the best plan for character building for school children. These ideas being incorporated into the so-called "Iowa plan."

In his address, Professor Starbuck spoke of the satisfaction in looking at scenery or at life from a mountain height where objects take their proper places, and show their relative values. He traced the growth of life from the early years, when all offspring were born with the power to care for themselves almost at once, thru the ages to the child, whose early years are surrounded by care and love. One of nature's greatest successes was achieved when parents began to stay with their offspring in their early years. Then the child's body, mind and soul grew and conquered and man began to dominate the earth. This power came thru the slow growth of ages, thru the struggle to maintain life, by the strength of instinct and by natural selection of the strong and fit. The child starts low down in the scale of helplessness. He is all capacity and no attainment. Then he begins to learn the use of his senses and of his physical powers, and so on till he attains his mental and spiritual growth. He has the advantage and the joy of learning how to learn and to overcome difficulties for himself. Thru all these ages, human beings have learned to structure and therefore man has hope. He has made stepping stones of his almost defeated self to things higher and better, and has become a triumphant being. Thru love and tenderness to the child, parents and teachers become loving and tender, and strive to make themselves fit guides, and so the child becomes a reformer. Too much of our life at home, in the church, in the state, is carried down, not up. We realize that the child must have the best to give him the proper teaching for his fullest growth. The importance of this in the Sunday School was especially emphasized. In closing, Dr. Starbuck contrasted the joy in the possession of strong, happy children with that in material possessions, and made more emphatic the statement with which he began, that "essentially, all good things that have come to the world have come thru childhood, and thru what man have done for children."

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held its April meeting last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Hovenden, Austin street, Newtonville. The Union had for its guests representatives from the Weston and Newton Centre Unions. There was an open discussion held to consider the best ways and means of furthering the work of Law Enforcement and Prohibition. The Union was highly honored in having for its speaker Miss Cora F. Stoddard, National Director of the Department of Scientific Temperance Education, who spoke of her trip to Europe in the interest of prohibition.

Reports at the annual meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on Tuesday, April 22, showed growth and progress in every line of work. The Community Building Fund has reached $2400. The Education committee reported that the scholarship of $250 has been awarded to Miss Louise Dyer, who will enter Boston University next fall; the Philanthropic Committee showed gifts of over $700 to charities largely within the city of Newton. Among these were: District Nursing Association, $25; Child Welfare, $60; Mothers Rest, $45; West Newton Music School, $30; Newton Y. W. C. A., $25; Hospitals, $125; Fathers' and Mothers' Club, $25; Bethesda Society, $25; Army and Navy Club, $10; Foreign Funds, including Near East Relief, $90. The Public Health committee has distributed $392. The Volunteer Service Committee has contributed $60 to the Newton Circle for a summer band concert, and furnished entertainments at Peabody House and Sailors' Haven. The grand total of philanthropies is $1523.20.

The club now numbers 501 members. The retiring president, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, who has enthusiastically supported every chairman during her two successful years of office, presented the new president, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, with the evelled with spring flowers to signify hope and new growth for the club.

Other officers elected were: President, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler; First Vice-President, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Joseph C. Allen; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Harry R. Lamphere; Treasurer, Mrs. Harlan J. Maynard; Auditor, Miss Alberta J. Crombie; Directors for one year, Mrs. W. P. Collins, Mrs. J. C. S. Taber; Directors for two years, Mrs. Frank F. Patterson, Mrs. Curtis C. Chipman.

On Wednesday morning, April 23, Dr. E. M. East, professor of experimental plant morphology at Harvard University, addressed members and guests of the Newton Social Science Club on the subject, "Race Problems in the United States." Dr. East spoke first of the Japanese question, so prominently before us at present, stating that though there are grave biological reasons why primary races should not mingle, the chief objection of California to immigration from Japan is economic. Of the 4,000,000 acres in that state suitable for cultivation, the Japanese now control 600,000, and the American landowner cannot compete with such standards of living as seem natural and proper to the Japanese. Professor East said that he had himself seen little Japanese children of three and four working in the fields there. With regard to the negro problem, the speaker stated that in another century it would cease to exist, as the race is decreasing in numbers owing to a very high death rate and diminishing birth rate. The real race problem is the mulatto rather than the negro. Their number is growing rapidly—from 600,000 in 180 to 2,000,000 in 1920. The same laws of heredity, which govern the reproduction of plants and animals, as demonstrated by scientific experiments, are also applicable to human beings. Professor East said, however, that he considers eugenics a question of education and not of legislation.

Executive Board Meeting

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, placed itself on record last Monday as opposed to the re-building of the Froebel School, uniting with the creation of the Auburndale-West Newton junior high school, feeling that the latter is the greatest need at present, and this vote was forwarded to the Board of Aldermen and to the Mayor. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Legislative committee, spoke appreciatively of the work of Mr. Bernard Early in securing the compromise measure on the Prison question, which has recently been passed by the Legislature. She also stated that the work done by the club women through the State in securing signatures to the initiative petition last fall is in large measure responsible for the satisfactory conclusion of this much discussed matter. Mrs. W. D. Starkweather, chairman of Civics and Community Service, reported that there is increasing interest on the part of the women in the coming primaries, and the money for the summer band concerts will be forthcoming. A further report concerning the milk used in Newton was made by Mrs. W. A. Bedford, and the necessity for all milk not certified to be pasteurized was again stressed. Considerable time spent upon routine business, including certain modifications in the Bylaws, which will be acted upon at the May board meeting.
